DEDICATION

ON the eleventh day of the eleventh month of the year just passed, was celebrated the memorial of that eleventh hour when peace was achieved.

Believing that in this the eleventh year attention is again being focussed on our soldier heroes of the Great War, we see fit to dedicate this volume to those who fell, and, no less, to those who having returned are with us now.

FOREWORD

THE Editors now entrust volume thirty-two of Torontonensis to the tender mercies of its readers. They have attempted to present the material in as interesting a manner as a record of events and activities may be. They regret that space and finances prevent a better balancing of material necessary for the purpose of record by other which would give less of the catalogue character to the publication.

BOOK ONE UNIVERSITY

THOUGH of many colleges and faculties, we owe first loyalty to our University. And so in this the Year Book of the University of Toronto, we pay homage, firstly, to our Alma Mater. Velut arbor aevo!

University of Toronto
THE PROVINCIAL UNIVERSITY OF ONTARIO

Origin and Development

ON PETITION of the Government of Upper Canada which provided an endowment of 225,000 acres of land, the University of Toronto was founded by Royal Charter given under King George IV, on March 15th, 1827, as King's College. For the primary impulse credit must be given to John Graves Simcoe, first Lieutenant-Governor of the Province of Upper Canada, at whose suggestion the endowment had been set aside in 1798.

The corner-stone of King's College was laid in 1842 on the site of the present Provincial parliament buildings. It was not completed, and for a time classes were held in the parliament buildings on Front Street. In 1849 King's College came under state control and became secularized, its name changing to the University of Toronto. In 1853 the government confiscated all the King's College property, but three years later all the land west of College (University) Avenue was deeded back and a large building grant awarded. The present University College was at once begun and completed in 1859.

The Faculty of Medicine may be said to date from the year 1843 when the King's College Council established six professorships in Medicine. In 1853 the Medical Faculty was abolished. In 1887, when Victoria federated with the University, its Faculty of Medicine (the Toronto School of Medicine) became the Faculty of Medicine in the University of Toronto. In 1903 the Trinity Medical School was amalgamated with it and in the same year the present Medical building was opened.

The Faculty of Applied Science and Engineering traces its origin to the year 1877 when the Ontario Government erected the first building in the University campus for technical education.

Trinity College was built following the disestablishment of King's College. The building was opened and a charter granted in 1852, though lectures in Medicine had been begun two years previously. Trinity became a Federated College in 1904.

Victoria College dates back to the establishment by the Methodist Church of the Upper Canada Academy in 1830. In 1841 its name was changed by law to Victoria College. It became a federated college in 1887.

St. Michael's was established in 1852 by the Basilian Fathers. In 1910 it became a federated college.

Knox and Wycliffe became federated in 1890, Ontario Agricultural College in 1887, Pharmacy in 1891 and the Toronto Conservatory of Music in 1896. The Royal College of Dental Surgeons affiliated in 1885 and became the Faculty of Dentistry in 1925.

BOOK TWO SENIORS

IN the beginning was the University. And that it might thrive there were created frosh. These, by various stages of evolution, did become the greatest of all people in the University.

Seniors—the kindliest interest now follows you into larger and more difficult spheres.

To the Members of the Graduating Class

As we look forward to the approach of the graduation days of June we realise that soon again hundreds of young men and women, just as well endowed and as well equipped as their predecessors, will be seen going out from the university, with regret at parting with so many friends whom they have found during the undergraduate course here, and yet happy at the thought of entering upon a new stage in their career. I heartily congratulate you on your prospects of success this spring, and as heartily hope that your finest aims will be realised in increasing measure all your life through.

Ambition is one of the blessings of youth; may it bring you the energy necessary to make the most of your individual gifts. But never forget that ambition is in danger of overleaping itself unless it has a sure foothold on sanity and shrewd self-judgment. To estimate one's own powers is really one of the severest tests to which any one can put himself. On the one hand a false modesty is both unattractive and often a plea for laziness; on the other hand an overbearing self-confidence will in time get some severe falls. It is the gift of a kind Providence if we are allowed to get glimpses from time to time of how others see us. These glimpses may bring us back to common sense. So I would say to you to try to get out of yourselves sometimes and become, as far as you may, one of the world which is looking at you. You will then resume your daily duties with prudence, and perhaps you may cultivate some of the saving grace of humour. In the hard places of life and on the dark days a little humour will help you wonderfully on your way.

Not the least of the privileges which this university training has brought you has been the chance to meet others and measure yourself along side them. you will have learned in a good school that co-operation, self-discipline, and kindliness will carry you far in life. May all prosperity attend you.

R. A. Falconer, President.

UNIVERSITY COLLEGE

PERMANENT EXECUTIVE UNIVERSITY COLLEGE

Class History 3To University College

THE class of 3T0 University College has passed through an eventful four years and now on the verge of graduation it is but fitting that the history of those four years should be reviewed. Has the class maintained the standards of previous classes of University College? Has it given its best athletes to its university and to its college? Has the administration of undergraduate affairs both in University college and in the university been better and more ably handled, through the scintillating executive ability of members of U.C. 3T0? These are the questions that must be asked in a critical review of the four years of this class undergraduate history.

The editor of Torontonensis does not propose to attempt an answer to these questions. In fact he has little interest in them. And since no one else has attempted to record anything about U.C. 3T0 we won't tell our readers the answers. We'll prefer to let them guess.

We can say, however, that the above picture portrays the permanent executive of this class. In their hands the future history of the class, as such, rests.

VICTORIA COLLEGE

3T0 VICTORIA CLASS EXECUTIVE

Back Row: Hackett, Bateman, Reynolds, Snell, Fennell, Berry, Craw, Buchanan

3To Victoria Class History

AFTER us the deluge! We, the class of 3TO, were the last of the old guard to arrive at Victoria with a fairly equal registration of men and women. Since then the balance has been overturned and grievously, and thus today as we survey the desolate scene we can only utter one parting cry, the cry for limitation.

As a year, we were the first to benefit from that great crashing of tradition, the abolition of college initiations, and duly grateful for the favour, we have not been late, ourselves, to break tradition since. The ending of that old survival, the freshman promenade, is to our fame; the new constitution of the V.C.U. should become part of our shining armour also.

As freshmen, we found, however, that residences have housewarmings. The women underwent bobbed hair inflictions, the men midnight gauntlet running tortures. It was, moreover, with us that the policy of separate freshmen houses was inaugurated. Fortunately, we have lived long enough to see that plan fade away to an unlamented death.

As other years we have had hikes but better ones. As other years we have had parties but gayer ones. Armour Heights, Scarboro, York Memorial Park, and a second Scarboro comprise the former. Christmas parties, and skating party that didn't come off, a Dutch party, a novel and far renowned Animal party, and lastly a masquerade were the highlights of the latter.

To conclude our list of sins it might be well to add that we were smitten with the Plague in our second year. The scare of smallpox had us in our grips and if fears had been facts then perhaps our year would have ended its career then and there. But we survived.

TEACHERS' COURSE

(DEPARTMENT OF UNIVERSITY EXTENSION)

Department of University Extension

THE TEACHERS' COURSE

ON the next page will be found reproductions of photographs of some of those who graduate this year in the Teachers' Course. If the fates are kind, twenty-two teachers will receive the Bachelor of Arts degree in June; but not all of them are supplying their photographs to Torontonensis.

Previous to June, 1930, one hundred and ninety-three men and women completed the Teachers' Course and graduated. During the session 1929-30 three hundred and ninety-two teachers have been taking work in the Second Third and Fourth Years of the Teachers' Course. There is no First Year in this Course because all who enter it have already taken Honour Matriculation instead of First Year.

The Teachers' Course was arranged by the University of Toronto some years ago so that those who are employed during the day may secure a university education by means of Teachers' Classes which are held in the evenings, on Saturdays, and late in the afternoons, at the University and in Hamilton, or by means of the Summer Session. The term "extra-mural" should not be used in describing these students. They attend lectures, just as do students in residence, but they attend them at different times. Naturally, these students cannot take a full year's work in a session. As a rule, a student in the Teachers' Course does the work of three university years in five years.

The Teachers' Course is an adaptation of the Pass Course and has fewer options. The standard is just as high. The only difference is that, by means of the Teachers' Course, the work is made accessible to those who cannot attend the University in the regular way.

These students miss, of course, something of university life but not all of it, for they are here a great part of the time and they have their class reunions as other students have. They even have class parties, though these are not very frequent. Students in the Teachers' Course are more mature than the average undergraduate; they work hard, and they usually secure an excellent standing at the examinations. Few of them are satisfied with anything less than B standing, and a great many of them strive for and secure A standing.

The Department of University Extension has other work besides the Teachers' Course. It carries on a two-year Course in Occupational Therapy, a one-year Course in Teaching and Administration for Graduate Nurses and a two-year Course in Physiotherapy. It conducts a great many evening classes, short courses, and Extension Lectures. All students in the Department of University Extension are adults. Last year there were 3,399 adults taking definite continuous work. When the figures for this year are compiled at the end of June, the total will be considerably larger than this. Besides, more than 20,000 people attend Extension Lectures each year. The function of the Department of University Extension is to serve the citizens of the Province of Ontario.

Commerce Club

WHEN you glance through the following section devoted to those mighty graduates of Commerce and Finance, pause for a moment and consider that these are all that remain of more than one hundred who first listened to Actuarial science in the autumn of 1926. This group of graduates steps out into the business world with the object of capturing one of those $30,000 a year positions that a weekly paper so kindly said awaited us on graduation. We are entering these positions with a training that is varied indeed. We have advanced from the rather childish efforts of colouring maps in our first year through geology, statistics and corporation finance to the "advanced research" in railways and fisheries in the sessional papers.

Aside from these strictly academic studies, we had impressed on us some sound business principles from that dean of Canadian financiers and business men, Sir Joseph Flavelle, who was the speaker at the banquet of the Commerce Club in November.

In addition to the banquet the Club has held a number of noon hour meetings which have been addressed by men prominent in many activities throughout Canada. As a result of one such speech, made by a trade commissioner, many of the graduating year are writing the examinations for a junior trade commissioner. So perhaps the statement that appeared for so many years in the calendar of the Faculty of Arts regarding commerce men as specially adapted to be trade commissioners will this year bear a semblance of truth. Verily we are advancing.

FACULTY of MEDICINE

James Murray Scott Maurice Joseph Kelly
Russell Kneale Magee

First "T" Holders of Graduating Year of Medicine

THE Graduating year at one time boasted many more first colour men than those graduating this year, but this number was reduced by sad misfortunes to three. These three, however, have played most outstanding parts in the activities with which they have been connected.

Murray Scott.—Stalwart middle wing man has been right in there with the rugby squads every year of his course. In 1925 he was with the Canadian Intercollegiate championship junior team. In 1926 he was with the intermediate squad. For the past three years he has been with the O.R.F.U. team and played with the champions in 1928, adding much to their successes.

"Rusty" Magee.—Was very interested in interfaculty tennis while at Victoria but when he came to Meds. he took up boxing, winning the senior interfaculty, and intercollegiate championships in 1927-28. He won his bouts at West Point and the interfaculty and intercollegiate with K.O.'s. Vice-Pres. of B.W.F. 1928. Manager of B.W. & F., the intercollegiate champions again in 1929. Athletic representative in Sixth year and president of the Medical Athletic Association, Athletic representative to the Medical Society.

Morris "Jo" Kelly.—Has been an outstanding rugby player every year of his course. Was with the juniors his first year; the O.R.F.U. team his second and third years, and played with the senior intercollegiate team as regular in the line for the past three years. Sec-Treas. Medical Athletic Association third year. Has played interfaculty baseball for six years. Awarded the Medical Athletic stick in his graduating year.

STELLA PIARI ABIDH Trinidad, B.W.I.

Class History 3To Applied Science

THE class of 3T0 Applied Science and Engineering has just completed four eventful years of undergraduate activity. Now on the verge of graduation it is but fitting that these years should be reviewed—that the cob-webs should be dusted from the mouldy memories of other days—and that junior, sophomore and even freshmen events should shine forth in all the glory of retrospect.

However, since no one in 3T0 S.P.S. has attempted to present for the readers of Torontonensis a vivid and glowing account of the undergraduate history of this class, the editor is in a quandary. He may of course leave a large white space to mark where this write-up should have been. But this would offend his sense of balance and proportion. Then again, he might let the printer fill the space with a pleasing arrangement of any given letter or letters—providing the resultant type filled the space requirements. One other happy thought comes to our mind. We might write the history ourselves. Presto!

Let us assume that 3T0 S.P.S. has a class history. Then this is the space that the history of 3T0 should fill. Oh where is my wandering Class History. Three tee owe was once a frosh. And so on dear reader—in the same vein. You can fill it in much more satisfactorily than I can.

SOCIAL SCIENCE

Social Work as a Profession

"IT has not been possible to meet one quarter of the growing demands; many vacancies remain unfilled" writes Professor E. J. Urwick, M.A., acting head of the Department of Social Science of this University in a recent pamphlet on Social Work as a Profession.

In this article Professor Urwick says further "In the recent progress of our country. . . . . we are realizing, very quickly, that we have the opportunity of a wholesome and satisfactory life for all within our reach, it needs only that we should take more thought, organize our efforts better, will the right conditions and take steps to realize them. It is a sign of this new confidence that in the University of Toronto alone more than thirty requests have been received during the past session from all parts of the country for trained workers to undertake the organization of social resources, the guidance of effort, or the performance of recognized tasks in the interests of citizens who need some form of help".

Today a survey of the occupations of men and women graduates of the Department shows 91 in Social Work in Toronto, 64 in Social Work elsewhere and 45 in allied occupations.

The old fallacy that social workers must go to the United States is refuted by the fact that of 282 graduates only 19 are there. One of these has just accepted an important executive post in Hamilton. Others will return.

The drift into other occupations occurred in the earlier years of the course when positions were scarce and salaries low. The present demand for workers, which shows every sign of increasing, is comparatively recent.

Another factor in lessening the supply of workers is the fact that 52 have married since graduation. Some of these continue in professional work, others give valuable service on boards, but the majority of the women who marry are lost to professional social work.

The large proportion of those in social work in Toronto is natural. Toronto and McGill were, until recently, the chief centres of social organization and Montreal draws most of its workers from McGill.

Of the graduates in Canada but not in Toronto eight have recently been chosen for important posts in British Columbia, and all across Canada, in Winnipeg, Hamilton, Ottawa, Montreal, St. John, and Halifax, graduates of the Department have been chosen for important positions. This increased Canadian demand for workers is one of the most interesting and significant aspects of modern social work.

Under Professor Urwick's direction, the course in Social Science has been especially adapted to the requirements of graduates and fully qualified men and women. Part of the curriculum deals with basic courses in social philosophy ethics, social economics and social development and history. Part is specialized and practical with options in a number of special fields, part will be devoted to social research and inquiry into actual conditions. Two recent additions to the staff, Miss Berta Hamilton, M.A., (St. Andrews and Toronto) in 1928, and Professor H. M. Cassidy, B.S., (B.C.), Ph. D. (Brookings Graduate School) in 1929, make it possible for students to receive increasing individual oversight in all phases of their work.

Public Health Nursing

THIS course in public health nursing was originated in 1926 and thus presents, in 1930, its first two graduates. Through affiliation between the University and the Toronto General Hospital a double course of instruction has been followed, viz., training in hospital nursing and a study of public health work. Thus the student emerges at the end of four years with two diplomas: the Diploma in Nursing from the Toronto General Hospital, and the Diploma in Public Health Nursing from the University.

WYCLIFFE COLLEGE

In Memoriam

THE REVEREND T. R. O'MEARA, D.D., LL.D.
Late Principal of Wycliffe College

Principal O'Meara

THE University of Toronto lost a warm supporter, and Wycliffe College a wise leader and counsellor, in the passing of the Reverend Thomas Robert O'Meara, D.D., LLD. on the 10th of January, 1930.

Principal O'Meara was a son of an Anglican clergyman. His parents, both of whom had come from Great Britain, provided him with an early training which had as its background the best ecclesiastical and cultural traditions of the old land. After his course in the Public and High Schools of Port Hope he entered the University of Toronto. He graduated from Wycliffe College and was ordained to the Anglican Ministry in 1887. Many of his fellow-graduates were destined to play a leading part in the Anglican Church, both in Canada and in the Mission field. Dr. O'Meara began his ministerial career as a parish clergyman in the down-town section of Toronto. From the outset he made his influence felt. His work among the poor is still remembered in the parish of Little Trinity. His sound judgment, and wide experience, soon won him recognition from the leaders of the Church. He was associated with many church boards and institutions. He was often consulted by church leaders from all parts of the Dominion. At one time he was invited to become Bishop of Missionary Diocese of Caledonia by the Church Missionary Society of London. That the offer was not accepted was, in the main, for reasons of health. His death took place shortly after his return from a trip around the world which he had taken for the purpose of visiting the graduates of Wycliffe College in the Mission Field. This strenuous undertaking seriously undermined his delicate constitution.

Dr. O'Meara made a considerable contribution to the cause of Education in Canada. He firmly believed that education must rest on a religious foundation. He was closely associated with those who founded Havergal College, Toronto, as a girls' school where education was to be given in accordance with the evangelical teaching of the Church of England. He was a member of its Board of Governors until the time of his death. He was also a member of the governing body of Ridley College, a kindred institution for boys at St. Catharines, Ontario. But his main contribution to Christian education was in and through Wycliffe College. From the time of his ordination—a period of nearly fifty years—he was closely associated with the College, first as its Financial Secretary, later as Head of the Department of Practical Theology, and finally as Principal, to which office he was elected in January 1906 on the death of the Reverend Dr. J. P. Sheraton. In the summer vacation he would travel far and wide to stimulate interest among the Church public in the work and needs of the College. His lectures in College on the practical work of the Ministry and his addresses to the students in Chapel were full of interest and inspiration for they were largely transcripts from his own rich and varied experience. As Principal, Dr. O'Meara was a wise and capable leader and administrator. The most jealously guarded function of his office was to seek out and encourage young men with a vocation for the Ministry. He interviewed every new student personally, and always retained a personal interest in his welfare. A well known writer has said that Christianity is caught not taught: that is very largely true, for many of those who passed under and out from his kindly and sympathetic personality carried with them into the Ministry of the Church indelible impressions of the man's genial yet forceful Christian life and character.

Dr. O'Meara was by nature quiet and unobtrusive. He was not hard to talk to: on the contrary he was the most approachable of men. His house was always open to his colleagues and students. When a man entered his study, the Principal's kindly and affectionate greeting bade him lay aside all sense of social or academic inferiority. He was made to feel at home. Men not only respected him but loved him for the counsel that was always given with tact, sympathy and insight. It was in these personal interviews that he showed his knowledge and understanding of men. Dr. O'Meara had neither the gifts nor the inclination for public life. Seldom has he been seen on a public platform. Outside Wycliffe and Anglican circles he was not well known. He was a man of many interests but they were not such as attract the attention of the general public. His chief interest was Wycliffe College. To see his students take their share in the life of the University, to prepare them to play a worthy part in the life of the Church was the ambition of his life. He saw the College grow from very small beginnings. He lived to see it one of the largest and most influential of Anglican Theological Colleges in the Dominion. This is a fine record of a man's life-work.

ONTARIO VETERINARY COLLEGE

To the Graduating Class of the Veterinary College

By Dr. D. C. McGilvray

THE profession you are now entering is worthy of commendation as a suitable occupation and deserving field of endeavour for the young man desirous of improving his own status in life and rendering useful service to the community at large. In considering the adaptability of candidates for graduate standing the fundamentals are much the same for all learned professions. In fact the status of the so-called learned professions seems to be governed largely by the standard of qualification possessed by those acquiring graduate standing. As a result the type of candidates desired for the learned professions are those with a sound academic training and imbued with a desire to find the hidden things of nature and put them into use under a broad vision of public service.

Judged by this standard veterinary science has much to recommend it. Fundamentally it provides a true knowledge of animal diseases thus fitting the graduate for professional usefulness and to conduct scientific research work relating thereto. An additional field of service is also developing quite rapidly in sanitary control work relating to the prevention of animal diseases communicable to mankind. In this connection many cities and towns are now seeking properly trained veterinarians to certify as to the health of cattle and to supervise the production of wholesome milk, as well as meat and other food products.

In promoting successful agricultural development and allied branches of industry livestock is an essential factor by creating new wealth and supporting national progress. In the achievement of this veterinary science materially assists by safeguarding the animal industry in general against losses from preventable diseases thus fostering the economic production and prosperity of livestock interests. Moreover, it is now becoming more widely realized that the inspection and health certification of live stock and their food products by qualified graduates is essential for the establishment and continuance of an export trade between Canada and other countries. Veterinary science is thus an important factor in the trade and commerce of a nation seeking foreign markets.

May the ideals of public service and professional distinction be your guide in the years to come.

PHARMACY

To the Graduating Class of Pharmacy

By Dean Heebner

PHARMACY has for its primary object the service which it can render to the public in safeguarding the handling, sale, compounding and dispensing of medicinal substances.

The practice of pharmacy demands knowledge, skill and integrity on the part of those engaged in it. Pharmacists are required to pass certain educational tests in order to qualify under the Pharmacy Act, which restricts the practice of pharmacy to those persons who by reason of special training and qualifications are able to qualify under regulatory requirements and grants to them privileges necessarily denied to others.

In return, the Pharmacy Act expects the pharmacist to recognize his responsibility to the community and to fulfil his professional obligations honourably and with due regard for the physicial and moral well-being of society.

The pharmacist should uphold the approved legal standards of the British Pharmacopoeia and the Canadian Formulary for articles which are official in either of these works, and should as far as possible, encourage the use of these official drugs and preparations and discourage the use of objectionable nostrums. He should sell and dispense only drugs of the best quality for domestic use and for filling prescriptions.

He must be properly remunerated by the public for his knowledge and skill when used in its behalf in compounding prescriptions, and his fee for such professional work should take into account the time consumed and the great responsibility involved as well as the cost of the ingredients.

He must not sell or dispense powerful drugs and poisons to persons not properly qualified to administer or use them, and should use every proper precaution to safe-guard the public from poisons and from all habit-forming medicines.

The pharmacist should seek to enlist and merit the confidence of his patrons and when that confidence is won, it should be jealously guarded and never abused by extortion or misrepresentation, or in any other manner.

He must consider the knowledge which he gains of the ailments of his patrons and the confidence regarding these matters, as entrusted to his honour and should never divulge such facts unless compelled to do so by law.

He should be willing to join any constructive effort to promote the public welfare and should so regulate his public and private conduct and deeds as to entitle him to the respect and confidence of the community in which he practices.

BOOK THREE ACTIVITIES

AND it came to pass that there was a dearth of alibis for scholastic disability—so began the Era of Activities. Activities make university life worth living.

HART HOUSE

The Founders' Prayer

"THE prayer of the Founders is that Hart House, under the guidance of its Warden, may serve in the generations to come the highest interests of this University by drawing into a common fellowship the members of the several colleges and faculties, and by gathering into a true society the teacher and the student, the graduate and the undergraduate; further that the members of Hart House may discover within its walls the true education that is to be found in good fellowship, in friendly disputation and debate, in the conversation of wise and earnest men, in music, pictures and the play, in the casual book, in sports and games and the mastery of the body; and lastly, that just as in the days of war this House was devoted to the training in arms of the young soldier, so in time of peace its walls may be dedicated to the task of arming youth with strength and suppleness of limb, with clarity of mind and depth of understanding, and with a spirit of true religion and high endeavour."

Hart House

HART HOUSE is so called in memory of the late Hart Massey. Begun in 1911, it was completed in 1919 and presented, fully equipped, to the University of Toronto by the trustees of the Massey Foundation. To Vincent Massey, Vice-Chairman of the Massey Foundation, is due the idea of Hart House as well as the form it assumed under his personal supervision. From the autumn of 1914 until November, 1918, it was used for military purposes, and within its walls thousands of men were trained for service overseas. On the first anniversary of the Armistice—November 11th, 1919—Hart House was formally opened by His Excellency the Duke of Devonshire, who was at that time the Governor-General of Canada. Mr. Henry Sproatt and Mr. Ernest Rolph were the architects of the building, which comes as near to meeting the requirements of the ideal House for student activities as any on this continent or perhaps in the world.

In its widest interpretation, Hart House, which is for the use of men only and is non-residential, seeks to provide for all the activities of the undergraduate's life which lie outside the actual lecture rooms. Architecturally of great beauty and built round a quadrangle, Hart House is unique in that it houses under one roof a finely proportioned hall, called "The Great Hall," common rooms of every description, a library, a debates room, a small chapel together with rooms for the use of the Student Christian Association, a studio for painting and sketching, photographic dark rooms, a billiard room, senior common rooms and dining rooms for both faculty and graduate members, an upper and lower gymnasium, both admirably equipped, separate rooms for boxing, wrestling and fencing, an indoor running track, a large swimming pool, racquet courts, an indoor rifle range, extensive locker rooms, offices for the Students' Administrative Council, also for the athletic and medical staff, a few bedrooms for guests, and the office and private rooms for the Warden. Below the quadrangle is a fully equipped theatre with foyer, green room, dressing rooms, wardrobe and the office of the director of the theatre. Every male undergraduate of the University is required to be a member of Hart House, towards the upkeep of which he pays an annual fee of ten dollars. The House has no endowment and these fees are its chief source of revenue.

The care of Hart House and its welfare has to a large extent been entrusted to the undergraduates themselves. There are six standing committees—House, Hall, Library, Music, Billiard and Sketch. Each of these committees consists of two faculty members, one of whom is the chairman, one graduate member, ten undergraduates and the Warden. Eight of the ten undergraduate members are elected annually by the whole undergraduate membership of Hart House, the other two being elected by their own number to serve on the same committee the following year. The personnel and duties of the standing and special committees subject to the authority of the Board of Stewards are as follows:

HOUSE COMMITTEE

The House Committee is the senior of the standing committees and has charge of the general management and social activities of Hart House. Under its supervision come all regulations governing the use of the House and all plans for the comfort and convenience of its members. The barber shop and guest rooms are under its care. The Committee is also responsible to the Board of Stewards for seeing that the House is kept in good repair both as regards its structure and equipment. The annual elections of the committees of Hart House are also under the management of this Committee. The Masquerade was again successfully held last November.

The members of the House Committee for 1929-1930 are: Professor G. H. Duff (Chairman), the Warden, Professor R. Taylor, J. R. Gilley (Comptroller), R. E. Smythe (Graduate), J. T. Jackson (Rep. Ath. Assoc.), H. H. Berry, W. H. Bilbrough, F. R. Brebner, T. L. Marsh, J. Raeburn, C. A. Rudell, G. Rochereau de la Sabilère, T. R. Sargeant, A. J. Stringer, J. F. McCullough (Secretary).

HALL COMMITTEE

As in former years the duties of the Hall Committee have been to exercise a general supervision over the Great Hall, the graduate dining room, the kitchen department of Hart House and the tuck shop. During the present year the number of students using the Great Hall has again increased. About fourteen hundred meals a day are served there and if the faculty and graduate meals are taken into consideration as well as special functions and dinners, the number of meals served averages about two thousand. This number in itself is proof of the quality of meals served and the moderate prices charged. The Comptroller and the Assistant Comptroller have given much time and thought to the operation of this department of Hart House and of the tuck shop, which continues to do a large business.

The Committee has given particular attention to the financial statements presented to it each month and to the many problems inseparable from a large and complex organization such as the Great Hall. Careful consideration has also been given to extensive structural changes which it is proposed to carry out in the kitchens and servery.

The members of the Hall Committee for 1929-1930 are: Dr. H. A. Hoskin (Chairman), the Warden, Dr. G. C. Cameron, J. R. Gilley (Comptroller), Leo Smith, Wills Maclachlan (Graduate), H. D. Baker, J. F. Clarke, D. R. Gunn, D. M. King, F. J. MacNamara, W. G. Moad, L. E. Simpson, E. G. Sinclair, A. E. Tyson, W. A. Rooke (Secretary).

LIBRARY COMMITTEE

The library in Hart House is recognized as one of the most beautiful rooms in the whole building.

In accordance with the idea of the Founders, the Library Committee has for the past ten years been engaged in the building up of a collection of books such as might be found in a good private library and as a result of their work the room has now become a popular resort of all those who like to spend their leisure hours reading the casual book.

At present there are 3,500 volumes on the shelves about half of which are fiction, while the rest are composed chiefly of biography, history, languages and general literature. Additions to the Library are made at regular intervals and the activities of the Committee are chiefly centered around the selection of new books for purchase. Gifts are also received from time to time, and in the last year Hart House has been particularly fortunate in this respect.

The Library Committee is further responsible for the selection of periodicals for use in the reading room, and in this department of the House a wide range of weekly and monthly journals may be found.

The Curator, Mr. B. D. Beamish, U.C. '30, is responsible for the care and checking of books, but no other supervision over the Library is exercised. From the first the policy of the Library Committee has been to keep the shelves open at all times and to encourage the feeling that the contents of the library are the common property of members of Hart House. It is by this means that the unique character of the library has been preserved.

The members of the Library Committee for 1929-1930 are: Professor J. F. Macdonald (Chairman), the Warden, Professor L. C. A. Hodgins, H. O. E. Asman (Graduate), B. D. Beamish (Curator of Library), G. S. Andrews, D. W. Buchanan, B. A. R. Dignan, J. B. Dowler, D. B. Murray, H. G. Walton-Ball, A. L. Watson, J. T. Wilson, T. V. O'B. Wilson, J. Brebner (Secretary).

MUSIC COMMITTEE

The Music Committee directs and generally supervises the various musical activities of the House. The major function of the Music Committee is to arrange a number of concerts, recitals and songsters and thus to encourage and stimulate an appreciation for good music among the undergraduate members of the House. Pursuing the policy of former years the Committee has, during the present academic year, arranged eight Sunday Evening Concerts, and a series of Friday Afternoon Recitals. The Sunday Evening Concerts, the most popular musical institution of the University, are held in the Great Hall of Hart House at 9 p.m. on Sunday evenings at intervals of three weeks during the term. Owing to the generosity of the leading musicians of the city, undergraduates are afforded the opportunity of hearing music of the highest order, and it is evident from the very large audiences which regularly attend them, how much these concerts are appreciated. From the beginning of October, and continuing until the middle of March, Friday Afternoon Recitals are held each Friday at 5 p.m. in the Music Room. These Recitals have drawn a large number of undergraduates week by week.

A series of eight Songsters is held in the Music Room on Sunday evenings when there is no concert in the Great Hall and is conducted by Mr. J. Campbell McInnes. From the first they have drawn a large and enthusiastic number of students. This year Mr. McInnes was unable to take charge of the Songsters during the spring term because of illness and Mr. E. Mazzoleni, musical director at Upper Canada College, conducted the programmes.

The members of the Music Committee for 1929-1930 are: Professor H. J. Davis (Chairman), the Warden, Professor H. R. Kemp, Dr. E. C. MacMillan, F. R. MacKelcan (Graduate), R. L. Algie, W. E. Algie, A. S. Archer, L. V. Clegg, R. B. Meiklejohn, A. C. R. M'Gonigle, C. S. Robertson, A. M. Ross, J. S. Walker, A. H. Sellers (Secretary).

BILLIARD COMMITTEE

The billiard room of Hart House is a recreation centre for a large number of undergraduate members. It is under the control of the Billiard Committee. The general idea of the Billiard Committee of past years has been to promote the English game of billiards in preference to other games. With this object in view a handicap tournament is held after Christmas each year, the winner having his name inscribed on the Hart House cup. A snooker tournament is also held, the winner receiving a miniature silver cup. The policy of the Billiard Committee has been to see that good English billiard tables are provided and never before has the room been in better condition.

The billiard room is a source of revenue to Hart House and financial statements are placed before the Committee, which is directly responsible, as are all other standing committees, to the Board of Stewards.

The members of the Billiard Committee for 1929-1930 are: C. R. Myers (Chairman), the Warden, K. S. Bernhardt, C. A. Farewell (Graduate), W. J. Dunbar, J. M. N. Dunsmore, J. D. Gibson, J. L. Halliday, A. R. Nobbs, C. R. Ostrander, W. V. Tovell, J. K. Webb, M. A. Wilton, D. G. Hilliard (Secretary).

SKETCH COMMITTEE

The Sketch Committee is responsible to the Board of Stewards for the art activities of Hart House. They include control of the sketch room and the little sketch room and the holding of exhibitions therein, the winter loan exhibition, which is hung in the principal rooms of the House, the management of sketching classes under an artist and the occasional purchase of pictures.

The exhibitions during 1929-1930 have included various "one-man" shows by well-known artists, sculpture by Mr. and Mrs. Emanuel Hahn, the annual exhibition of photography by members of Hart House, the annual exhibition of paintings and drawings also by members of Hart House, exhibition by Professor Cizek's class, exhibition by the students of the Ontario College of Art, exhibition by the Art Students' League, exhibition by the Manitoba Society of Artists and an exhibition of posters.

"Kitwancool Totems" by Emily Carr has been added to the permanent collection of pictures.

The Art classes, held in the sketch room during the winter under the direction of Mr. F. S. Haines, have again proved very popular.

The members of the Sketch Committee for 1929-1930 are: Professor W. S. Funnell (Chairman), the Warden, Professor E. M. Walker, Professor J. H. Iliffe, F. D. Shannon (Keeper of the Prints), F. S. Brien, G. L. Cassidy, J. M. Friedman, E. E. Grainger, A. R. Hackett, C. J. A. Halliwell, W. E. Shute, P. O'M. Sims, J. B. G. Stewart, L. Sherwood (Secretary).

CAMERA COMMITTEE

The Camera Committee, which is a special committee of Hart House, is responsible for the management of the dark rooms in Hart House, the care of photographic equipment and the general encouragement of photography among the members of Hart House. On the occasion of the Masquerade, a member of the Camera Committee took photographs of the prize winners as records and for the newspapers.

In January the Committee arranged an exhibition of photography by members of Hart House in the main sketch room. Many very excellent prints were shown and the exhibition had a very large attendance.

The members of the Camera Committee for 1929-1930 are: Professor A. F. Coventry (Chairman), the Warden, J. F. Phillips (Graduate), W. L. Brown, W. A. Connolly, W. T. Grant, D. A. MacLulich, A. P. MacBean (Secretary).

SQUASH RACQUETS COMMITTEE

The Squash Racquets Committee, which is a special committee of Hart House, is responsible to the Board of Stewards for the general control of the squash courts. The game continues to grow in popularity and several hundred members of Hart House are regular players.

The Interfaculty and Individual Tournaments were again held and boards on which the names of the winners of these tournaments are inscribed were put up in the gallery.

The members of the Squash Racquets Committee for 1929-1930 are: A. B. Fennell (Chairman), the Warden, J. F. Woods (Graduate), J. A. D. Craig, J. J. Strenkovsky, M. Pasternak (Secretary).

DEBATES COMMITTEE

On 31st January, 1924, the first debate ever held in Hart House took place under the management of an informal committee appointed for that purpose. This debate was held on the open parliamentary system and special Rules of Procedure were drawn up by the committee. The debates room in Hart House was arranged as far as possible like the Provincial or Federal House; the Speaker's chair was placed in a central position, members for the motion being on his right, those against the motion on his left. After the four speakers "on the paper" had finished their speeches, the debate was open to any member, who, having caught the Speaker's eye, might then rise and address the House. At 10.30 p.m. the House divided on the motion. There were no judges, and the whole procedure was a definite attempt to get away from the competitive type of debate, which is really an oratorical contest, by which a team of three men from one university or faculty tries to win a victory over a team of three men from another university or faculty.

The aim of debates held under the Hart House system is to encourage real debating in contrast to the delivery of speeches carefully prepared for weeks beforehand and also to give undergraduates an introduction into public life by discussing questions of general interest across the floor of the House with the country's ablest men. Among visitors who have spoken "on the paper" or from the floor of the House are the Hon. W. E. Raney, K.C.; the Hon. J. W. Nickle, K.C.; Mr. Andrew McMaster, K.C.; the Hon. E. C. Drury; the Hon. Manning Doherty; the Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King (Prime Minister of Canada); the Hon. Hugh Guthrie; the Hon. G. Howard Ferguson (Prime Minister of Ontario); the Hon. W. H. Price, K.C. (Attorney General of Ontario); Miss Agnes Macphail, M.P.; and Dr. J. R. P. Sclater.

This year Mr. Samuel McBride (Mayor of Toronto), Mr. J. S. Ewart, K.C.; Mr. E. J. Garland, M.P., and McGill representatives have been among the honourable visitors.

The members of the Debates Committee for 1929-1930 are: Professor N. A. MacKenzie (Chairman), the Warden, Professor G. W. Brown, C. H. A. Armstrong and M. K. Kenny (Graduates), J. C. Clough, C. L. M. Douglas, L. L. L. Golden, T. V. Kennedy, W. J. Palmer, A. G. Reynolds, V. C. Webb, L. M. Gelber (Secretary).

GRADUATE COMMITTEE

THE Graduate Committee which is a special Committee of Hart House is responsible for the activities of the senior members. Dinners held at certain intervals throughout the year and the Graduates Ball which takes place on New Year's Eve are organised by this Committee. It has a general supervision over the graduate athletic activities as well as the Graduate Dining Room and Sitting Room. The Committee is elected at the annual meeting of senior members of the House in March of each year. The members of the Graduate Committee for 1929-1930 are:—

G. N. Kennedy (Chairman), the Warden, H. C. Barber, R. T. Carlyle, F. C. Carter, H. E. Langford, Dr. F. J. O'Leary, E. P. Tilley, A. B. Ward, J. R. Gilley and F. A. Wansborough (Secretary).

BOARD OF STEWARDS

The Board of Stewards is the governing body of Hart House and is so constituted as to include among its members the secretaries of the six standing committees and representatives of the chief organizations in Hart House. Subject to the superior authority of the Board of Governors of the University the direction, management and administration of Hart House, including matters of discipline, are entrusted to the Board of Stewards. The Board is assisted by a Finance Committee which makes recommendations with regard to financial matters. The general supervision of the whole House is entrusted to the Warden, who is appointed by the Board of Governors of the University and is ex-officio chairman of the Board of Stewards. He is assisted by the Comptroller of Hart House, Mr. J. R. Gilley (S.P.S. '21), the Assistant Comptroller, Mr. W. R. Cowan (S.P.S. '24), the Secretary of Hart House, Mr. F. A. Wansbrough (Victoria '28) and the Assistant Secretary, Mr. J. R. Johnston (Victoria '29).

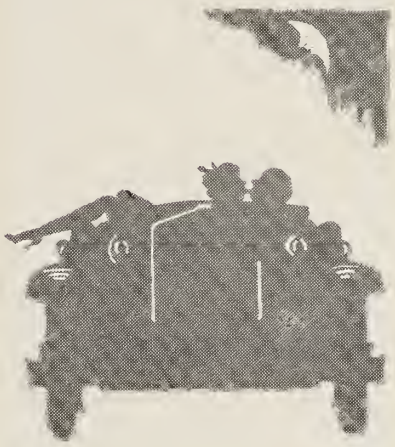

The members of the Board of Stewards for 1929-1930 are: The Warden (Chairman ex-officio), Sir Robert Falconer, K.C.M.G., the Hon. Vincent Massey (appointed by the Board of Governors), Professor H. Wasteneys and K. B. Jackson (appointed by the President), T. A. Reed (Financial Secretary, Athletic Association), F. C. Carter (Graduate), P. B. Ayres (S.C.A.), W. A. Bean (Athletic Directorate), C. S. Robertson (S.A.C.), Professor G. A. Cornish (Faculty Union), J. F. McCullough (House Committee), W. A. Rooke (Hall Committee), J. Brebner (Library Committee), A. H. Sellers (Music Committee), D. G. Hilliard (Billiard Committee), L. Sherwood (Sketch Committee), J. R. Gilley (Secretary).

STUDENT CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

THE religious life of the House is under the guidance of the Rev. F. J. Moore who is the leader of the Student Christian Association in the University. Afternoon addresses are arranged and groups meet regularly for study and discussion. The Chapel is used for informal services. The glass in the windows of the Chapel was collected from the devastated areas of France, Flanders and Italy and over the altar is a crucifix carved by Mr. Eric Gill and presented to the House by Sir Michael Sadler.

HEADING the social calendar for the year, the 1929 Hart House Masquerade passed into history in a kaleidoscopic whirl of colour and gaiety. Distinctive costumes traditional of the Masquerade, were everywhere in evidence and moving music crowned the event with its intoxicating rhythm.

AT-HOME COMMITTEE

HONOURING the senior Colour Holders of the University, the Athletic At-Home followed close on the heels of the Masquerade as a premier social event of the year. Colourful decorations appropriately employing the blue and white, effective lighting arrangements and good music were successfully combined to produce an excellent At-Home.

Engineering Society At-Home

THE Engineering Society At-Home, held at the Royal York on February 26, 1930, lived up the tradition as one of the season's most successful parties. In numbers it was the largest At-Home in undergraduate memory, as 350 couples danced to Romanelli's Orchestra in the Concert Hall on that memorable Wednesday evening.

The guests were received by Mrs. C. H. Mitchell; Mrs. C. R. Young; Mrs. H. E. T. Haultain; Mrs. C. H. C. Wright; Mrs. R. W. Angus; Mrs. L. J. Rogers; Mrs. G. A. Guess; Mrs. H. W. Price and Mr. N. D. Adams, the president of the Society.

At midnight a supper in the Convention Hall supplied the necessary carbohydrates and proteins to sustain the spirit of gaiety until the orchestra played The King at 3:00 P.X., thus bringing to a close another School At-Home.

The Medical At-Home

OVER 300 couples appeared at the Royal York Hotel on Friday, January 31st, to make the Medical At-Home the best party that Meds. have experienced for years.

Having decided to throw the Senior and Junior Medical At-Homes into the discard in favour of one big Medical Frolic, the committee entered upon their task with some degree of trepidation but did their best to put on a party that would bring Senior and Junior Years together and be within the financial means of everyone.

The Party itself, dispelled all fears—Never has so much hilarity, enthusiasm and fun pervaded the atmosphere of a Medical function. Dancing was in the Concert Hall beneath myriads of flickering Japanese lanterns with the whole scene made one of rhythmic motion by ever-changing coloured lighting effects.

Supper was served at midnight in the Convention Hall amid laughter, serpentine, yells and rolls. The refreshment left little to be desired and was no doubt, largely responsible for the gay scene that followed as dancing continued with the enthusiasm that made the party one of the foremost of the years in University circles.

The committee passes on hoping that the combined Medical At-Home will be continued next year, which with this year's beginning, should surpass anything in Medical history.

The patronesses of the evening were—Mrs. Primrose, Mrs. Graham, Mrs. Bruce, Mrs. Best.

Dental At-Home

THE At-Home Committee is composed of honorary president along with six members of the student body. The president of the committee is a member of the cabinet and is elected for office at the parliamentary elections which take place at the close of the preceding year. As chairman of the committee he is assisted by five other members who are elected by the respective years. The duty of the committee is the conducting of the social functions throughout the year.

The Dental Hallowe'en Dance was held at Columbus Hall and a large number of students and their friends had a delightful time. The hall was gayly decorated with College Colours, good music, novelties, favours, all combined to make this event a huge success.

The annual At-Home was held in the ball room of the Royal York Hotel, Wednesday, February the Twelfth. The party took the form of a cabaret dance. A very large number of graduates were present. A popular city orchestra was in attendance and the At-Home was quite in keeping with Dent's social fame.

Dean Seccombe, the Honorary President, took a very keen interest in all the activities of the committee.

Engineering Society Annual Dinner

THE Fortieth Annual School Dinner, held in the Great Hall, at Hart House on December 3rd, 1929, proved to be, we believe, the most successful Faculty Dinner that has been held on the Campus for many years. This may sound rather like an exaggeration, but the fact that the dinner was attended by almost 500 undergraduates and 50 members of the staff is indicative of its popularity.

Under the able guidance of Nate Adams, who acted as Master of Ceremonies, a programme of toasts and speeches was very smoothly run off, to the evident satisfaction of all present. Toasts to the University, the Faculty, the Profession, and Sister Organizations in other Universities were proposed by undergrads and never did Cicero address the senate with more eloquence and dignity than that displayed by Gerry McVean, Bert Tyson, Gerry Wood and Pat Bayly.

Sir Robert Falconer replied to the toast to the University in his own inimitable manner, while Dean Mitchell and Professor Bain gave us much food for thought in responding to the Faculty and Profession respectively.

The representatives from Queen's, McGill, and O.A.C., brought the best wishes of their own college, and seemed as glad to be with us as we were to have them.

At the conclusion of the toasts, School athletes had their innings when Prof. Loudon presented the cups to the victorious School crew and medals to the winners at the School Assault.

The crowning achievement of the Dinner was reserved till the last, when we were privileged to listen to addresses from Dr. J. H. Cody and Lieut.-Col. J. B. McLean. Any attempt to enlarge on their remarks in the limited space at our disposal would be quite futile. May we again thank these gentlemen for coming to speak to us.

The Committee wish to thank those men who gave their time to help toward the success of the Dinner, and the members of the whole School for their very loyal support.

Torontonensis — 1930

While previously styled "the Annual of the graduates of the University of Toronto," in1925, Torontonensis, under the editorship of Warner A. Higgins, became "The Year Book of the University of Toronto." In this issue an Athletic section appeared and a number of activities as, Drama, Music, and Publications, were segregated into separate sections. In the 1925 volume it was stated that "it has been the desire to make the annual of greater interest to the undergraduates, the record of the year's undergraduate activity. Much is to be desired but a beginning has been made which . . . . will eventually lead to the use of colour printing."

In 1926, under the able direction of Fraser W. Robertson, Torontonensis truly became the Year Book of undergraduate activities. Material of especial interest to the graduating class was arranged under colleges in a section titled Senior Year. An extensive Campus Life section was incorporated giving a pictorial review of the year. Other departments included in the 1926 volume were Athletics, Student Government Organizations and Fraternities. The use of colour-printing throughout also began with this volume.

Torontonensis 1930, has endeavoured to follow as closely as possible the ideas developed in 1926. A slight change in the arrangement of material has been made in that the department headed Organizations, has been divided into two, namely, Activities and Organizations. Hart House, Student Government and Campus Life, have been included as sections of the former while Fraternities is classed as a section of the latter. The Art Section began in 1925 and followed in 1926 and 1927, has been elaborated upon this year.

Torontonensis, while retaining to a considerable degree, its present form, must aim at constant improvement in the presentation of the material thus arranged. This will depend largely upon its financial status which, ultimately will depend upon the ability of Torontonensis to create sufficient undergraduate interest to command a large undergraduate sale of the volume.

"The Varsity" Staff, 1929-30

UNDER the dual editorship of N. J. DeWitt in the autumn term and Lou Golden in the spring term, "The Varsity" has had a successful year; that is to say, it has taken a definite stand upon such vital questions as the report of the Caput committee on student government, and the statement of Professor W. A. Irwin as to conditions at the University.

The outstanding incident of the year was the presentation of the report on student government. Circumstances connected with the publication of the report in "The Varsity" led to a clearer definition of the rights of the editor and his responsibility to the Joint Executive. The president of the S.A.C., Allan H. Ferry, objecting to a certain headline which appeared in the report, stopped the press and wrote a new headline on his own authority. The result of ensuing meetings of the Advisory Board of Student Publications and of the S.A.C., was that the editor should have the right to publish anything he wished without interference, and should only be subject to discipline after the article or heading had appeared.

For the first time in many years, the financial statement of the S.A.C. was published in "The Varsity". It was shown in editorials that an apparent deficit on the undergraduate daily was really a surplus.

"The Varsity" has stimulated literary enterprise this year in the award of special prizes for prose and poetry by undergraduates in several literary supplements. Three of these appeared during the year, one of four columns in the autumn, a Christmas eight page issue, and a special eight page supplement; altogether $100 in prizes was awarded.

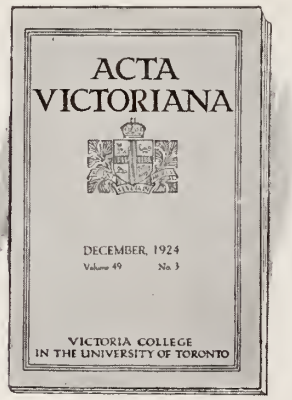

The beer poll sponsored by "The Varsity" resulted in a considerable majority in favour of the sale of beer within the university grounds. Fifty per cent. of the students expressed their opinions in the straw vote. This was the first straw vote ever conducted by "The Varsity", and the first organised expression of opinion in the University.

Acta Victoriana Board

"ACTA VICTORIANA" has entered its fifty-fourth year of publication but age in a college journal only means a continued succession of youth and vivacity in literary and humour columns. This year has seen what might be termed a general transformation of the magazine. New covers, new features, have all done their share in enlivening what is after all simply a college graduate and undergraduate dispenser of local news and gossip and humour interspersed with literary strivings and criticism and the ever necessary dose of illuminating satire. Yet popularity need not mean a lowering of standards. Prize contests for short stories and poems have yielded even better response than usual, and thanks to a faithful group of staff and friends the more critical articles and contributions have always been present in abundance.

Women's and Men's staffs have co-operated with success even in the stress and storm of a libel trial in the Victoria College Student's Parliament. This trial brought above all things, to Acta, that great modern gift, publicity, and publicity, that was all the more appreciated since Acta was able to emerge triumphant from carping fault taking with due acknowledgment to the plea of constructive criticism and the genius of the women's Editor.

Such court proceedings coupled together with a continuity of startling personal revelations in the pages of the magazine itself may have caused old editors of true Victorian days to turn with awe in their graves. Yet why complain? Such things are the true spice of college journalism.

University of Toronto Medical Journal

THE Journal was established in 1923 under the auspices of the Medical Society as the official organ of the undergraduates in Medicine, and has been continued since with increasing success. It now numbers among its subscribers a large majority of the undergraduates and graduates in all parts of the world.

The primary purpose in inaugurating a journal of this kind was to give the undergraduates an opportunity to publish papers on subjects of current medical interest and so to gain experience in the preparation of such papers. The members of the senior years especially have taken advantage of this opportunity and articles of a high grade are produced. By adding to these articles by members of the faculty the Journal has become a valuable reference medium for the student.

Trinity University Review

THE TRINITY UNIVERSITY REVIEW has been the official publication of the members of Trinity College for half a century. For nearly thirty years from the foundation of the College there was no medium of expression which circulated beyond the College walls. Then as a result of pressure from within and without, there appeared in January 1880, a private venture under the editorship of Mr. Travers Lewis, Mr. Cruttenden and Mr. F. E. Howitt. It bore the title Rouge et Noir and the motto Fortiter Fideliter Forsan Feliciter.

During the eighties Rouge et Noir grew in size and from being a quarterly became a monthly publication. Archibald Lampman, the poet, was one of the earliest editors; among other contributors were the Late Bishop Q. Brent, Sir Gilbert Parker, Charles G. D. Roberts. Professor M. A. Mackenzie was an editor during his undergraduate days, as also was Professor E. T. Owen.

In 1888 the name of the magazine was changed to the one which it now bears, without loss of identity or break in continuity. Since that time it has appeared unfailingly eight times each year, during which time it has numbered on its editorial and business staffs such prominent graduates as the present Bishop of Niagara, the Premier of Saskatchewan and three Rhodes Scholars.

To-day The Review still rears the motto of fifty years ago and tries to realize the implied qualities of Fortiter Fideliter Forsan Feliciter.

ST. HILDA'S CHRONICLE STAFF
Back Row: Scadding, Harrison, McMillan, Dennison, Rons

St. Hilda's Chronical

THE CHRONICLE is the official publication of St. Hilda's College, which was founded in 1888 and is the oldest women's college in Canada. While presumably but the residence for the women undergraduates of Trinity College, in reality it holds its own charter and is a college in its own right. This fact may in part explain the Chronicle's existence quite independent of the Trinity University Review. The Chronicle made its first appearance before 1900, and despite repeated attempts to amalgamate the two magazines, has kept its own identity for over a quarter of a century. As well as being the first magazine of its kind in Canada, it is the only women's magazine in the University of Toronto.

At first the editor was sometimes an undergraduate, and sometimes a graduate, but for the last fifteen years the staff has been entirely undergraduate, including the Editor and the Business and Advertising Managers. The Chronicle is primarily a literary magazine containing principally undergraduate work with occasional contributions from graduates. Besides stories and poems there are articles, cartoons, pictures, graduate notes and notes of college sports and other activities. A few years ago a section of Literary Reviews was added, and last year Dramatic Criticism was made a regular feature of the magazine.

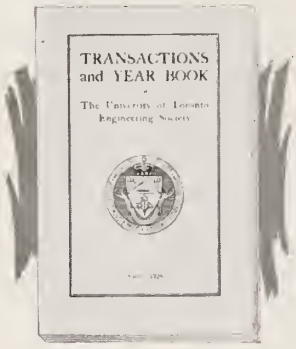

Since the circulation was small, for a number of years the financial question was a difficult one. This is easily understood when we realize that there were only eight students in the college when the first issue of the Chronicle was published. Recently, however, it has been entirely self-supporting, producing two issues a year from thirty to fifty pages.

Transactions and Year Book

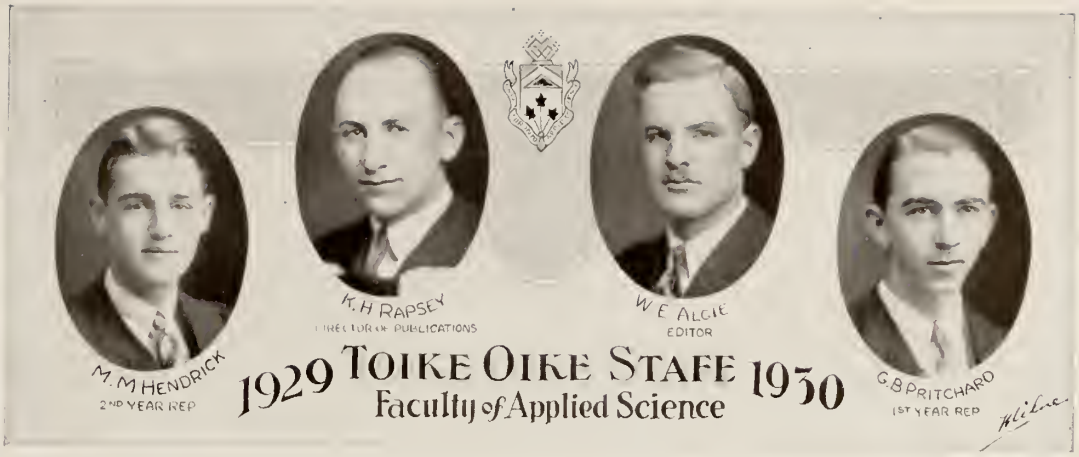

THE part played by "Transactions and Year Book" in the affairs of S.P.S. is similar in many respects to that played by Torontonensis in the affairs of the University. To the graduate engineer it is a tie that binds him to "The Little Red School House", and to the undergraduate it is a record of past achievements, of traditions to be preserved.

The first section of the book is devoted to noteworthy addresses delivered before the Engineering Society, and to technical papers written by both graduates and undergraduates. Subjects of current interest and importance relating to all branches of Engineering are dealt with.

The second section is The Year Book of The Engineering Society. In it are recorded the social and athletic activities at School during the past year. Here are found accounts of the dances, excursions and smokers which play so large a part in the affairs of the various undergraduate clubs and organizations.

Transactions would not be complete without doing justice to the men who have so ably upheld the honour of School in interfaculty athletics, and a considerable portion of the book is therefore devoted to the various branches of sport.

Toike Oike

OUR diminutive newspaper published now and then has this year soared to heights of unknown success.

The Toike Oike has now reached a state of purity heretofore unthinkable in a college publication, and has enhanced its circulation twenty-five per cent. The reason for this is the fact that a large number of copies were smuggled into the Medical Faculty for the purpose of improving Epistaxis. Many of the Arts students are still laughing over one or two of the jokes in the Christmas issue.

However, some of the other faculties hold that this is no criterion but the editor and his colleagues feel that they have published this year some of the best if not the best Toike Oikes in years.

University College Player's Guild

MEMBERS of the Players' Guild, and in particular the members of the executive, look back on the 1929-30 period with a great deal of satisfaction and not a little pride. Not only has the year's programme been received with manifest pleasure, but its presentation has been marked by serious consideration for dramatic technique and as a natural result, the critical discussions of weekly productions have been more than usually pointed and stimulating, of very definite value in their own right. The choice of plays for weekly presentation has ranged from the tragic and poetic simplicity of Synge to the realism of an 'original' play, from the farce to the high comedy of Schnitzler, and chronologically from Plautus to Bernard Shaw.

The Guild has followed a laudable precendent in inviting guests to speak on various aspects of theatrical art and in particular upon the literature of the theatre. Of outstanding significance this year was the visit of Sir Barry Jackson, and his reading of the Apple Cart, a comedy written by G. B. Shaw and as yet unpublished.

The Players' Guild is primarily the dramatic organization of the undergraduates of University College, but the entertaining quality of its programmes and the distinctive variety of its productions from year to year, is attracting an ever-increasing host of friends outside the College and even beyond the University itself.

The Bob Committee

THE fifty-seventh annual "Bob" of Victoria College welcomed to the halls the largest freshman class in the history of the College. The tradition was kept in Burwash Hall on the evening of October 11th, 1929, with the customary procession of singing Frosh from Annesley running the gauntlet and taking their places on one side of the hall. Then the contest of vocal organs began and for a time perfect bedlam reigned in which the much smaller Sophomore year had an uphill struggle.

The program opened with a "coup" on the part of the Sophomores when they presented to the Freshman year the president, somewhat the worse for an afternoon's necessary absence.

The "Bob" of this year is considered one of the best in recent years. The peculiarities of the new arrivals were dramatically presented on the rugby field and on the campus. People of that characteristic colour usually make some errors and this year was no exception. However, the main interest of the drama followed the fortunes of one, Castor Bean, throughout his college career to the triumphant culmination in his marriage, surrounded by college chums and the village society. Among the scenes of import were interspersed some novel dances of doubtful description in which gentlemen of gay attire beat fast rhythm with hard heels and strange and wonderful stage girls performed manoeuvers equally strange and wonderful.

After the drama, refreshments were served and mingling freshmen and sophomores buried the hatchet. Thus ended the traditional hostilities in a fitting climax which augments well for the new year.

The Daffydil Executive are solemn and sedate
For weighty are the problems that arise for their debate
"It's our ambition gentlemen, to give a better show
Than any that have been produced for thirty years or so.
Two nights of sparkling wit and song, of ribald mirth and glee
Our chance to take the doctors off with true impunity.
Lets set the date as March the sixth, and Hart House as our stage
Solicit Mr. Edgar Stone to give us tutelage.
We'll fill the place with grinning skulls and hosts of daffydils
We'll shout an "epistaxis", till the coldest listener thrills.
Lets take the doctors down to court and on the witness stand
We'll listen to the words of wrath they have at their command!
And any very subtle jokes that might cause agitation.
We'll print in "Epistaxis", for a private cogitation
And when we've had our curtain call and helped to "save the king"
We'll congregate and dine—just for the spirit of the thing!
And we will challenge all the lads of nineteen thirty one,
To try and give a better show than this that we have done."

Dental Dramatic Club

THE Dramatic Club of the Faculty of Dentistry has under its management two functions during the School year. First—"Noctem Cuckoo," the stunt night at Hart House: Second—Dentantics, the dramatic night at Hart House Theatre. This year "Noctem Cuckoo" was one of the best in its history, with many new features introduced by Mr. F. E. Harris, President.

"Dentantics" showed the amount of work spent on it and certainly merited the wonderful support it received. Mr. Harris spent many hours of hard work, on both functions and was well rewarded, by the increased interest in both..

Joint Executive Students' Administrative Council

IT MAY be that ere another year's Torontonensis is in the making, this body of students, male and female, who have faithfully served their fellow undergraduates for the past 11 years, will have given place to some other form of student government. Little understood by the majority of undergraduates, bitterly criticised by those who knew least about it, and viewed with suspicion continuously by those who in theory created it, the Joint Executive has continued to be the moving force behind much that matters in student life on the campus. With the Joint Executive lies the responsibility of recommending to the Caput what fee shall be collected from the student to pay for his extra-curriculum activities, of watching carefully all expenditures so as to prevent a recurrence of that disastrous debt of four years ago, of publishing the news on the campus and taking responsibility for whatever 'the freedom of the press' may care to inflict on the undergraduate, of presenting each student with a handy note book with space to record the much used telephone number and the many 'dates', and of making it appear to the Caput that Student Government is working splendidly no matter at what a cost to the Executive itself.

This academic year has been a particularly happy year for the Joint Executive. We have not been forced to hold all-night sessions, and yet much that is good has been accomplished. A long overdue re-arrangement of fees will come into force with the commencement of the next academic year. By this there will be a general reduction. Student government has received serious and constructive consideration, as a result of which recommendations have been sent forward to the Caput. Whether or not this shall be the final 'write-up' of the Joint Executive under that name and constitution, is in the lap of the gods.

Men Student's Administrative Council

FEWER but better meetings have been the order of the day for the Men's S.A.C. during 1929-30. Resuming the call of the last Council for better Student Government, the Council this year, has had the satisfaction of receiving the Caput report, discussing it with care, and passing on its own suggestions to the Caput for its consideration. As a result of the activity of the Council it is the general feeling that a really workable form of student government will shortly materialise.

Debates with other Universities, arranged through the Debates Committee, encouraging the development of our literary and poetic genius by competitions through the "Varsity", and endeavours to produce a really worthy University undergraduates' band, have been other activities sponsored by the Council.

The experiment of holding open meetings was again tried at the commencement of this year, but the response once more indicated that either the undergraduates have full confidence in their elected representatives, or they are not sufficiently interested in student government to waste an hour or two listening to the procedure of the Council.

The Provincial elections of 1929 were of interest to the University, because of proposals with respect to the First Year Pass Course. Through the courtesy of a local firm the Council arranged for the installing of a radio in Hart House so that the election returns could be available to those interested. The Council also arranged for the listing and inspection of rooms suitable for men students and through this service some 350 students were accommodated.

Women Students' Administrative Council

THE Women Students' Administrative Council has now been in existence since the spring of 1916, when the need for a body to represent all the women of the University was first felt to be a matter of great importance. The various activities undertaken during the War were overlapping and it was evident that a central organization was needed to direct the various forms of patriotic endeavour if the best results were to be achieved. This was accomplished by the Council in a most satisfactory way, and it has continued as the central body which administers all matters pertaining to the women students as a whole, while the various undergraduate associations conduct their own personal affairs.

The Council is composed of representatives from the women undergraduates' societies of all colleges and faculties. There are nineteen seats on the Council, each college or faculty having representation more or less according to size. The presidents of the undergraduate societies in University College, Victoria College, Trinity College, St. Michael's College and the Faculty of Household Science, and a senior representative from the Faculty of Medicine, with the General Secretary-Treasurer, who is a graduate nominated by the Council and appointed by the Board of Governors, make up the Executive. They are the women members of the Joint Executive of the Men's and Women's Councils. The other faculties represented are: O.C.E., Social Service, and Public Health Nursing.

The offices rotate among the colleges and faculties each year, commencing with the presidency in University College in 1916. Miss Gertrude O'Malley, St. Michael's, is this year's president, and Miss Miriam Brick, Medicine, is vice-president.

The Council gives certain financial assistance to the Women's Debating Union and the Athletic Association, maintains a free book exchange for women students throughout the year, and women's tickets for games, debates, convocations, etc. as well as all athletic season tickets, are handled by the Council office. The women, through the Joint Executive, take joint responsibility with the men in the publication of 'The Varsity', 'Torontonensis', and 'The Handbook', and in all other matters in which the interests of both men and women are involved.

University College Women Undergraduates' Association

THE Women Undergraduates' Association is the official representative and administrative body of the women students of University College. It is the one organization to which all women of the College belong, and as such it seeks to unify their various interests.

The Initiation party this year took the form of stunts presented by the freshies, followed by an impressive formal initiation of first year women by the seniors.

The Annual Autumn Tea which is the official welcome to first year by the faculty wives, alumnae and undergraduates was held on Saturday, November the Second.

The Sunday Afternoon Musicales arranged once a month by the W.U.A., have been enjoyed by the women undergraduates and their friends. Such prominent artists as Mr. Campbell, Mr. Innes, Madame de Kresz and Mr. Leo Smith, have made these musicales successful.

The Annual Christmas Party of the W.U.A. was held on December the Seventeenth at the Women's Union.

The St. Margaret's College Alumnae Public Speaking Contest took place as usual early in February. Miss Isabel Jordan of first year was awarded the coveted prize this year.

University College Literary and Athletic Society

THE membership of the Society includes all men students registered in University College, by virtue of the compulsory fee levied at the first of the year. It is the main organ of the College and a most important medium between the Faculty and the students.

The fact that the College has a large enrollment of students whose interests vary greatly, makes it difficult for an organization such as the "Lit." However, this speaks well for the College, where the students are far from being shut up in air-tight containers. The "Lit." controls all the activities of University College.

Literary Activities

The problem of literary work has remained difficult to solve. It is probably due to the size of the College and the lack of unity among a diversified student body. The Year Debates have been successful but not well attended: the Robinette Trophy will go to the winner of the debate between the First and Second Years. At this point we should like to express our sincere thanks to our honorary president, Prof. G. O. Smith, for the prize which he donated for competition.

During January, Mr. T. A. Reed gave an interesting lecture with slides on the history of University College. Under the general supervision of the Literary Director, the University College Magazine has been edited by Mr. C. R. Tracy, with Mr. P. E. Usher, B.A., Mr. Lou Golden, and Miss Anne Adler, as associate editors. New features have been introduced and a high standard of literary value was reached in both issues.

Athletics

"Playing the game for the game's sake" is the spirit of University College athletics. Consequently there are not many championships to report. This is not an excuse but an explanation. The recreation of a great college needs no excuse. Our best athletes are numbered among the most outstanding men in intercollegiate competition. Only a small percentage of men turn out for interfaculty skirmishes, since the majority find other means of recreation. The vast scope of interests provided in such a big college has plainly had its effect on athletics as it has on many other institutions. Excellent advantages are contained in college athletics, not the least important of which is mixing in such a medley of fine men. The Athletic Board have done much in the past year and leave for their successors a situation full of possibilities.

Social Activities

Although University College has for many years been famous for its brilliant social life, this year's activities were even more than usually successful. The Anniversary Dance, to commemorate the 75th birthday of the Society, gave rise to the highest hopes for the future, which were more than realized by the U. C. Follies, an affair which was thoroughly enjoyed by the large crowd which thronged Hart House on that occasion. The crowning achievement of the year, however, was the Arts Ball which brought the U.C. social season to a close in a blaze of glory. Undoubtedly the Society has every reason to be congratulated on such a universally appreciated social year.

In an organization such as is the U.C. "Lit.", there has been, and always will be, room for improvement, and it is justifiable to assert that the Executive of the past year have fully done their share to continue the work. A general survey of the "Lit.'s" activities during this time, may be pardonably viewed by the Society with almost unmixed satisfaction. That the high standard of the past years have been upheld and in some cases excelled, there is not the slightest doubt. With the advantages gained by a close study of the methods of our predecessors in organizing and financing the various activities of the Society there is good reason to hope that the Society may improve even upon the high levels already attained. In this hope we look with eager anticipation to the new academic year.

Victoria College Students' Parliament

The meetings of our Parliament, this year, have been of unusual interest, and have attracted attendances unprecedented in our history. This has been due to several contributing causes. The way was prepared by a constructive revision of the constitution last year; the introduction of responsible government and the energy of a wide-awake opposition has kept the government on its toes; and the questions brought forward by both sides have been at once interesting and important.

After a heated discussion, the long-debated problem of the Vic-Slate in the Hart House elections was finally settled by the abolition of that bone-of-contention. A grant was made to the furnishing of the College common-room. The constitution of the Bob was amended to provide a more wieldly and efficient executive to promote that traditional institution. These all have been steps forward.

Our most interesting meeting was the occasion of calling to the Bar of the House the Editor of Acta Victoriana to answer charges of libel and slander of the second year. The counsels on either side drew astonishingly divergent reports from their witnesses in true legal fashion, the which being taken into consideration by the House, the Editor was acquitted unanimously. It was agreed that the second year should take yeast-cakes for pep.

At the time of writing, a federation of the societies of the College proposed by a Royal Commission of our Parliament is being considered by the W. U. A. If this union is carried out, it will be something entirely new in student government.

Women's Undergraduate Association of Victoria College

THE Women's Undergraduate Association went forth to war against the hosts of an overpopulated college with the glint of battle in its eye, and ranks of statistics at its back. The battle is not yet won, but two-thirds of the epigram in reality—"they (the freshmen) came, they (the plenipotentaries saw, but they (the cause for limitation) have not yet conquered.

A debate was sponsored on the subject of the college being limited, articles were placed in The Varsity, and Acta Victoriana and an essay contest was sponsored. Mr. Howe Martyn of the senior year, won the first prize and his essay is being turned over to the faculty committee on limitation. In the meantime the professor's deliver their words of wisdom to hordes of students, the dietitians perform further wonders with a stick of celery and a piece of cheese, and the freshman prom slinks quietly into a corner of Alumni Hall to condone with the stiff collars, and beautiful bristles of a yesteryear.

Plans for a central student organization which will allow more democratic participation of the student in the management of student affairs, and, at the same time, eliminate the over-organized condition of our college, have also been drawn up; and although they have not as yet been passed by the general student body, have been approved by the representative executives.

The winds of change and reform thus blow justily through Victorias corridors. Whether they effect a thorough house-cleaning, or merely stir the dusty traditions which shadow every corner will be the revelation of the years of the future, when the new machine of organization will produce new commodities for the trade of traditions.

TRINITY COLLEGE LITERARY INSTITUTE COUNCIL, 1929

Trinity College Literary Institute

IN a resumé of the Lit. the first thought that comes to mind is that this society is very old as University institutions go. For, although it was founded under its present title in 1853, it was descended from the days of the Diocesan Theological Institute in Cobourg. In the activities of its new surroundings it still remains established and vigorous.

Debating has been emphasized for some years now in the interpretation of our motto, "Feros Cultus Voce Formare". At the regular meetings on Friday evenings the Common Room is the scene of Party debates under the Parliamentary system, with due attention to ceremony and traditional usage. Upon defeat in two successive party debates the Council of nine members goes out of office. It is succeeded by the official Opposition of five members, with the necessary additions, who then form the "Government". The Council has full executive authority and arranges the Oratorical Contest each year and other entertainments. Lately the combined debates with the St. Hilda's Literary Society have met with encouraging approval and not being partisan the debates allow all members free discussion upon which ever side they choose. The Conversazione is held annually under the supervision of a special committee, which each year has earned the commendation of the members.

ST. HILDA'S HOUSE COMMITTEE
PELLATT, TAMBLYN, CARTWRIGHT, DICKINSON, AISWORTHY

St. Hilda's College House Committee

THE form of government at St. Hilda's is dissimilar to that prevailing in the other colleges on the Campus, in that it has no regular Student Government. Instead of this we have what is known as the "House Committee", the President of which is Dr. M. Cartwright, Dean of Women and Principal of the College.

The Committee is comprised of the head Student in each year, who is chosen in the First Year as the student entering St. Hilda's with the highest academic standing; in addition there are one or two other representatives from each year, when deemed expedient.

This body has supreme jurisdiction in student affairs, and is the final court of appeal in disciplinary matters. Meetings of the full committee are held once a month; each week the Dean holds a meeting of the four "Heads" of the years.

In St. Hilda's the system of year precedence is practised; the head of the Fourth Year becomes automatically" Head of College". The Fourth Year is finally responsible for the management of the college. The Third Year has no specific duties other than those which fall to it in the apportioning of offices. To the Second Year belongs the direct control of the First Year. The latter year is responsible for all house duties, such as telephone and tea duty etc.

Two of the major societies in St. Hilda's are the Literary Society and the Women's Auxiliary of the Church Missionary Society, which is also the college unit of the S.C.M. The chief activity of the former is the presentation of four plays, by the members of each of the four years. Debates are also held, and it is rather interesting to note that for the year 1929-30 two out of the four intercollegiate debaters are members of St. Hilda's.

The annual Bazaar and Tea which is held by the W.A., is another event of the year. The proceeds from this are devoted to missionary work.

The social life of the college is provided by the various class parties, and also by the receptions, in addition to the annual dances.

ST. MICHAEL'S COLLEGE STUDENT COUNCIL EXECUTIVE
McDonald, Gillan, Kennedy, Anderson, Cassidy

St. Michael's College Student Council Executive

THE academic year just past has been an unusually quiet one for the Student Council. The prohibition of all forms of freshman initiation, even to the extent of gaudy ties, which were the cause of some heated moments the year previous, left the Council with little to do. Instead, the formal Freshman Reception was held earlier in the term, and the freshman's period of probation was short-lived.

In November, the Council revived an institution which had been defunct for a year, namely, the Students' Parliament. The first motion proposed by the Fusilier government was in favor of extending the powers of student government. Strangely enough, the members of that body were vigorous in opposing the motion.

The annual Arts Banquet next occupied the attention of the Executive, and proved to be the best affair of its nature in years. Father Burke and Professor F. A. McDonald were the guest speakers. The various toasts were wittily and entertainingly proposed, and as wittily answered. In the near future a Smoker is to be held for all undergraduates in the College, also under the auspices of the Council.

The President of the Council this year holds the position of Chairman of the Advisory Board of Student Publications, and as such, has considerable voice in student affairs at Toronto.

Executive: President, T. V. Kennedy; Vice-Pres., J. A. McDonald; Secretary, G. L. Cassidy; Second Year Rep., F. Anderson; First Year Rep., Harold Gillen.

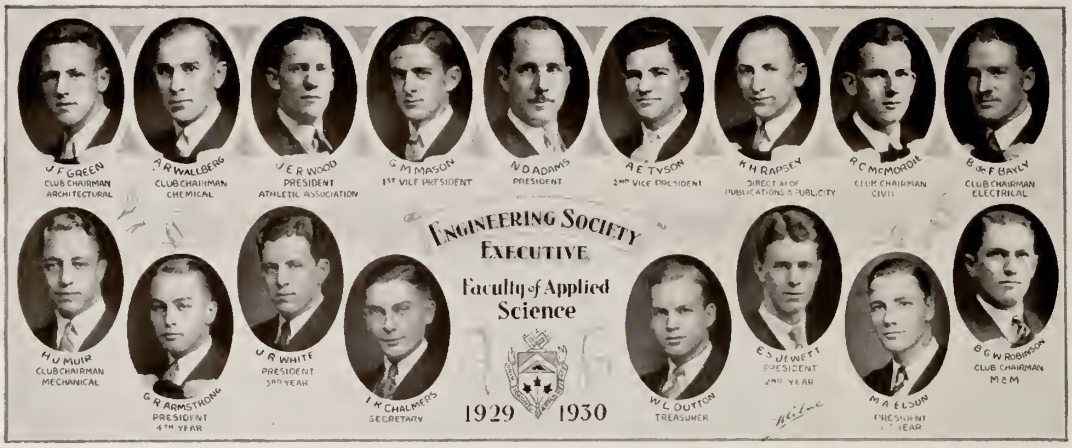

The Medical Society

THE Medical Society is the undergraduate organization of the Faculty of Medicine. Since its inauguration in 1895 the scope of its influence has been much enlarged but the principles embodied in the original by-laws still determine the policy of the Society. The elections are held in February of each year, the new executive taking office the following September. The Medical Sick Benefit Fund, the University Medical Journal and the Medical Athletic Society are all controlled by this body which is also responsible for the Senior Med. At-Home, the Soph-Frosh Dinner and Dance, the Faculty Dinner and Daffydil Night—that collection of skits which was so outstanding this year.

Open meetings were held, their popularity being proved by the large number of students who attended. Prof. Rogers, Warden J. B. Bickersteth of Hart House, Dr. G. D. Porter and Dr. T. C. Routley were the speakers, and their addresses were much appreciated. The success of these meetings has practically assured their future continuation and they are expected to be influential in drawing the various years into closer contact with one another.

As a fitting climax to a most successful year the Executive drew up a petition for a reduction of the Dominion and Ontario Council fees and the total abolition of the extra Council examination. Thus the Society completed its thirty-fifth year of service to the Faculty of Medicine.

The Engineering Society

THE Engineering Society is primarily the medium through which the undergraduates of Applied Science are represented in social, athletic and technical activities of the University and Engineering Profession. For forty-two years the Society has been composed of, and entirely under the control of, the undergraduates of "School." Since its inception in 1888 as a student organization, the progress of the Society has been meteoric, until to-day this body is able to boast of an enthusiastic membership totalling 697. Every undergraduate automatically becomes a member of the Society when he pays a compulsory fee on the day of registration. As a bonafide member of the Society, students are able to choose by ballot the man or men they regard as capable of shouldering the Executive burdens.

The Executive, according to the Constitution, is composed of the President, First and Second Vice-Presidents, Secretary and Treasurer, co-operating with these officers are the four year presidents and the Chairman of eight federated and affiliated Clubs, the President of the Athletic Association and the Director of Publications.

The President, who is a fourth year man, justly speaking, forms the nucleus of the Executive. He not only presides over the open and closed meetings of the Society but he also represents the Faculty on the Students' Administrative Council of the University. The First Vice-President also a fourth year man is in reality the President's silent partner. He has the tremendous task of making the major social functions appeal to six hundred and ninety-six near critics. The Second Vice-President is a third year man who supervises the Supply Department. While the Treasurer keeps a watchful and anxious eye on all money that enters the store's cash register.

The four year executives function under the guiding hand of their respective president. These executives are largely responsible for the success of "School Nite" and also for their various class parties, etc.

The undergraduate technical activities are controlled by the Society who hold open meetings at which men prominent in the Engineering world deliver inspiring and beneficial addresses. The respective technical clubs also receive much practical advice from engineers who speak at the various smokers, dinners, etc., which are presided over by the Club Chairmen.

There are two Society publications, the annual "Transactions and Year Book" which is published at the close of each academic year and "Toike Oike." The "Toike Oike" supplies us with our lighter reading matter. It is published every Now and Then. Doubtless, if it were printed more often it would have editors all over the world turning green with envy.

The Athletic activities of the "Science" undergraduates are governed by the President of the Athletic Association, who works in conjunction with the Engineering Society Executive and the Athletic Association Executive. It is through the untiring work of this association that "School" is so ably represented in every department of interfaculty sport.

In conclusion it may be said that the Engineering Society through its conscientious endeavours has risen from a mediocre society to the lofty position it now holds among the undergraduate executives of to-day, and if the Old "School Spirit" continues as it has in the past a most successful future can be prophesied for the Society and all those connected with it.

THE FORESTERS' CLUB
Back Row: Brodie (Grad. Rep.), Hodgins (1st Yr. Rep.), Buell (Sec.), Jackson (Treas.)

The Foresters' Club

THE Foresters' Club was founded in 1909, for the purpose of governing the non-athletic student activities, bringing the students into closer contact with one another and with the staff, and for providing and stimulating interest in practical forestry subjects, apart from the regular course. Prominent foresters or authorities on subjects relating to forestry, speak at the semi-monthly meetings, and usually, following their address, discuss any questions the members bring up. In this way students come in contact with men in different branches of forestry, and gain a knowledge of many present-day problems and methods.

The club includes several social events in its annual programme. In the Fall the traditional "Stunt Night" takes place, characterized by the "Bush Clothes" worn, or rather the "Worn Bush Clothes" on the members. The At-Home, held in Hart House during the winter term, was also very successful. The banquet this year was considered one of the best if not the best, the Club has given. Mr. Raphail now a very prominent and much respected American Forester, delivered the main address entitled, "What is a Forest." Sir Robert Falconer, Mr. Bickissteath, and Mr. Caverhill, Chief Forester of British Columbia, also gave short addresses.

The Forestry Athletic Association, controls athletics entered into by the students. Teams are entered in practically all interfaculty sports, and considering the size of the Faculty, have made very creditable showings.

The graduates, and particularly the graduating year, wish the Club every success, and retain pleasant memories of the Club, and associations formed during their active membership.

Students' Parliament of the Faculty of Dentistry

EVERY undergraduate member of the Faculty of Dentistry is a member of the student's parliament. The organization has, as its primary object, the affording of a recognized means of communication between the staff of the Faculty of Dentistry, the governing Bodies in the University of Toronto, and the students of the Faculty. It is the medium through which the undergraduates of the Faculty are represented in social, athletic, literary and other activities.

The cabinet is the executive body of the student's parliament. It is composed of the president and thirteen members representing the various undergraduate activities, including the president of each of the five years. It is the student governing body and its constitution, actions, and powers affecting the dental students are similar to that of the Student's Administrative Council of the University as a whole.

In view of the decreased registration the following changes in constitution were advocated by the cabinet and passed by the student's parliament. "That the president of the third year automatically become president of S.C.A."

"That the offices of president of Dramatics and president of Royal Dental Society be combined, and the office to be known as President of Dramatics and Royal Dental Society."

These changes in constitution make the cabinet a body of twelve including the president. The change becomes effective in 1931.

Knox College Undergraduates' Association

A SPLENDID progress has been the characteristic of the activities of the K. C. U. A. during the year and the achievements of Knox men and teams in all lines of endeavour have been such as might easily make larger faculties and colleges proud. At the fortnightly meetings of the Association the increase in attendance and in the number participating in debate has been most gratifying to the Executive; while a fine spirit of good fellowship and co-operation raises hope for continued success in the future.

The social events of the year have been well-attended. A departure from the programme of last year was attempted and carried out with marked success by the Programme and Worship Committee with the revival of the Christmas dinner for all men in residence, at the conclusion of which Knox colours were presented to those who had earned them during the year.

In the sphere of athletics Knox had a very successful year. The rugby team and the hockey team both acquitted themselves ably and lived up to the standard of other years. The soccer team, for which Knox is deservedly noted, was stronger than ever and for the second year in succession won the Arts Faculty Cup, emblematic of the Interfaculty Championship.

Residence life has been far from uneventful and the spirit of keen, though friendly, rivalry among the Houses has done much to foster an unswerving loyalty to the traditions of the College and the K.C.U.A.

Emmanuel College Students' Society

ALTHOUGH, still the youngest College on the campus, Emmanuel has taken active part in campus life. She has representatives on the S.C.A., the winning inter-faculty Rugby team, and also on Inter-collegiate Soccer and Rugger teams.

Within our own College, various committees have been no less active. The Missionary Committee has provided many city churches with men describing the life and conditions of church Missions at the growing points of our Canadian North and West. Of particular interest was the work of the men who served the outlying fringes of civilization around the Red Lake gold mines. This Committee has also begun to raise Scholarship money for an Oriental Student in the College.

Speakers of note, communion services, pulpit supply and family worship is looked after by the Worship Committee.

Last year's hockey and basketball teams reached the semi-finals and this year's material gives even better signs of promise. Several Emmanuel men played on the Victoria Soccer team which reached the finals. Nor should the enthusiasts be forgotten, who played Rugby before breakfast in inter-house games.

Nor has the social aspect of the members been neglected, organized under the Residence committee, musicales, parties and other functions have been held throughout the year. Work on the new buildings is well under way and even with completion we cannot anticipate a richer College fellowship than now exists.

Wycliffe Literary Society

THE Wycliffe College Literary Society resumed its activities at the beginning of the Fall term with the Reverend A. Gordon Channen, B.A., in the President's chair. Under his able leadership and supported by the hearty co-operation of all members, the Society reports that another year has been eventful and successful.

The Programme which has been interesting throughout, has done much to provide opportunity for debating from the floor of the House. The Party System continued to be a mighty factor in this regard and the government of this year has established the record of being upheld in every resolution.

The inter-divisional debates which always command attention have been of particular interest due to the novel subjects selected for discussion and whether the Taylor Trophy will be awarded to Fourth or First Division is still a matter of grave doubt.

One event which might justly be termed "epoch-making, epoch-marking" was the visit of St. Hilda's Literary Society to our College. "Resolved that this House Favours the Admission of Women to Holy Orders"—the subject on that occasion, did much to foster the debating spirit and to provide an enjoyable evening.

Even with all the enthusiasm shown for literary and business meetings, the theological and social programme was in no way neglected.

"High Teas" were somewhat conspicuous by their absence but many "Open Meetings" were held when we were at home to our friends. In the Fall, a hiking party was indulged in and for the first time in four years King Winter favoured us with a sleigh ride. But the greatest was reserved till the last and as a crowning achievement, the Musical Evening will long be remembered by all present.

A year of success and venture—the records of which will not only be preserved in the minute book of the Society, but also in the "Cap and Gown", a publication in three issues, appearing this year for the first time under the auspices of the "Lit."

HOUSEHOLD SCIENCE—WOMEN'S UNDERGRADUATE ASSOCIATION EXECUTIVE

The Household Science Undergraduate Association

THE Household Science Undergraduate Association makes its first appearance this year. Until this time the students were registered in the various colleges and shared in their organizations but with increased registration, this was found to be impossible. Therefore the members of the Faculty of Household Science organized the Household Science Undergraduate Association with the purpose of bringing the undergraduate members of the Faculty of Household Science together in one body so that their opinions might be presented to the Women's Student's Administrative Council. The secondary purpose was to sponsor and maintain Faculty of Household Science athletics.

Our Honorary President is Dr. C. C. Benson. The other offices include President, Vice-President, Secretary-Treasurer, Junior Students' Administrative Council Representative and four year Representatives. The President is also member of the Women's S.A.C. in the capacity of Senior Representative of the Faculty of Household Science.

The Vice-President is in full charge of athletics. The curators and managers of teams are responsible to her. This year we have made a very creditable showing—teams have been entered in basketball, hockey and swimming, and in swimming have been particularly outstanding.

Distinctive crests have been evolved and "H.Sc." 's were awarded to members of the teams.

We feel that the year has been a very successful one, and look forward to the expansion of our organization in all its activities.

O.V.C. Students' Administrative Council

SELF government by the students of the Ontario Veterinary College has established itself in the form of the Students' Administrative Council. This elected body of students represents the students of the various years which make up our college and is responsible for the consideration and protection of the student body as well as the enforcing of certain measures of discipline.

During the academic year of 1929-30 the Students' Administrative Council has been called upon to find ways and means more in keeping with the good name of the student body, whereby students entering upon their freshman year may be given a fitting reception. Initiations, as such, have been outlawed and a committee of control composed of the Students' Administrative Council and the Sophomore President has been made responsible for the form of all receptions given to freshmen.

Under the direction of the Students' Administrative Council the student body has identified itself with the official campus papers of the O.A.C. and by this means have established a much closer feeling of friendliness and sportsmanship.

These few brief sketches of the functions of the Students' Administrative Council can but give a very inadequate picture of the many and varied ways in which it is called upon to serve the students of the College and to act as a mediator between them and the authorities.

The Council is composed of eleven members, three from the Senior Class, three from the Junior, three from the Sophomore, and two from the Freshman. Its officers constitute a president, who is a senior representative, a vice-president, secretary and treasurer.

Intercollegiate Athletics

THOUGH not a banner year, 1929-30 has produced many keen competitions; and where championships went to opposing teams, the strong opposition, staged by every Blue team, was ever present. New records have been hung up, new championships gained, and old ones lost.

The Senior Rugby series was the best for many years. The schedule was augmented this year by the advent of Western to manhood. Though they made only a fair showing; they did well, and will do better next year. We congratulate them and wish them great success in the future. The race was really between Queen's and Varsity, however. In the never-to-be-forgotten Thanksgiving game, Sinclair's return in the last three seconds of play, tied the score, tied the series, and forced a tie, broken in Kingston the following Saturday. The Gaels showed their superiority in their own ground, and took the game; and the championship. Without diminishing the glory of the victors, it must be said that the sudden passing of their beloved coach, Jimmie Douglas, greatly lessened the Blue team's chances. His death is mourned by all. He was a true sportsman and friend, who sought to place his Alma Mater's name above the rest in every branch of sport.

The Orphans had a bad season. Losing several overtime battles, they completely ignored the great and lasting honour which the 1928-29 team won for themselves.

The Intermediates had a successful season and the Juniors won the Intercollegiate Championship for the fifth time in the last six years.

The Senior Track team furnished a championship by defeating McGill by three points. Most of the scorers will be back next year, which may keep the cup here too. The Intermediates were powerless against Western and returned minus the title.

The Harriers won easily, Dr. J. W. Graham setting new records for the course. The race took place at Montreal, over the Mountain course.

The Boxing, Wrestling and Fencing team were unsuccessful against the unusually strong McGill team. Their West Point trip was cancelled this year.

The exams took the soul right out of Basketball this year; but it is hoped that the point-getters will make the grade this year and restore the trophies to their rightful place. It is planned to have some American teams come here next winter as well as having the usual Christmas tour.

Such is luck! The Senior Hockey team lost the Intercollegiate title; and then won the Senior O.H.A. title against much greater odds. Hamilton, however, spoiled our hopes for the Allan Cup. The Intermediates lost their groups in the O.H.A., but defeated Western and Bishop's College to win both divisions of the Intermediate Intercollegiate. The Juniors were runners-up for the O.H.A. Championship.

Degrees badly decimated the diving and swimming team; but they put up a stern fight against McGill and lost nobly. The Water Polo team placed third in the newly formed international league; and won the intercollegiate.

The Golf team again won the Intercollegiate title as did the tennis team. Walter Martin is the individual team's champion. Colours are now awarded members of the Golf team; its recognition, hence, seems almost complete.

The English Rugby team came out on the short end again; but they are improving.

The Soccer team won the Intercollegiate title—the first time in seven years. May that length of time again elapse before it leaves its new home.

The Lacrosse team made another brilliant tour of the Republic to the South.

Rowing came into its own again this year. An annual race is now definitely arranged between Varsity and McGill and may well become a classic. Mr. E. W. Beatty is doing his best to make it a real success. The new Brule lake course should give an added impetus to Varsity rowing.

VARSITY vs. McGILL

VARSITY vs. QUEENS

University of Toronto Rugby Club

Senior Intercollegiate

THE football programme of 1929 is now a thing of the past but will long linger in memory as having produced one of the most impressive and satisfactory seasons in years although the team was not successful in winning the championship

Looking back on the past season and considering the remarkable achievements of a team which, labouring under almost insurmountable difficulties, emerged with flying colours and who like all Varsity teams of the past, was glorious in defeat.

The loss of their Coach, Jimmie Douglas, during the training season, was a blow severe enough to wreck the championship aspirations of the Big Blue team who had come to consider Jimmie as one of themselves. Labouring under this handicap they carried on to force Queen's into a tie for intercollegiate honours.

Members of the University can never adequately express their gratitude to Ronnie McPherson who stepped into the breach and accepted the responsibilities when the outlook was the blackest. The result of his work is history. To win five out of seven played games including what has become to be regarded as The Big Game—the Queen's invasion—in which Jack Sinclair's thrilling last second return of Carter's punt spelt victory for the Blue and White and forced an extra game to decide the intercollegiate championship, was a creditable achievement.

George Morgan, serving his fourth year, captained the team and was always an outstanding figure while one of the strong points of the team was the weight and hard tackling of the insides, Kelly and Bean. Varsity was fortunate in having the best snap-back in the Intercollegiate on the team, John Keith, captain for 1930. His work during the past few years, has been an important factor in the team's success. At middle, the veteran, Little, played his usual heady game, ably assisted by a promising freshman, Dewar.

The Intercollegiate team has always been strong in the outside wing positions. This year's quartet of Gooderham, Stewart, Subosits and Elson, was no exception. The plunging of Harrison and "Jimmie" Sinclair, the team's smashing flying wings, gained many yards. Rudell, too, was a capable performer until injured. A new recruit was Johnny Fitzpatrick of well-known fleetness, who displayed his ability in football on several occasions. Don Woods, at quarter, played a heady game throughout the season, and little need be said about the scintillating work of the half-backs, Sinclair, Bell, Davey, Hallam and MacFadyen. If the truth must be known little "Albie Booth" Bell outshone his famous American cousin.

Despite the loss through graduation, of many of its best players, George Morgan, Wally Bean, Herbie Little, Joe Kelley, Johnny Stewart and Lloyd Hallam, Varsity still has a fine nucleus for the 1930 team. With the experience of several years Intercollegiate football, Sinclair and Bell will be at their best. Three of last year's outsides will be back next Fall, Galloway, Long and White will be able to follow in the footsteps of Bean and Kelly, Keith will be playing his usual stellar game. Add to this array of stars, Jimmy Sinclair, Charlie Rudell, Dewar and Wood and it may be seen readily that the team of 1930 should once more be a contending factor in next year's Intercollegiate football.

Varsity Orphans

ALTHO' this year's Orphans did not duplicate the wonderful record of their predecessors, they proved to be an excellent training-ground for developing many of the younger players and giving them a fine chance for making a berth on future senior teams.

The "stand-out" of the season was probably Richardson, a graduate from junior ranks, who bore the brunt of the back-field work. His booting and his broken field running were a little short of senior pace and he should prove a good prospect for back-field position with the seniors. Richardson lost a fine running mate when Charlie Baillie, last year's Captain, was injured early in the season and was unable to get into effective form before the close. Ralph Adams, the Hamilton "Flash," and Glen Smith, a good all round half, "carried on" in Charlie's absence.

Dickson, who started the season at outside wing, developed into a drop-kicker of note and a shifty plunger from flying wing, his ability to wiggle through, pulling the Orphans out of many a tough hole.

Bennett, tho' small, was on a par with Dickson in both drop-kicking and plunging.

Traynor and Levinsky formed a smart pair of secondary defence men, ably backed by Britnell from the pivot position.

Baker and Knowles formed one of the outstanding pairs of outsides in the O.R.F.U.

The plunging of Henderson, Scott and the two Stringers, Alex and Randall, particularly the latter, featured many games.

The work of McCulloch, captain of the team, was particularly outstanding this season.

Earl Douglas, a new-comer to the coaching ranks of Varsity, proved very popular with the boys, in spite of the tough job he had in hand. Owing to the general unsettledness in the senior ranks due to Jimmy Douglas' unfortunate illness and tragic death, the weeding-out process was late in getting started and the season was opened under a handicap.

The first game, played in Windsor against the new-comers to the league, was rather ragged. The Orphans took an early lead, but in the second half played defensive rugby and gave Windsor a lead, which they were able to hold by the wonderful booting of Stirling.

In the second game, Sarnia vs. Varsity, Sarnia rushed across a surprise "touch" in the first five minutes and, through the rest of the game, their superior weight on the wing-line and experience in the back-field snowed the Orphans under.

At Hamilton, Varsity again took an early lead, but the Cubs tied it up, forcing overtime and eventually winning out 8-6.

The following week showed a repeat; this time the Cubs only winning by the odd point in 17, after ten minutes overtime.

The Windsor at Varsity game provided the Orphans feature of the year, where the home team conquered with a 23-12 score. The Basketball tactics adopted in the Mic-Macs back-field, showed a laudable effort to open up the game a la Canadian rules, but proved very helpful to the Orphans.

The final game played in Sarnia, altho' having no bearing on the league, was one of the best efforts of the Orphans, who held the champions to a 6-0 score.

Throughout the season, the team showed a tendency to play good rugby for the first half and in the second half endeavour to sit on a lead. The danger of this policy is shown in the score column.

The ranks should be thinned by graduation to senior company this Fall, and until then no one can forecast the team's possibilities.

VARSITY—QUEEN'S

The Intermediate Rugby Team, 1929-30

THERE was an unusually large turn-out for the Intermediate rugby squad this Fall. Interest was keen; and, contrary to expectation, did not show any sign of waning. Right up until the last whistle blew, and the uniforms were hung up for the winter, a lively spirit prevailed. The reason for the active interest was the new schedule of games and trips. The Intermediate team was no longer a group of left-overs, playing around on the back campus hoping that a call would come from the stadium, but was rather a going concern with its own hopes and aspirations.

When the season opened, Coach "Red" Chaffe, from the great horde of recruits, succeeded in bringing up what looked like, at least, the makings of a team. This team preformed so well in their first taste of action, that in the locker-room discussion afterwards, the boys began to hint at a possible championship. However, the usual call from the seniors came and several men were sent up right in the thick of the schedule, with the result that no time was left to reorganize the team before the schedule was completed. Nevertheless, much valuable experience was gained by the players, and in comparison with previous years, the past season can go on record as having been—"most satisfactory."

1929 Junior Intercollegiate Champions

ONCE more the Junior Intercollegiate Championship is held by Varsity. This was achieved by the combined efforts of every player and the good coaching of Lou Carrol. The Juniors were a snappy aggregation who featured in every game with tricky running, hard tackling and line plunging. They played a brand of football befitting any senior team. The forward pass was used successfully but did not appear to be very popular judging from the number of times it was used.

This was Lou Carrol's first year as an Intercollegiate coach. It is sufficient to say that the results obtained justify his appointment and future success.

With such promising material as was seen in the 1929 Juniors there should be little worry regarding the abode of the 1930 Senior Intercollegiate Championship. They all should find a senior birth next fall.

U. of T. Track Club, 1929-30

IT WAS in a spirit of anticipation that the University of Toronto Track Team entered the season last fall and fortunately we were not to be disappointed. Some of our most consistent point winners had graduated, but some of the younger men were showing excellent promise and perhaps more than all else we were looking forward to the intercollegiate meet which was to be held at the Varsity Stadium.

In the interfaculty meet, S.P.S. with her abundance of good material, completely outclassed the field to win the cup with a total of 66 points—U.C. with 26, and Meds. with 23, were the far-removed second and third point winners.

After the intercollegiate meet had got away to a rather bad start Jermyn won the half-mile in a very spectacular fashion. From then on things were more interesting. Ralph Adams, who had won both the hundred and two-twenty national championships of Canada, at Banff—during the summer—lived up to all expectations and again won both these events in two races that will long be remembered. Johnny Fitzpatrick doffed his rugby togs for the occasion and placed second for Toronto in the 220 yard run. Bill Finlayson, captain of the team, gave us a third in the hundred, having just previously come a close second in the Discus throw.

One good thing after another seemed to come along, when Wally Graham and Don Smith placed first and second in the mile run, which looked more like a sprint than a run.

The three-mile race saw Walters and Williams in splendid style, completely outclass all others.

Ed. Peaker, our expert weight man, did his share by winning the Shot-Put and placing third in the Javelin throw.

Then there was the relay race—it was to be run at half-time of the rugby game. The meet had ended with Toronto 3 points ahead of McGill. It had been a close affair and the relay meant much—a slipped baton and all would be lost.

What a relay race. Don Smith, Gordie Jermyn, Malcom Smith and Walter Connolly, they all ran their heads off and when all was over—Toronto had won; but it was close. Toronto 65, McGill 60, Queens, 10.

Intermediate Track

AFTER a lengthy period of faithful and intensive training which culminated in the Interfaculty Track Meet, 19 men were chosen to represent the University of Toronto at the Annual Intermediate Intercollegiate Track Meet. This year the Meet was held at the University of Western Ontario, London.

Just before the meet Fred Lee was elected captain of the team as the popular choice to lead Charlie Morrison's athletes.

The meet was composed of Western, O.A.C., U. of T., and McMaster and the points when compiled at the end of the meet were distributed in that order.

It was unfortunate that Varsity did not follow in the footsteps of the Senior Team in winning the championship but Western proved too strong.

Our sprinters, Engel, Davison, and Ryan made a very creditable showing but were unable to catch the Western flyer, Rivers. However Standish led the way home in the quarter while Thompson outdistanced everyone else in the javelin throw.

To be beaten by a team such as represented Western this year was by no means a disgrace. Each member of the team appreciated the time and energy devoted to them by the genial coach, Charlie Morrison.

University of Toronto Harrier Club

THE HARRIER CLUB, consisting of men who are keen on longer distances and cross country running, has had an excellent season. A coach, Dr. J. W. Graham, was obtained and throughout the Fall, white-clad enthusiasts were to be seen startling the respectability of Bedford Road. The effort to interest men of perhaps lesser ability who loved the sport, brought out a number of new and active Harriers.

The Interfaculty Race was held on Monday, October 21st with a field of 88, over the course back of Upper Canada College. O. A. C. won the Brotherton Cup, with U. C., Meds., and Trinity next. J. W. Graham, Meds., placed first in 31′ 48″ and Banks, O.A.C. was second.

The Intercollegiate Harrier Race over the Mountain course at Montreal on November 2nd, was won by Varsity with a low of 21, from McGill 25, R.M.C. 42 and Queen's 57. The University of Toronto team placed: J. W. Graham 1; D. G. Smith 5; H. W. Williams 7; F. S. Lee 8; E. D. Howey 9. Graham's time of 31′47 3/5″ establishes a record for the course. J. T. Wilson, President of the C.I.H.U. and J. A. Walters, Manager, accompanied the team.

The Club was further represented on November 2nd in the International Silver Relay Race held at C.N.E. Park. The team, picked on their interfaculty showing, was made up by: N. W. Moore, R. N. Walsh, W. Bradley, J. P. Blewitt, J. H. Craig, D. G. McKerracher, J. H. Merritt, R. L. Seaborn, R. Hayward, J. Crashaw. The race was won by the Hamilton Olympic Athletic Club and our team placed sixth.

University of Toronto Lacrosse Club

The Lacrosse Club made an early start and Coach Dr. W. A. Dafoe, (Manager) "El" Smart, and (Captain) "Bal" Sparks, were able to begin work with a larger squad than usual. The team was rounded out and met the senior team of the Toronto Lacrosse club twice on the back campus. A victory of 5-4 and a defeat of 2-1 proved "Varsity's" calibre and gave the team a chance to put the finishing touches to their play.

The team left Toronto on May 24th for their American trip and the next day were defeated 8-5 by the Montclair club of Montclair, N.Y. The following Tuesday however, Varsity, rested and eager, again met the Montclair team strengthened by two stars, and won 11-2. On May 30th and June 1st, the annual feud with the Crescent Athletic Club of New York was renewed on their Brooklyn field. The Crescents, stronger than previous years are considered the flower of American teams and defeated Toronto 3-2 and 3-0. The large crowds cheered impartially for their own club and the game Toronto team; and ruled the games the most exciting and fastest of their season.

The Lacrosse Club feels that it has again upheld and added to the honour and renown of the Blue and White. They are looking forward to the 1930 season and, although six of the team have graduated, there is enough new material anxious to be given an opportunity to show their ability to fill the gaps. Therefore with Dr. Dafoe at the helm the University is assured of again being well represented.

Water Polo

THE past season will without doubt, rank for many years as outstanding in the annals of the Club. The feature of the year's activities being the formation of the International Water Polo League including the University of Toronto, the New York Athletic Club, the Penn Athletic Club, and the Montreal Amateur Athletic Club. Participation in this series, the City League and the usual Inter-collegiate series extended the training season from early October to the eighth of March upon which date a 6-6 game with McGill gave Varsity the title with a score on the round of 11-9. In the International League the Club took third place being forced from second position by M.A.A.A. who won the deciding game by two goals. After a number of closely contested encounters the City League title passed to West-end Y., a team that earlier in the season had offered little opposition. That the final game in this series was played early in the Christmas Vacation when the high scorer of the Varsity team was absent, may to some extent, account for this defeat. On the whole, while not productive of championships other than the Inter-collegiate, the season in water polo has been extremely successful in so much that it has increased the popularity of the sport both in the University and among the other Aquatic clubs of the province.

The team, under the captaincy of G. H. Spence, was made up of the following men, who, it is expected, will be available for next year's team: W. J. Ayers, H. C. Graham, E. G. Sinclair, G. H. Glass, B. L. Alexander, C. D. Shortt, F. N. Blackwell, E. N. Ward, J. I. Maconachie, M. F. Lorenzen (Hon. Coach).

Swimming Team

MR. A. S. Goss, the swimming coach, was faced by the exceedingly difficult task of literally creating a team, most of the great scorers of the Club having been lost through graduation. Assisted by Mr. A. L. Cochrane, who coached the diving squad, he succeeded in forming a team that forced McGill to use their phenomenal swimmer M. Bourne, in no less than five events,including the relay. This, plus a more experienced team, gave McGill the title by a wide margin. As all the Varsity swimmers will be returning in the Autumn, next year's prospects look for a return of the title to Varsity. Mr. E. G. Sinclair maintained his usual record by winning the only first for the team, at the same time setting a new mark for the 200 yard breast stroke event.

The team, under the captaincy of T. L. Marsh, was composed of the following men:

E. G. Sinclair, G. H. Glass, J. G. Pindon, E. O. Withrow, B. H Neoith, J. C. Towers, E. M. Henderson, P. H. Tedman, S. A. Smith, A. S. Goss (Hon. Swimming Coach), A. L. Cochrane (Hon. Diving Coach), R. H. Dyble (Pres.), R. A. Armstrong (Vice.-Pres), T. L. Mash (Sec.).

Senior Hockey

TO equal or even surpass the splendid record of the team of 1928-29 was the task confronting Coach John C. "Red" Porter at the beginning of the present hockey season. All members of last year's team, with one exception, were present when the first practise was called last November. Murray Snyder, the popular net guardian was the only absentee, he having graduated. His old position was finally awarded to Doc Ames, a former team-mate of Doug Marshall and Freddy Murray when all three played for Newmarket Juniors, Jack LeBarr, who hails from Peterboro shares the duties with Doc and both have performed very creditably. Ex-captain "Red" Whitehead and Bruce Paul teamed up on the defence once more with Harley Stewart, and the new Captain, Jimmy McMullen in front. When the latter three need a rest their positions are ably filled by Murray, Marshall, and Bell. "Skin" Dewar from Upper Canada makes a fine relief defence man who packs a wicked shot and knows how to wear down the opponents with his body.

The usual Christmas vacation trip resulted in 3 wins and 1 loss. The last game was dropped to Yale in New York. Defeats were administered to Dartmouth and Harvard, the crimson suffering two, one in New York, and one in Boston.

In the S. P. A. Series Rangers, a new team defeated the blues to enter the final with Nationals.

The O. H. A. schedule was a double schedule this year, each of the 4 teams having 12 games. However early in the season Rangers dropped out leaving Queens, Nationals, and Varsity to fight it out. After a sensational struggle in which the result of every game was a toss-up, Nationals and Varsity emerged to fight it out, Varsity winning by one point on the round.

The Intercollegiate series of two games with McGill resulted in an upset giving the red and white its first championship in some 17 years. In Toronto the game ended in a 2-2 tie while in Montreal McGill shut out the blue 1-0.

The season this year has been productive of hockey more of the calibre of former Senior O. H. A. hockey and the results are highly satisfactory.

INTERMEDIATE HOCKEY

Intermediate Hockey

THE Intermediate Hockey team was grouped with McMaster University, Markham, and Bradford in the Intermediate O.H.A. series. Though they played brilliant hockey, they were outclassed and outpointed by Bradford and lost the group. The playing of Moran, Leah and Levinsky was a feature of all the games.

The Intercollegiate series turned out more satisfactorily. Varsity won every game except one which was a tie game with Western. O.A.C., McMaster, Western, and Varsity, formed the group; and playing a fine brand of hockey, the Blue team came out in front to win the Western group title. Western was the real contender and forced a third game in the play-offs to break a tie. The game was played in Kitchener where Varsity defeated the Londoners by a very decisive score.

The Varsity sextette then took Bishop's College, Ottawa, into camp to win the Eastern group championship. This gave them the Intermediate Intercollegiate championship. Levinsky was a strong factor in the success of the team, and was moved up to the Seniors for the play-offs with Hamilton. He should be a valuable man next year. Smith and Clute added much to the result, turning in many a scorer. Mr. Dewar and Mr. Jackman deserve credit for the fine showing of the team.

If these men are not moved up to the Senior ranks, they should make a strong team next year. With their increased experience they should be serious contenders in the O.H.A. next fall and winter.

JUNIOR HOCKEY

Junior Hockey

UNDER the able tuition of Coach Frank Sullivan the Varsity Juniors, emerging from a slump of several years duration, managed to arrive at the championship of the local Big Four group, and continued to the O.H.A. semi-final before being eliminated by the West Toronto team, Junior O.H.A. champions.

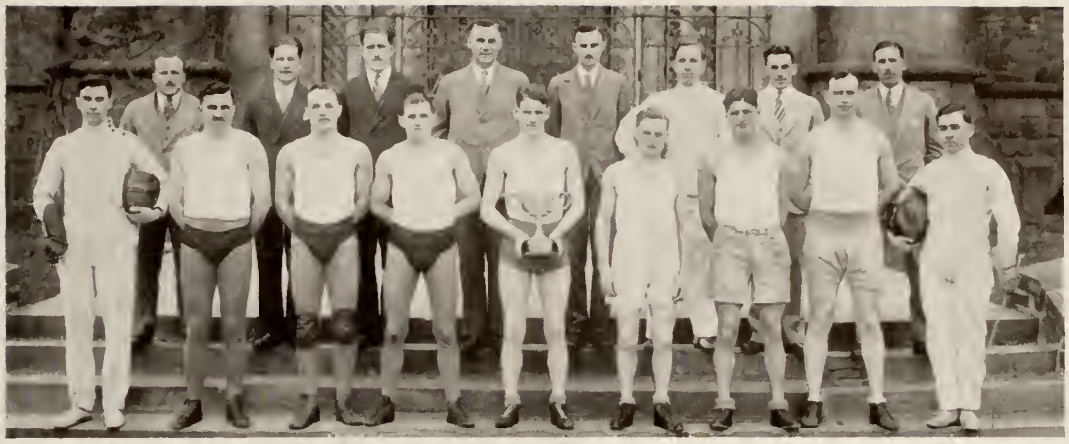

After an inauspicious start in the S.P.A. series, when the Blues were defeated by Marlboroughs in the second round, the team settled down to some real hockey. The second division of the series found Williamson back on the defence and Smillie moved up on the forward line, a manoeuvre that supplied the necessary scoring punch on the front line. The group finals were attained and found Varsity and Parkdale fighting for Big Four honours.

The Play-downs saw Varsity making an excursion to Owen Sound. Poor ice conditions made it impossible for either team to open up, although Hendry and Brant skated miles only to have their efforts discounted by the slow ice surface, or the remarkably fine work of the opposing goalie. The second game found the teams deadlocked at 1-1, but on local ice the Toronto sextette had a sufficient advantage to spot the Greys one goal and arrive at the third round.

Again the locals played their first game away from home on soft ice, this time their opponents being Parry Sound. Again, however, the Juniors managed to dispose of the rivals.

That brought the Juniors to their concluding episode, the West Toronto series. Hunnisett and Geddes were both "on", effectively keeping the score down.

In the second period of the final game a deluge of four goals eliminated Varsity although with Funston in the nets for the final period, West Toronto could not score, while a Varsity four man forward line countered twice before the period finished. All in all, it has been a very satisfactory year.

Boxing, Wrestling, and Fencing Team

THE two events of great interest to Varsity boxers, wrestlers and fencers, are the interfaculty and intercollegiate assaults. The Davison Cup, emblematic of the interfaculty honours once more became the property of O.A.C. This, the remotest of faculties, always has a strong team of boxers and wrestlers and regularly takes the lead from the smaller faculties here at home.

The intercollegiate joust was of increased interest since it took place in Hart House. The McGill and Queen's teams were exceptionally good; but Varsity managed to record a win and take the championship for the sixth consecutive year. The strongest opposition was among the boxers and wrestlers and gave Culnan, Hilliard, Fell and Kickham, ample opportunity to display their prowess. The foil handlers did very well to win the individual and team championships.

The team is strong and as only a few will be lost by graduation. Next year's team, augmented by the usual newcomers, should make a strong showing when they invade McGill next year. Dr. Black and Mr. C. W. Walters are to be congratulated on the results they have achieved.

THE two assaults featuring the activities of the Boxing, Wrestling and Fencing team for the year 1929-30, were the Senior Interfaculty assault at Hart House, in which The Ontario College of Agriculture regularly competes and the Intercollegiate assault held at McGill.

In the Senior Interfaculty assault, O.A.C. again won the trophy of Interfaculty Championship, the Davison Cup. Their usual strong wrestling squad was supplemented by a squad of aggressive boxers.

For the past six years the Varsity Boxing, Wrestling and Fencing team has held the Intercollegiate Championship, but this year it went to McGill. The Assault was one of the most keenly contested in years and featured many excellent encounters. The work of Coach Chillcott showed itself in the wrestling squad which captured most of the points awarded the team. In the heavy boxing Tyson lost to Wilson, one of the best men McGill has ever produced. Eaton was victorious over McGill in his usual fashion. Twice his terrific right connected and the bout was over. Walsh was defeated in the 135 lb. division by Peever of Queen's, in the best bout of the Assault. Teddy Fell displayed the cleverest boxing of the meet and added two more K.O.'s to his list.

The wrestlers were not so successful, only scoring in two divisions, Smith in the 158 lb. class and Bannister in the 123 lb. class. D'Arcy Hilliard again won the championship in the 118 lb. division by his aggressive tactics and great knowledge of the game.

The fencing trio, Dunlap, Lee and Clarke, made a fine showing but McGill's exceptionally good fencers took the championship.

Varsity Tennis

THE year 1929-30 might possibly be termed one of varied success so far as tennis at the University of Toronto is concerned. The inter-faculty tournament was held on the courts of the Toronto Lawn Tennis Club during the first week of October and although the entry was not as large as usual still some excellent matches resulted. In the semi-finals Hartley Holmes was defeated by Walter Martin and W. S. Noyes was successful over Arthur Balfour. Both matches were closely contested and produced very fine tennis. Martin and Noyes combined to win the doubles quite handily.

The annual Inter-Collegiate tournament was also held in Toronto this year and was played on the Toronto Club Courts, October 18-21. The Varsity team was considerably weakened over the previous year through the loss of Don Gunn but on the other hand it was greatly aided by young Hartley Holmes one of the most promising of Canada's younger players. Arthur Balfour was not eligible to compete because he lost his year through illness and his place was taken by Forrest Musgrave of Nova Scotia. The Blue and White had held the title for the past two years and chances appeared bright for them to retain it. McGill led by Charlie Leslie were very strong; and annexed 13 points to Varsity's 12 to take the championship back to Montreal.

Walter Martin retained the singles Championship defeating C. Leslie of McGill in one of the finest matches played in Toronto during the year. Noyes and Holmes put up an excellent display in the singles, Noyes losing to Perry of McGill; and Holmes being defeated by Lalonde of the University of Montreal.

In the doubles Leslie and Hilts defeated Martin and Noyes in three straight sets. The meet was most successful and tennis hopes are high in Toronto for another year.

Intercollegiate Champions

INTERCOLLEGIATE GOLF made another step forward this year. For the first time Queen's University sent a team to compete in the play for the Ruttan Cup. The field was composed of three teams of six players each. An added feature this year was the play for the Webster Cup donated by Senator Webster of Montreal for the Individual Golf Champion.

For the third consecutive year Varsity won the Ruttan Cup and the Intercollegiate Golf Championship. The final count after single and foursome matches had been played was as follows; Varsity 15, McGill 9, Queen's 1.

The Individual Championship resulted in a tie between Jack Nash and George Boeckh both of Varsity. In the play-off Nash was the victor and became the first holder of the Webster Cup.

Due to the fact that the play is now between the three Universities the Intercollegiate Union has recognized golf as an Intercollegiate sport and the Athletic Board has granted a second T to the winner and third T's to the members of the team. This is the first step in the ladder and through the improving interest and calibre of play we hope Golf will force its way to the top of the ladder and finally become an Intercollegiate sport of major importance. The fact that the Athletic Board has granted colours is certainly encouraging to the members of the Golfing Fraternity.

At the close of this year's competition a meeting was held between representatives of each of the three teams. It was decided to hold the games next year at Montreal and to try to secure an entry from Western, R.M.C. or University of Montreal. The greater the scope of the Union the more strength it will have and the titles thus won will be of greater value.

British Rugby

ALTHOUGH the Intercollegiate title was lost to McGill for the third consecutive time, this year has been one of singular importance to the University of Toronto British Rugby Club, for early in the year the club was elected a member of the Ontario British Rugby Union.

The first game with the old rivals—The Toronto Rugby Club—was a 6-3 victory. The following week Varsity defeated Woodstock City Club 34-3. Against the British Public Schools Club, the Blue won 11-6 with hard fighting.

Despite these victories, bad luck was dogging the team, in each game different men were forced out with injuries, so that Varsity took the field against McGill, in the first game of the Intercollegiate Series, with a patch-work team. Varsity were strong individually, but lacked team-work. Coach Burton to whom much credit is due worked the team hard, patching up injuries and "doping out" a better combination. Hence when the Blues met the Red and White in Montreal they were a new team which greatly reduced McGill's lead.

In the next game Varsity sprang the surprise of the season by taking the previously undefeated Toronto Welsh into camp, scoring ten to the Welshmen's three.

The season ended with the Varsity Seniors at the head of the Provincial League, having been undefeated in all their scheduled matches.

The Second Rugger Team, composed largely of Freshmen, although it won none of its games, yet made an excellent showing.

Varsity will be entered in the spring schedule of the O.B.R.U.

University of Toronto Basketball Club

THE race for the Senior Canadian Intercollegiate Basketball Championship was dominated this year by the Queen's team, led by "Ike" Sutton of football fame. The Tricolour finished undisputed leaders with six wins and no losses, McGill, second; Varsity, third; and the welcome newcomers from London last. While there was no question of Queen's superiority the race was an interesting one, practically all the games being very close.

The Blue Men shortened their American trip this season, engaging only three of their United States rivals, University of Buffalo, Rochester University, and Colgate University. These were three of the strongest college quintets in the East and although Varsity lost the verdict on all three occasions they were by no means disgraced.

An effort is being made to bring some of the leading American teams to Toronto for next season. The University of Rochester has definitely accepted our invitation and it is expected that others will follow. This should arouse interest in the team and ensure much larger attendances at the games next winter.

Six of Varsity's championship aggregation of last year were lost to intercollegiate competition for this season. It was necessary to build up a new team from the young material at hand and while the team showed great possibilities, lack of experience was the deciding factor in the year's showing. Captain O'Leary played at centre the entire six Intercollegiate games without relief and contributed in no small measure to the success which the team enjoyed. Roy Currie, back for post-graduate work, and serving his sixth year on the Varsity squad, was the steadying influence which held many of the games in control. Sakler and Riggs filled the vacant forward positions. Gord Cock and Don Wood formed the alternate list for the guard position with Hal Collins and Sniderman substituting for the forward positions. Roy Currie is the only man graduating and with the addition of Wilf Newman who will be returning to his regular berth at centre, they should loom as a serious threat in next season's race.

The team was very capably managed by T. W. Mayor, and coached by J. E. McCutcheon.

INTERMEDIATE BASKETBALL
Back Row: Newman (Coach), Douglas, Hallinan, Spooner (Manager)
Front Row: Riley, Carr, Calderone (Capt.), Sobel, Humphrey
Absent: Buchanan, Graham

Intermediate Basketball

THE Blue Intermediate team suffered misfortunes at the first of the season which were too strong to allow a comeback. Their two games against McMaster, the champions, came at the first of the season before they had struck their stride. The team suffered the loss of Hal Collins who was moved to the seniors and as soon as reorganization was completed they struck a stride which almost carried them to the championship. They finished tied for second with O.A.C. and because of the point ruling were officially second, having outscored O.A.C. in the two game series.

Carr and Buchanan looked after the regular forward position, Douglas, the pivot position, while Captain Calderone and Riley were the guards. The work of these five men together with that of Sobel, stood out during the year. Sobel was invaluable to his team, alternating at all five positions. Graham, Hallinan, Humphrey and Subosits formed the reserve list. Wilf Newman coached and H. J. Spooner managed the team.

Junior Basketball

The Varsity Juniors were again entered in the Toronto and District series and advanced to the city finals after winning the Toronto City league and eliminating the winners of the Church league in the semi-finals. The Elizabeth playground team proved too powerful in the finals; and Varsity's representatives suffered their only two defeats of the season. The team felt the loss of Gerry Coles a regular guard who was forced to withdraw at the beginning of the semi-final series because of illness. Douglas and Kay were the two regular forwards, Grant jumped centre, while Captain Newman and Willis combined on the defence. Magwood, Enlow, Ford, McDonnell and Millar made up the reserve strength. The team was managed by Geo. Robson and coached by J. E. McCutcheon.

Rowing

THE year 1930 marks a new era in University Rowing. For the past 30 years Varsity oarsmen have been forced to row under the worst possible conditions—wind and rough water. The Brule lake course which will be completed in the late fall of this year will relegate such difficulties to a venerable past. Moreover rowing will be less hard and more enjoyable—that is, from a fastidious point of view. But it has done something else, it has made the dream of all University oarsmen a reality—an annual McGill—Varsity boat race.

One year ago no one suspected the possibilities of a mere proposal for a new course. Early in January indoor training began. To the onlooker an oarsman's life is not attractive. 15 minutes of every day, 7 months in the year he toils ceaselessly over an inanimate piece of wood. But how many desires, how many failures and successes, how many fighting determinations are visible thro' that tacitly expressive "piece of wood". The days slip by. In the spring and summer the 150's and heavier practised with unbroken regularity. Both crews entered regattas in Montreal and Toronto and on their return resumed their regular training. By this time the important races were only one month away. Every day showed a change in the attitude of each man. Laughter is less frequent but more blatant nerves are beginning to appear. Dispositions become less even. Fearfully we go to St. Catharines. Race days are a nightmare. The 150's were first. They won their heat against St. Kitts with something to spare. Next day they raced McGill. Leading Montreal to the ½ mile mark but dropping behind at the ¾. From then on they fought their way closer and closer in a determined effort to down the red crew, but were nosed out by a few feet.

Once more the nightmare is a reality when varsity seniors race McGill for the intercollegiate title. The McGill boat is out first. Automatically we give the red and white a cheer. Dazedly we launch our own boat, fiddle with our foot-boards and paddle to the starting line. Except for the voice of the starter and the barking of the two coxswains there is a deadly silence. The report of the starting gun jars the stillness. The two shells almost leap over the water. The coxswains snap out the first 37 strokes driving their men forward. McGill started at 40 strokes to the minute and Varsity 38. At the end of the 1st quarter Varsity led by one length and had steadied down to about 34, while McGill ticked off 36. McGill sprinted but failed to shorten the Varsity lead. At the half mile mark U. of T. had open water, McGill gave another ten—with little effect. The blue crew was rowing very evenly with a longer but slower stroke than their opponents. At the mile mark Montreal made a courageous effort to catch Toronto, coming up almost a length, but the greater weight of the blues was too much to overcome. Varsity crossed the finish a length ahead.

T. R. Loudon

So eager were both clubs to make this race the ultimate aspiration of their oarsmen that Prof. T. R. Loudon and the McGill authorities have planned definitely that it shall be held the first week in October after college resumes.

And the advent of the Brule Lake undertaking makes an alternate arrangement possible. Calm water, so necessary for a successful boat race, is now a certainty. Moreover the new club house, to be built on that course, will be all that the most fastidious could desire.

At the same time McGill operations have been equally successful. E. W. Beatty has agreed to stop all shipping activity on the Lachine canal during race day, and proposes to run a train along the bank to accommodate the spectators.

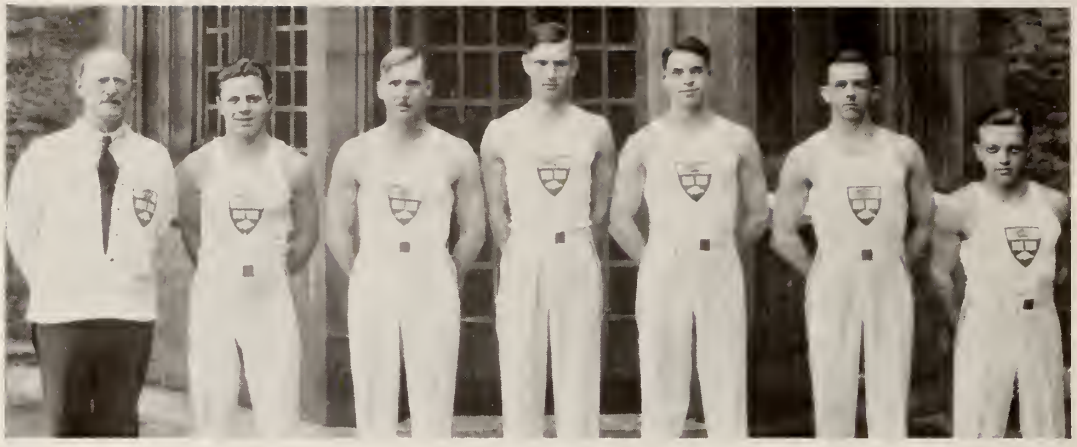

Both crews will not lack training for the event. Starting in January they are practising daily, with the exception of a short summer break, till October 4.

During this period they will enter the Eastern Canada regatta at Ottawa, Dominion Day Regatta here and the British Empire games in Hamilton. The increasing numbers in this year's turnout and the serious intent of their efforts augurs well for the future. There should be little doubt that in a few years this race will carry as much prestige as either the Oxford-Cambridge or Yale-Harvard struggles.

The Gymnastic Club

THE Gymnastic Club has been very active during the past year. There has been an increase in interest in the sport and the practices have been very well attended, especially by the men in the lower years. Mr. D. M. Barton has given much of his time in coaching the members of the that club, and this has not been wasted is evident in the great improvement in form and ability shown by so many of the regulars. The Interfaculty Competition, which was again won by School of Science, had one of the largest entries in many years.

The Intercollegiate Team travelled to Montreal this year, where they were unsuccessful in an attempt to regain possession of the Caron Cup, which is emblematic of the Intercollegiate Championship. W. G. Heslop, captain of the team, has been on the team every year since he came to the University, and is graduating this year with a fine record in Intercollegiate and Interfaculty sport. E. G. Heslop is also graduating, with two years on the Team to his credit. R. M. Wilkinson has also been on the Team for two years, but has three more years at Varsity, in which to win his "T". Three valuable members of last years team were missed when the team was chosen. Jack Williamson, who has graduated, Don Gunn who was obliged to retire because of academic work, and Darrell Cambell who was on the B.W. & F. Team, were all experienced men and their absence was deeply regretted. However with so many taking an interest in the sport, there should be no shortage of good material for the Intercollegiate teams of the next few years.

Intercollegiate Soccer

FOR the first time since 1923 the Intercollegiate Soccer title rests at Varsity. In the two-game series with McGill and R.M.C., Varsity won both their games.

The first encounter on Oct. 26th was played at Kingston. Varsity faced a fast, aggressive, and well conditioned team of cadets, but setting a fast pace from the beginning the more experienced Toronto eleven were returned winners by a 5-3 score.

The second game, played on the home campus against McGill, also resulted in a win for Varsity, the score being 5-2. Throughout the game the scintillating team play of the home team featured, and the issue was never in doubt.

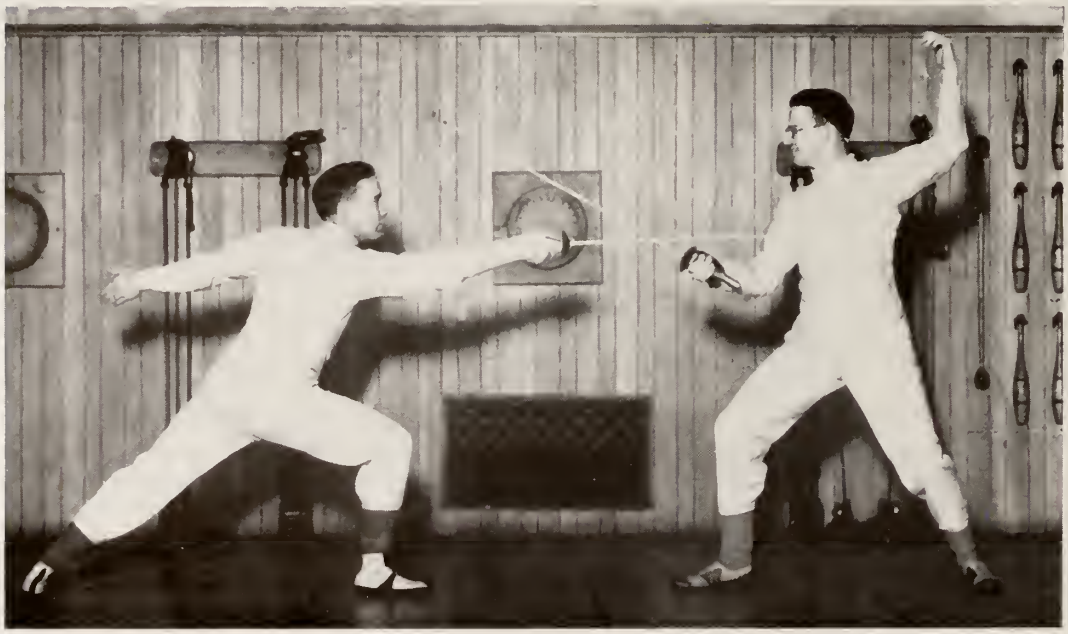

For some years, followers of soccer at Varsity have had little to enthuse about, but, through the untiring energy of several, good results have been brought about, of these men, Downing, Jackson, and King, deserve special mention. The securing, of Mr. Art Halliwell as coach, was fortunate and his two years work has moulded the team into a smooth working machine.

Next season's team faces the loss, by graduation of Cox, Downing and Jackson, but no doubt newcommers will help to uphold the honours so creditably won this year.

Doug. Davidson a popular member of this years team has been named as manager for next season.

MEN'S INTERFACULTY ATHLETICS

University College "T" Holders

W. F. G. ADAMS
"Bill" was injured early in the season in rugby with Orphans. This is his second year with them. He will be back next year and a lot is expected of him.

R. A. ARMSTRONG
"Bob" received his colours last year as a member of the championship Water Polo team. He was a strong player again this year, and managed the U.C. Swimmers.

W. T. AYRES
"Bill" was also on this years Water Polo team and made a good showing. He is welcomed as a "T" holder.

W. A. BEAN
"Wally" is the outstanding athlete of the college this year. He has had four years senior rugby for the University and this year capped them all. He is a member of the University Directorate for the second time being vice-President this year. In his spare time he used to play hockey.

L. H. CARROLL
"Lou" has been out of Athletics through stress of academic work. This next year he will be back as president of the Rugby club and since he has played three years senior rugby much is expected.

R. W. FINLAYSON
"Bill" has a line of recommendations too long to repeat. It seems he runs and plays rugby. Anyone not knowing Bill the Varsity track captain has not been following sport.

E. M. HENDERSON
"Mel" completed his second year with the Orphans this year. Just to show his versatility he won the Durnan Trophy thus bringing honour to himself and his College. Thanks Mel.

J. D. HARRISON
"Johnny" needs no introduction to anyone. He has spent three years plunging line for Varsity and is one of the most popular members of the team. He should be right in there next year.

G. H. JERMYN
"Gord" was a member of the record breaking relay team in his first year and has been living up to those indications ever since. This year he has been outstanding in Indoor work as well.

J. T. JACKSON
Was not in active competition this year. He is athletic director of the College and on the University Directorate.

J. R. McMULLEN
"Jimmy" has been a highlight in hockey—mainly. He is senior captain this year and sometimes known as "The Fade-Away". Quite a man James, and his presence will be missed next year.

W. M. MARTIN
Walter is the tennis star. In a few years his friends expect him to be the best in Canada, He is ranked 5th at present. He is intercollegiate champion for the second time, a member of the University directorate and in off moments, president of basketball.

E. BRUCE PAUL
"The hockey man." Last year he played a brilliant game but completely outshone even himself this year. The College is hoping he will be back next year.

H. RIGGS
"Eppa" is a newcomer as a "T" holder. He played a good game for the Senior basketball team and more is expected of him next year.

D. J. SMITH
"Don" got his colours this year as member of the winning relay track team. He is quite a figure around the University in running circles.

G. H. SPENCE
"George" was captain of the water polo squad this year after playing a brilliant game for the team last year. He has arranged to spend another year with the boys and ought to show up in the International League next year.

T. J. WRIGHT
"Tony" had his first colours in his first year as a member of the famous Orphans. He was a regular with them again this year and with one more year should do well.

MEDICAL 'T' HOLDERS

Back Row: Sparrow, Goldenberg, Sackler, Baillie, Long, Sparks, Keith

First "T" in Medicine

MEDICAL "T" holders have comprised over one-third the total number of "T" holders in the University, for a number of years. The undergraduates of the 1929-30 academic year represent Medicine in every sport in which the University takes part. Not only in the senior years, but among the junior one finds many "T" holders, even the lowly freshman class boasts its first "T", man. The prospect of Medicine in athletics seems to be brighter than ever, despite the fact that the class of '26 boasted nineteen "T" holders on graduation. This may be an instigation to the years to follow, an endeavour worth striving to attain, not only for classes of the immediate future who are here today but for classes of the far distant future, the class of '60.

SENIOR T. HOLDERS IN DENTISTRY
GALSKY, HILLIARD, KNOWLES, MORGAN, HALDORSON, STEWART

Senior "T" Holders

YEAR by year Dentistry contributes her share of men toward Intercollegiate Athletic competition and in this respect the academic year of 1929-30 has been no exception.

Galsky—Earned his colours as a member of B. W. F. team in 1927, few are superior to this little big man in the mat game.

Hilliard—Another "mighty atom" whose ring generalship is well known. On several occasions he has won points in Intercollegiate competition and represented the Blue and White at West Point in 1927 and 1928.

Knowles—Rose to fame by being picked all Canadian outside wing in 1928. One of the main reasons for the success of the Miracle Team—O. R. F. U. Champions 1928.

Morgan—Captain of football and President of Athletics in 1929-30 terminated 5 years of athletic service.

Haldorson—Besides pulling an oar in the Varsity boat, Haldorson found time to become President of U. of T. Rowing club.

Stewart—Earned his "T" as a member of Intercollegiate Rugby Champions, 1926—Since that time has starred at outside wing on the O.R.F.U. Champs in 1928 and Big Blue Team of 1929.

S. P. S. "T" HOLDERS
Back Row: Gregg, Elson, Roome, Fitzpatrick, Peaker
Middle Row: Ward, Downing, Newman, Adams, Connolly, Rochester, Smith

School "T" Holders

THE loyalty of "School Men" to their Alma Mater is ably expressed by the above group. No less than eighteen are actual possessors of this coveted award, while several others have a "T" either pending or have only the "Frosh" exams. to hurdle.

To begin with, Earl Davey, Lloyd Hallam, Johnny Fitzpatrick, Mel Elson and Jack White contributed in no small measure to the success of the Intercollegiate Rugby team. "Dinny" Traynor, one of the most consistent and outstanding flying wings of the past few seasons, was compelled to confine his efforts to the Orphans due to adverse academic results last spring.

And then the track team rejoiced in the services of several School stalwarts. Ralph Adams and Johnny Fitzpatrick, those internationally known gentlemen of the cinder path who have taught time to fly, led the brigade. They were closely followed and ably supported by Connolly, Peaker and Smith.

Jim Downing, Matt Ward, and Gregg were some of the reasons why the soccer team was so successful, while Reg. Roome, as captain of the Rugger, saw that the game from "over 'ome" prospered.

With the B.W. and F. we have Bert Tyson holding down the berth as heavyweight boxer and supported by Fell and Eaton, two Frosh who have won but not received their "T's."

Gummy Rochester, Wilf Newman and Jerry Wood were out of competition for the past season due to academic and parental objections.

With such an aggregation as above and loyal spirit as exists there is little fear that "School" will not always present the usual delegation of athletes to the University.

"M" Holders

THE "M" is awarded to undergraduates in Medicine in recognition of athletic ability of the highest order. It is granted to outstanding members of interfaculty teams and men who have been consistent performers on the same team for several years and also to men who have shown ability in several sports.

In order to encourage men to turn out for intercollegiate teams the "M" is also granted to holders of the first "T." Others who have not been so fortunate as to gain the major athletic award, but who have nevertheless upheld the honour of Medicine in intercollegiate sports are granted the privilege of wearing the Medical Letter.

Front Row Mason, Wyckoff, Graham, Wood, Dowds, Crerar, Edmonds

S.P.S. Athletic Association—"S" Holders

THE "S" of School is awarded by the Athletic Association to athletes who have been outstanding in Interfaculty athletics. A man is automatically awarded his color by winning a race in the Swimming tournament, Indoor or Outdoor Track or a class in the Senior Assault. Members of Championship teams are all awarded this honor.

Intercollegiate men are looked after in that on winning a First "T" entitles that man to apply for an "S". Also, for men in their third or fourth year, and who haven't been fortunate to make a championship team, provision is made by according a color if a man has played on the same team three years.

Knox College Soccer Team

THE Purple and White soccer team again demonstrated its superiority in inter-faculty sport by capturing the Arts Faculty Cup for the second successive year.

Using as a nucleus the remaining members of the 1927 team which reached the finals in that year, Knox has built up a formidable machine. In playing through two seasons without a defeat, winning decisive victories in both finals, the team has acquired an enviable reputation. The playing of Doug. Davidson at centre, Rowland and Bill Jack on the defence and of Grant Irving in goal, has featured throughout. This year's team was greatly strengthened by the addition of Beaton and West.

In the scheduled group games Meds. provided the keenest opposition, Victoria were eliminated in the semi-finals by scores of 2-1 and 4-1, whilst S.P.S. were downing O.A.C. by a one goal margin. In the finals the smart Engineering eleven were vanquished to the tune of 4-2 and 2-1, thus giving Knox the championship.

School Rowing

"EASY ALL" The race is over and again the interfaculty rowing championship comes to the Little Red School House.

Shortly after the opening of the fall term, all the oarsmen and rowing enthusiasts from Science began training on the famous machines in Hart House. The extremely large turn out was most encouraging, and undoubtedly points to a prosperous future not only for Science but also for University crews.

After a brief training period on the machines, two School crews began more strenuous training in the boats

Science crews really had an advantage over the other crews in as much that they always had to practice in the dark—hence little was known of their ability.

The School "Freshman" boat won their preliminary heat and qualified for the finals by drawing a bye. This added spirit to both crews and meant that the Senior boat had to do or die.

The Senior boat, after rowing a very ragged race, nosed out the eight from Trinity and then defeated U. C. to enter the finals against the S. P. S. Freshman crew.

The Senior crew again pushed their bow over the finishing line first to win the honors. But the Freshman crew forced them to make the best time of the day and deserve much credit.

Sr. Meds. Basketball Team

SR. MEDS. this season floored the strongest team that has ever represented the faculty: They are optimistic Sifton Cup aspirants.

The members of the team are all well seasoned players. In 1926-27 the same team, with the exception of one player, won the Interfaculty Championship Cup. With the exception of two men, all members of the team have played on Varsity teams.

At press time Sr. Meds are entering the semi-finals and are considered the team to beat. They have played six games to date; winning all, and scoring four times as many points as their opponents.

The team's strength lies in its sturdy defence, and the fast combination plays of the forwards. No team has limited Sr. Meds score to less than twenty-five points a game.

Overconfidence has been the nemesis of more than one good team. Sr. Meds. as a rule, chronic sufferers of this tragic disease, do not believe themselves unbeatable and by consistent practise have developed superb condition.

One critic's opinion of the issue this year would be too dangerous to venture, but to voice the prediction of many capable followers of the pastime; Hail the strongest team that ever won the Sifton Cup, Sr. Meds.

S. P. S. Track Team

THE Rowell Cup, emblematic of Interfaculty Outdoor Track and Field championship, comes again to the Old Red School House where it has remained almost continuously since it was donated in memory of Lanky Rowell, our champion hurdler of a few years ago.

School fielded the most evenly balanced team in years, having captured points in every event with the exception of the one mile run. It might also be said that every entry, with one exception, contributed points towards the victory. Ed Peaker, interfaculty and intercollegiate individual champion, won two first and second, while Ralph Adams of Canada's 1928 Olympic Team garnered ten points in winning the 100 and 220 yard dashes. However, every man on the team starred in giving his best towards his faculty and its victory.

It was particularly pleasing to see the freshmen come into the limelight again this year, and with another such influx next fall we should be successful in defending the cup during 1930-1931.

INTERFACULTY CHAMPIONS, 1928-29 — JENNINGS CUP DEFENDERS

BILL DEWAR '30, Captain and Left Wing. Besides displaying clever stickhandling Bill always injected a lot of team play into the game. Bill is coaching the Varsity Intermediate and also the Ladies Senior Intercollegiate teams this year.

GUY MAHAFFY '30, Centre. Playing the centre-ice position "Irish" stood out with his fine checking and his ability to break away fast with his wings. Mahaffy is again leading his Dental team on to success this year.

LES CONN '31, Right Wing. Acting as Right Wing sniper, "Bus" displayed beautiful skating and tied Mahaffy's scoring record. Conn is playing for Varsity II this year.

DOUG. WALDER '30, Left Defense. "Tiny" showed great blocking ability and carried the puck well into enemy territory. Doug. is President of Hockey this year and is again playing on the Dental team.

GERALD WHITTAKER '29, Right Defence. "Jerry" teamed up with Walden to form an excellent rearguard and was a real scoring threat besides.

MCCARTNEY '33, Goal. Although a freshman "Mac" stepped right out and showed real class between the posts. "Shutout" McCartney had only 3 goals scored against him all season. "Mac" is playing for Varsity II this year.

HERRON '31, ARMSTRONG '31, ADAMS '33 and MUTCHMOR '30, formed the substitute strength of the team and real strength it is.

Rusty Herron and Jack Mutchmor are again playing for the Dent team this year.

"Goldie" Joynt '30, proved an efficient manager and this year is again coaching the team on to success.

Not only did the team go through last year's hockey season without a loss but at the time of writing the Dental team has again won their group for this year and are standing waiting for the semi-final play-offs. So Dents are worthy holders and defenders of the famed Jennings Cup.

Medical Athletic Association

THE executive of the Medical Athletic Association is comprised of the president, vice-president and secretary-treasurer from sixth, fifth and fourth years respectively and year representatives from each of the junior years. In addition, the office of quartermaster is filled by appointment from the executive. The administration of all inter-year and interfaculty athletics is in charge of the executive, as also is the granting of the Medical Athletic letter. It is the aim of the Medical Athletic Association to foster the participation of as many students as possible in athletics. The object, first and foremost, is to develop the individual physically and to give him helpful recreation. To this purpose the executive has attempted to revive the inter-year competitions which have played so great a part formerly in introducing new men to sports. In addition, this brings to light new stars and helps to improve the old ones so that the position of the Medical teams in the interfaculty series is maintained. This year, as of old, Medicine has contributed her full share of men to the intercollegiate teams, and it is the object of the executive to encourage men as much as possible to give their best efforts first and foremost to the University teams.

The second place earned by the Medical Track Team in the closely contested Interfaculty meet, was a particularly good showing in view of the number of losses of stars during the last year.

After a very close fight for group honours the Senior Rugby Team was nosed out of the Mulock Cup Series by Senior School. The Juniors fared better and reached the semi-finals, before being eliminated.

The Medical crew were unfortunate in losing their first start but expect to redeem themselves next year.

In both basketball and hockey Meds. have two of the strongest teams that have ever represented the faculty, and it is hoped that at least one of them will bring a championship to Medicine. In both these sports the personnel of the intercollegiate teams is more than well represented by undergraduates of the Medical Faculty.

S. P. S. Athletic Activity

"AS it was in the beginning, is now, and, we hope, ever shall be . . . . " School men are still to the fore in Athletics. At the time of writing the "Engineers" have garnered three championships and were semi-finalists in an equal number.

Early in the season, while the Rugby and Soccer teams were starting out on the long grind that was to lead them to the semi-finals and finals in their respective sports, two School crews "rowed it out" on the Bay for the championship.

The Outdoor Track Team registered. Then the two Water Polo teams swam, ducked, and shot their way to the finals to battle for the coveted Eckhardt trophy.

Our next field of endeavor was the Junior Assault-at-Arms, where Trinity grappled and punched their way to a well earned victory over School.

S. P. S. will continue the season ably represented in the various athletics of the University and, it is hoped, with equal success.

Trinity College A.A.A.

TRINITY College Amateur Athletic Association is composed of all students of Trinity College. The executive consisting of ten undergraduates and one member of the staff of the College administers the affairs of the Association, controls its finances, appoints managers and arranges exhibition games. The Athletic Dinner and the Christmas Dancè are sponsored by the Association through its executive.

This year we had an athletic field for the first time since we have removed from Queen Street West. The generosity of two distinguished graduates Mr. Gerald Larkin and Mr. G. B. Strathy turned our dream of an athletic field into a reality.

We had high hopes for our rugby team this year but Victoria, winners of the Mulock Cup, put us out of the running after an eventful game. Five of our members played as regulars on the Senior Intercollegiate Rugby team. Members of the Association also played on the "Orphans", the Intermediate and Junior Intercollegiate Rugby teams. The Association was also represented on the Intercollegiate Golf, Tennis and Track Teams.

The Association announced its entry into boxing, wrestling and fencing by winning The Junior Assault and making a very creditable showing in The Senior Assault. A rowing team was entered this year for the first time and exceeded our expectations.

Inter-year competitions are held in every line of sport and are very keenly contested. Cups are awarded to the winners in each series. The steeplechase, which is held on the afternoon before the Athletic Dinner, is an event in which every Trinity man takes part.

The Trinity College Amateur Athletic Association regards with satisfaction the accomplishments of the past year and looks forward to even greater achievements in the future.

The President of Athletics is elected from this group by the various presidents and he acts as chairman. He is also the representative of the Athletic Association on the Students' Cabinet to which he is absolutely responsible for athletic expenditures.

WYCLIFFE COLLEGE ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION EXECUTIVE, 1929-30

Wycliffe College Athletic Union

THE administration of athletics in Wycliffe College is left entirely in the hands of an executive appointed annually. The Executive this year have tried to stimulate an interest in sport among those who have never taken any part hitherto.

This has been accomplished in some measure by the introduction of Inter-Flat competition in Baseball, Hockey and Basket-Ball for the Isherwood Trophy. Our Field-Day was one of the most interesting in years. Jack Crawshaw took most of the honours, his total number of points amounting to fifteen. Trevor Jones battled hard with Ron. Morissey for second but had to content himself with third place.

The cross-country run had a record number of entrants this year and the competition was very keen. Jack Crawshaw took first place, Leonard Geary second, and Cyril Hughes third.

To the date of going to press, we have enjoyed one of the most successful years in athletics and the prospects look bright for the remainder of the term.

Victoria College Athletic Union

THIS year Mr. A. S. H. (Skipper) Hill turned in his second Mulock Cup Team. Two years ago superior teamwork and condition placed Vic's rugby squad at the top. This year history repeated itself. In our own group there was no serious threat; rather the interest was to see what would be the limit of the final score. In the semi-finals with S.P.S., the play was uncertain at half-time, but in the last half condition and spirit began to tell, and Vic came out on top of a 3-1 score. The final game with Pharmacy proved an easier victory. Pretty team-work, and a unique "fake" play which was worked successfully several times, produced a final score of 10-5 in favour of the Scarlet and Gold.

Individual "stars" were not responsible for the championship, but rather the consistent practice, unselfish team-work, and fighting spirit of the men who turned out. With such material "Skip" developed a strong heavy line, speedy sure-tackling wings, and a fast tricky back-field. The team has the unique record of not having the ball carried behind its own line once during the season.

The basketball team was not so fortunate. Lack of practice and condition kept them from winning the group; for there was not lacking material.

Water-Polo was more successful than usual, playing well and running up into the semi-finals.

The joint Emanuel-Victoria Soccer team failed to line up to its reputation of several years ago. It was defeated in the play-offs by Knox—the cup winners.

Junior School Water Polo

JUNIOR Water Polo this year aroused even a keener interest than formerly due to the appearance of a Trinity team in the league. This necessitated a long schedule, but on the other hand gave a greater period for improvement. Certainly at the end of the junior group schedule, the victorious Junior School team was working like the proverbial piece of well-oiled machinery. Victoria provided the most strenuous opposition and a play off with them was necessary before the group honors came to School.

Much of the incentive for such hard playing came from the fact that the Seniors had won their group, thus assuring School the ownership of the trophy.

The best sport of the season was during the two championship games against the Seniors. Some of the best polo ever played at Hart House was witnessed at these games. The first game ended in a tie but the second proved the slight superiority of the Juniors.

All of last year's freshman players were back, but the success of the team was due a great deal to the perseverance of the several freshmen who quickly learned the tricks of the game. Things look bright for next year's Seniors, and who knows but what the Juniors might duplicate this year's accomplishments if—well it's up to the coming freshmen.

Forestry Basketball Team

FORESTRY'S Interfaculty Basketball team made history this year by winning the Sifton Cup, emblematic of the Interfaculty championship. Forestry won their group easily, scoring decisive victories over Knox and Emmanuel.

In the semi-final rounds both Sr. S.P.S. and Sr. Meds. were defeated by Forestry. These teams were popular favorites to meet in the finals but Forestry eliminated each in two straight games.

In the finals Forestry were particularly brilliant. They out-classed Sr. U.C. and out-scored them 65-38 in two games.

A summary of the team's work this season shows that—of nine games they won eight and lost one by a narrow margin:—they scored 196 points against 126 of their opponents.

The outstanding characteristics of the team were their combination and their spirit.

Being a very small faculty—the smallest participating in interfaculty sports—the number of good players is limited. For this reason players and supporters work up more enthusiasm than in larger faculties.

Great credit is due to all members of the team and in particular "Nim" Grainger for his work as captain and Fred Wiley as coach. Both men worked hard all season playing brilliantly and supplying most of the aggressiveness.

This is the first time Forestry has won an interfaculty championship, and the faculty are rightfully proud of the team's success.

S. P. S. Association Football Club

THE Club has always taken a very active part in this phase of interfaculty competition, and this year, being no exception, found them in the finals for the Arts Cup.

The team was grouped with McMaster, Wycliffe and U. C. and won all six group games, scoring a total of 17 goals against 3, while in the semi-finals O. A. C. were defeated 2-1 and forced to a tie of 1-1 in their return game. In the finals, however, after two very closely contested games, School lost to Knox by 4-2 and 2-1 respectively, thus losing a golden opportunity to regain the interfaculty trophy after a lapse of long years.

Owing to graduation, six of the regular players will be absent next fall, and in wishing them the best of luck for the future, we can assure them that School will carry on.

The personnel of the 1929-30 team is as follows:—

Goal.....N. F. Helper.
Backs.....G. McCracken, G. T. Gregg.
Halves.....B. Graham, N. C. McKay, G. N. Franklin.
Forwards.....M. Ward, G. C. McDonald, G. A. Downing, A. R. Wallberg, G. S. Riddell.

Junior School Baseball Team

THE Spalding Cup, emblematic of the interfaculty indoor baseball championship was again won by S.P.S. last year. Most of the credit for the championship goes to Earl Davey—the pitcher supreme, not forgetting his diminutive backstop, Irv. Chalmers, and incidentally the captain of the team.

Chalmers with the very able assistance of Davey led the team through the regular group games without a single run being scored against the team, Jr. U.C. and Jr. Meds. being the victims. The semi-finals against Knox came almost as easy. Knox had the honour of scoring the first run of the season against the champions to be. In the end, however, they were beaten and we waited triumphantly for the finals against O.A.C. In the first game against the Aggies we found ourselves at the small end of a 1–0 score. We then journeyed up to the lair of the cow-men, and after eleven hectic innings, pulled out with the game and the round, and incidentally the championship.

Davey struck out so many men that the rest of the team hardly had a chance to prove their worth, but when the opportunity did come they were right there with the goods.

At least one of the team has won a name for himself—Frank Hewitt our right short stop is now playing with Toronto Maple Leafs.

Carl Moeser—first base was a tower of strength, and Bill Edmonds at third base contributed his little bit. Tom Carbone at left short stop and Bill Campbell at second completed the infield, and made it practically air tight. Ralph Adams and George Wilson in the field handled anything that happened to get past the infield, and supplied most of the heavy slugging at the plate.

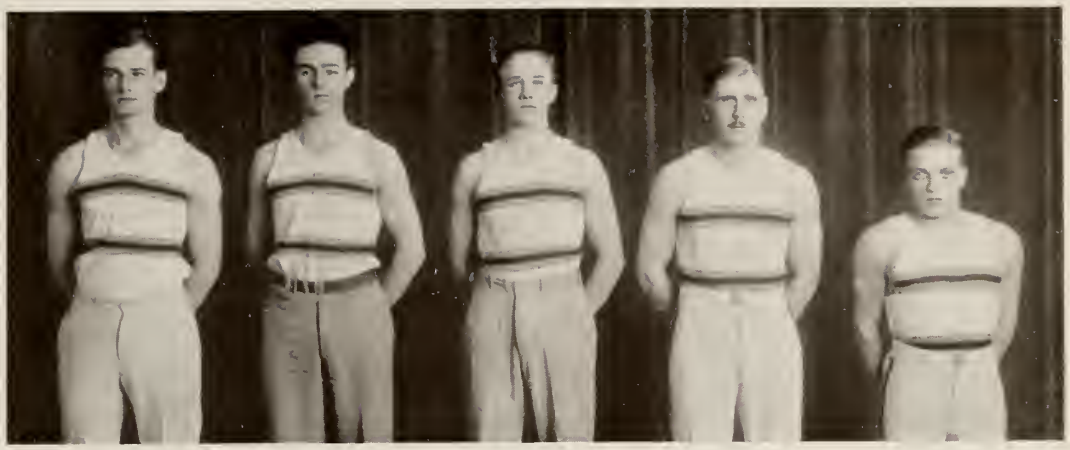

Our substitutes—Karl Warren, Bill Charmichael and Gord Campbell—fitted well into the championship machine.

It was a very successful season and we sincerely hope that next year's team will carry on the good work.

S. P. S. Gymnastics

FOR many years, half of the intercollegiate gymnasts have been School men, and this year was no exception to the rule. W. Heslop was the intercollegiate captain, and Wilkinson and E. Heslop were regular members of the team.

These three formed a very strong interfaculty team and once again brought the Harold A. Wilson trophy to School. This year School had eight men entered in the interfaculty meet, as two teams of three and as individuals. All made a very good showing and the second team of Bryon, Brown and Craig, gave both University College and Trinity a run for their money. This is the first time that any faculty has entered more than one team.

School loses the two Heslop brothers this year, but with so much promising material and under the able leadership of Wilkinson, the prospects for next year are very good.

Junior School Basketball

SCHOOLMEN have always distinguished themselves in every branch of interfaculty sport and have always won their share of championships. Yet, it is 5 years since the Sifton Cup, emblematic of the Interfaculty basketball championship, has rested in the Little Red School House. This year we thought that our junior team might bring back the championship, but such was not the case and we were forced to bow to defeat to senior U.C., in the second round of the semi-finals, after a thrilling game which went 10 minutes overtime.

We started the season on the right foot by winning our group, which was composed of St. Mikes and O.C.E. St. Mike's being the strong opposition.

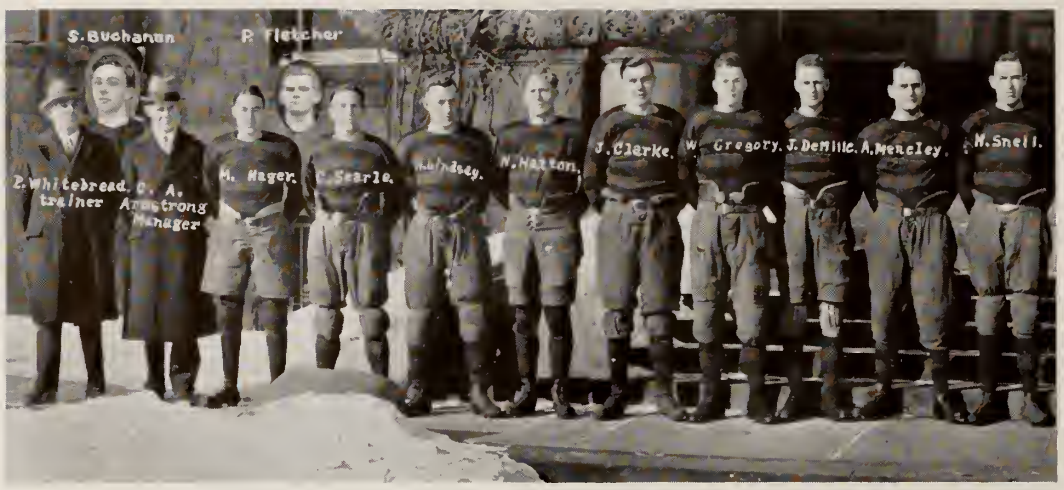

Entering the first round of the semi-finals, we met junior U.C. and defeated them 17-15 in the first game, while the second game ended in a 13-13 tie, giving us the round 30-28.

Our next opponents were senior U.C. whom we defeated in the first game 28-22. In the second game, the Arts men managed to tie up the round and then went ahead to win by 1 point in overtime. The score of the game was 37-30 and on the round 59-58, in favour of senior U.C. Although luck played a very important part in the games another year must roll by before we can again attempt to regain the Interfaculty Basketball Championship. The team was composed of the following.

University College Swimming

THE U. C. Swimming team had a very successful season winning the Fitzgerald Cup, emblematic of the interfaculty swimming championship. The team was mainly made up of new swimmers from the first and second years and they deserve great credit for winning from the other team which was made up of the older and better known swimmers of the University.

U.C. started off by taking both first and second place in the 50 yard free style. Phil Tedman was first with Henderson second. The only other individual first was won by Lloyd Boddy in the back stroke. Smith got third place in this event. Tedman came second in the 100 yard free style and Mel Henderson came third in the diving. Another promising swimmer from U.C. is H. McFee who although he only came third, shows great promise in the breast stroke.

Although U.C. were ahead, the fate of the meet hung in the relay but the U.C. four came through to win that event and clinch the meet—beating S.P.S. the nearest competitor by 8 points.

There were three U.C. men swimming on the intercollegiate team this year. Mel Henderson was swimming in the 50 yard free style in which he came third in the meet with McGill. He also came second in the diving. Phil Tedman got second in the 50 yard free style. Steward Smith was one of Varsity's representatives in the back stroke but failed to score. In view of the fact that most of U.C.'s team are only in first and second years they should bring the swimming championship back to old U.C. again in the next few years.

HONOR TETT, H. Science, '30—Two years defence Intercollegiate basketball. Previously won "Q" at Queen's in same position. A speedy and persistent checker.

Women's Athletics

THE report for 1929-30 on Women's Athletics, both intercollegiate and interfaculty, is one of the most satisfactory in many years. Excellent competition was forthcoming in all sports and the executive work has been carried on most competently by all concerned.

Members of the Athletic Directorate for the year are: Dr. C. C. Benson, President; Mrs. W. A. Kirkwood, Dr. Edith Gordon, Miss I. G. Coventry, Mrs. F. S. Spence, Miss Phyllis Griffiths, and Miss A. E. M. Parkes, Financial-Secretary, as graduate and faculty representatives, and the Misses Miriam Brick, Eleanor Sedgewick, Naomi Slater, Adele Statten and Eleanor Taylor as undergraduates. The Club presidents are: Basketball, Miss Phyllis Ferguson; Hockey, Miss Joyce Muirhead; Baseball, Miss Mary Fitzpatrick; Tennis, Miss Lois Reynolds; Swimming, Miss Marjorie Horwood.

As usual the first sport of the year was tennis, and the inter-faculty tournament, won by St. Hilda's, proved so successful that invitations were extended to Queen's and Western to compete here in an intercollegiate meet. The four interfaculty semi-finalists were chosen to represent Toronto, and with Beatrice Symons, the champion, as first player, and Jessie Gray, Norma Bateman and Lois Reynolds (who defeated Marion Boultbee in a challenge round) winning all their matches, Varsity easily won the tournament on points. The doubles event was won by Queen's.

For the first time in many years, St. Hilda's won the interfaculty Basketball championship in two hard-fought games with U. C. Juniors. The team was splendidly coached by Miss Athol Wesley. The whole series was exceptionally good this year, St. Michael's being real contenders for the first time, and Household Science making their initial entry as a faculty. This brings the number of teams up to ten.

The "Bronze Baby" once more returned to Toronto from the Intercollegiate Meet in London. Toronto defeated Western in the first game, 34–27, and McGill in the finals, 53–41. The team was again excellently coached by Miss Marion Foreward, with Ruth Harrison, St. Hilda's '31, as the most efficient manager. Last year's forward line of Wilma Hazlitt, Captain, Eleanor Sedgewick and Louise Crouch, again starred, while the defence of Frances Dale, Honor Tett and Norma Bateman, contributed much to the victory. The substitutes, Jean Allan, Edith Peake and Sally Ballard, have all done their share, particularly in the City League games, all of which Varsity won.

The Intermediate Basketball team has not yet completed its City League schedule, but it has developed splendidly under the inspiring coaching of Edith Blackwell and the managership of Gwen Murrell-Wright.

For the first time since 1925, the Intercollegiate Hockey team was entered in the City League as well as the Intercollegiate. Minus two star players, Frances Crooks and Helen Hilliard, the team managed to hold Queen's to a scoreless tie in Kingston and defeated them here 5–1 in the best hockey exhibition of the year. They were not so successful in the City League, due to a chapter of accidents and the difficulties of building up a new team. Bill Dewar, Dents. '30, again very kindly acted as coach, and Gladys Martin, St. Hilda's '30, proved a most capable manager, with Adele Statten, U. C. '31, as captain.

Owing to the continued mild weather, the interfaculty hockey finals have not been played. At the time of writing, Victoria I. and St. Hidla's are tied in one group, and Meds. are champions of the other.

Victoria College Women's Athletic Club

THE Victoria College Women's Athletic Club is an organization of which every undergraduate woman of the College is a member. This year a keen interest in sports has been fostered by the club, under the leadership of the president, Eleanor Taylor.

The various teams, though not winning championships, have developed players that are sought after by intercollegiate coaches.

In the Interfaculty Basketball Series, Victoria entered a senior and a junior team, with Kathleen Eaton and Dorothy Bishop as Managers. The seniors were successful until the semi-finals, when they were defeated by U. C. Juniors.

The baseball team showed some very promising players amongst the first year girls. However, in spite of the team's efforts and those of the star captain, Daisy Quance, we did not secure the championship.

The Tennis Tournament, managed by Norma Bateman, aroused much enthusiasm, and the courts were kept occupied while fine weather lasted. Our interfaculty team was defeated in the semi-finals, but gave to the intercollegiate team, two players who won all their sets.

As the hockey games are not yet finished no definite report can be made of our two teams. The senior team, showing a surprising number of first year players, has won two games and lost one, a promising record for the curator, Molly Jarrett.

The Interfaculty Swimming Meet is yet to be held. Dorothy Darling has been getting good results from her team, and the swimmers find the U. T. S. tank a great improvement on the smaller one in Lillian Massey.

The Athletic Club is working under a handicap, and the interest and competition in women's sports merits some improvement in equipment.

St. Hilda's Athletic Association

THE interest in sports has been exceedingly keen among the St. Hildians in the last few years. Last year the Saints won the Inter-faculty Tennis and Hockey and were very close runners up in Basketball and Swimming.

They have started the year 1929-30 very well by retaining the Tennis championship and by winning the Basketball.

Marjorie Winspear captained the Tennis team, Bea Symons won the Individual Championship and also the Intercollegiate Tennis Championship.

The victorious Basketeers were led on to success by their small but exceptionally capable captain, Sally Ballard—In inter-year basketball '32 defeated '31 last year's winners.

Naomi Slater is managing the Hockey Team. Hockey practices have been well attended—Although Intercollegiate Hockey will probably take some of our good players, there is very promising material among the freshies and we hope this season will prove as successful as last.

Bea Symons runner-up for the individual championship last year, is captain of the blue and grey this year. As we have only lost one member of last years team, the prospects are bright for the meet in February.

The Medical Women's Undergraduate Association

THE Medical Women's Undergraduate Association is an organization, composed of all the women students in Medicine, about seventy in number, which meets once a month. These meetings are informal tea parties, with a short speech from some person of interest. This year we have heard Dr. Watson of Glasgow, Dr. Helen McMurchy of Ottawa, Dr. Linell and Principal Hutton. The latter delighted us with his famous paper on "Alice in Wonderland." One of the meetings this spring took the form of the Daffydil Banquet, which was held at the University Women's Club, with the cast of the girl's skit as guests of honour. The most important function is a tea, held at Argyll House, when the undergraduates entertain the staff of the Medical faculty and the women physicians in the city. By this it can be seen that the association is mainly social and is a means of "get together" for the women in the six years in Medicine.

Literary and Debates Committee

UNIVERSITY debating this year was indifferently successful. The Hart House debates for the most part, were among the best in years. Those sponsored by the Literary and Debates Committee were no worse than usual. We think there may be even signs of a revival of interest.

All faculties were well represented on the committee, and serious consideration was given to our present problems. No very extensive plans were undertaken because of a lack of definite interest on the part of any large number of students. Three inter-university debates were held however. A team from McGill were entertained at Hart House, at a debate of comparatively high order in November. In January we entertained the N.F.C.U.S. team representing Central Canada in their national tour. Though the attendance was not large, it was a debate of very high quality, a number speaking from the floor of the House. In February a team represented Toronto at a debate in the McGill Union. In both debates with McGill, the teams were divided, one member speaking on either side of the motion, so the success is not to be judged by the winning. But on the merits of the debates themselves the committee thought the undertakings justified.

A new departure was made this season in having an inter-faculty debate in co-operation with the Women's Inter-faculty Debating Union, at St. Joseph's College. The experiment was considered a success.

A further effort along a more definite literary line was incorporated in several special editions of the Varsity. Substantial prizes were awarded for undergraduate contributions of various kinds. The committee was highly gratified at the interest shown, and suggest that the feature be continued.

Although nothing startling or outstanding has attended our efforts, we feel justified in saying we had a successful year.

Inter-collegiate Debating

ON MONDAY, November 25th, representatives of the Universities of McGill, Queen's, McMaster and Toronto, met in the annual Inter-Collegiate Debate. The motion was, "Resolved that in the opinion of this house the undergraduate derives greater educational value from the extra-curricular activities of university life than from the curricular activities." Miss Anna Bicknell and Miss Mary Winspear upheld the motion against Queen's at Varsity, while Miss Marie Bicknell and Miss Louise McMillan spoke against it at McGill. Both of the Toronto teams were victorious, with the result that the trophy came to Varsity this year.

The first Inter-faculty debate was held at St. Joseph's College. The Motion, which was, "Resolved that the student of a small college contributes more proportionally, to university life than the student of a large college," quite naturally placed representatives of University College and Victoria in opposition to those of Trinity and St. Michael's. University College was represented by Miss Isabel Jordan and St. Michael's by Miss Geraldine Maloney, while Mr. Carson represented Victoria and Mr. Graham, Trinity College.

Two more inter-faculty debates are scheduled for the early part of March, and next year the executive hope to be able to arrange a series of debates with some of the more prominent American colleges.

The Italian-Spanish Club

THE Italian-Spanish Club of the University of Toronto was formed in 1925 by a group of enthusiastic students, with the indispensable assistance of the department of Italian and Spanish. The club met with immediate success and has passed through the intervening years with the eager support of its many members and faithful to its aims, which are: "To promote and facilitate the study of the history, literature, music, art and civilization of Italy, Spain, and Spanish America, to foster a more sympathetic understanding between Canada and these countries, and to encourage particularly the speaking of Italian and Spanish.

In addition to fulfilling its aims, the club gives to undergraduates the advantage of meeting, in a social and very friendly atmosphere, the members of the department and also the many people who give their support, although not associated with the University, for the membership is not restricted. The club is proud to count among its patrons Signor Ambrosi, the Royal Vice-Consul of Italy, and Senor Fernández, Consul-General of Mexico.

The club not only encourages its members to speak Italian and Spanish, but it also gives them an opportunity to display their dramatic ability by presenting two plays each year, one in Italian, and one in Spanish. In March of this year "Chi Non Prova Iron Crede" by Breccia, and "El Chalico Blanco" by Rimos Carrión, were splendidly performed.

The members of the executive are pleased to take this opportunity to express their grateful appreciation to Mrs. Craigie, Senora Guerrero, Dr. Invidiata, the Misses Alice Strong, Muriel Bryson, Jeannette Grant, Messrs. McLean and Norton, and the members of the department of Italian and Spanish, who have made possible the arrangement of enjoyable programmes for meetings of the club this year.

Radio Society

THE University of Toronto Radio Society was first organized in 1926 with the object of gathering together those students of the University interested in Amateur and Experimental Radio subjects. During the session, weekly meetings of the Society are held in Hart House, where the members take part in the discussion of the ever-advancing phases of the science of Radio and incidently these meetings afford the opportunity to the members of improvement of their public speaking abilities.

The Radio Society has been an entirely philanthropic organization, no fees being required, the existance of the Society depending on the interest expressed by the members and upon the energies expended by those of the executive. The session for 1929-30 has been successful in that the membership has increased as compared to former years, and the meetings regularly attended. At various times the Society has been favoured with addresses by members of the University Staff and other prominent Radio men.

The Radio Society operates an amateur radio transmitting station known as VE9BZ, located in the Electrical Building. This station is of high power, capable of world-wide communication. Weekly code practises are held at the station for training of the members attaining to its operation, especially during the International Tests, held each winter under the auspices of the American Radio Relay League, when the station is in continuous operation for a period of two weeks in competition with other Canadian amateur stations.

Professor T. R. Rosebrugh, of Electrical Engineering was elected Honorary President of the Society.

Mr. W. Elwood Carruthers, President of the Society and graduating in Radio Engineering has been active in promoting the success which is enjoyed by the Society.

Mr. Leonard C. Meyer, Vice-President, graduating in Radio Engineering, has been a stalwart worker in the activities and interests of the Society.

Mr. Donald G. Haines, Secretary, a student in Radio Engineering and graduating in the Department of Electro Chemistry, has by his energies been a strong factor in the organization of the Society.

STUDENTS CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

The Students Christian Association

THE Student Christian Association of the University of Toronto is a fellowship of students of all colleges and faculties in the University who are drawn together by a common desire not only to maintain and develop their religious life during their undergraduate career, but also to investigate and discuss the intellectual and practical problems of Christianity. It is, accordingly, open to any undergraduate who is at all interested in religion or in questions related to it. No confession of faith is asked for; not the least part of the value of the Association being the opportunity it affords to individuals of searching for Truth in company with others engaged in the same task. To this end, one of the main activities of the Association is the arrangement of Study and Discussion Groups in all faculties under competent leadership, and covering a wide range of subjects.

Another important element in the programme of the S.C.A. is the series of addresses by prominent speakers that is arranged for each term, and the occasional noon-hour talks by outstanding visitors to the city. In addition services are held in Hart House Chapel, and from time to time in one or other of the College chapels, for both men and women.

Each College and Faculty in the University has its own local association, and the men's and women's Cabinets respectively are comprised of the Presidents of the local units together with an executive committee.

The Headquarters of the Men are in Hart House (Rev. F. J. Moore), and of the women in the Household Science Building (Miss Mary Rowell).

The Student Christian Association of the University of Toronto is itself a unit in the Student Christian Movement of Canada.

Women's Council of the S.C.A.

THE Student Christian Movement is a fellowship of students based on the conviction that in Jesus Christ are found the supreme revelation of God and the means to the full realization of life. The Movement seeks through study, prayer, service and other means to understand and follow Jesus Christ and to unite in its fellowship all students in the colleges of Canada who share the above conviction, together with all students who are willing to test the truth of the conviction upon which the Movement is founded.

The Women's Council links together the five local units of the S.C.A. in the University, namely, in Victoria, University and St. Hilda's Colleges and the Medical and Social Service Faculties. It also has a representative from the Ontario College of Education, the undergraduate nurses of Western Hospital, and the Student Volunteer Union.

Its object is to serve as an Advisory Board to the various units and to co-ordinate their work. It tries to foster interest and to initiate activities wherever the need arises. It serves as the link co-operating with the men's S.C.A. Cabinet, the Canadian Student Christian Movement and the World's Student Christian Federation.

The Council sponsors University activities in which all the units join—chief among which have been this year a week-end setting-up conference at the beginning of the fall term and a Christmas Party given for the children of the University Settlement. A new unit in the Faculty of Household Science has also been organized and is ready for activity next year.

UNIVERSITY WOMEN'S PRESS ASSOCIATION

The Women's Press Association

THE Women's Press Association was organized in 1919 and since then has enjoyed a most successful career. It is open to those women in the University who feel the urge to write and original contributions are requisites for advance from associate to active membership.

This year the programme was so planned that every alternate meeting was given over to a speaker and each of these was followed by a meeting where original work of the members was read and discussed. When possible, an experienced journalist was procured to criticise the original work.

A number of phases of journalism have been covered: Mr. Henry Button of Dent's Publishing Co., gave us the publisher's slant on what the public want; Miss Dorothy James showed us the technical end of advertising; Miss Pearl McCarthy, Women's Editor of the Mail and Empire, and Mr. N. A. Benson, discussed dramatic criticism; Miss Byrne Sanders, Editor of The Chatelaine, gave advice on short story writing for Canadian publications, and others discussed their particular fields of journalism.

The meetings are always opened by a cosy half-hour over tea cups followed by the programme, carried out in a very informal round table fashion. Much benefit has been derived from the meetings and several worthy compositions have issued from amateur pens and found their way into the Press Club files.

The outstanding advantages of the Club are that all the women in the University who are interested in writing have the opportunity to meet each other and to benefit by constructive criticism and also come in contact with experienced journalists.

The Newman Club

NEWMAN CLUB was founded by His Grace, Archbishop McNeil, D.D. in 1913. The purpose was to provide for the spiritual, intellectual and social needs of Catholic students in attendance at the University of Toronto. Similar organizations had proved of value in some American Universities several years prior to its inception in Toronto.

The first Clubhouse on St. Joseph Street soon proved too small for the ever increasing membership and rapid expansion which led to the purchase of the property at 89 St. George Street, which the Club now occupies. Recently a Chapel was built on the Club's premises which is a fine example of Gothic Architecture, and which represents the culmination of years of work on the part of the Directors of Newman Club, the Paulist Fathers who are in charge, and the generous interest of many prominent Catholic citizens.

The spiritual life of the student is well directed by the resident Chaplain through the frequent religious exercises during the academic year. Debates, public speaking contests, dramatics and addresses by prominent men constitute the programme for fostering the intellectual interests. The members have a splendid opportunity through the dances, teas, smokers and other soirees which occur with agreeable frequency, for congenial associations which otherwise might be difficult to obtain.

The Club is a member of the Federation of Catholic College Clubs of America of which there are thirty-seven in the United States and Canada. The past year has been a most enjoyable and pleasing one, due to the efforts of an energetic executive coupled with an enthusiastic membership, to ensure the success of every undertaking.

The U. of T. Menorah Society

THE University of Toronto Menorah Society was founded in the year 1916, practically absorbing the Toronto Hebrew Students' Association, which had been organized some years previous. It is the local chapter of the Intercollegiate Menorah Association, founded, as the Menorah crest indicates, "For the study and advancement of Jewish culture and ideals," and except for a few social functions all efforts of Menorah are bent in this direction.

The Menorah Society furthers its purpose through study circles which meet under capable leaders, through lectures on relevant subjects by authoritative lecturers, through debates, both local and intercollegiate, and through "The Menorah Mentor," a magazine published locally by the members of the Society. It endeavours to promote open-minded discussion of Jewish life and thought, past, present and future, that its members may arrive at intelligent opinions and convictions, and may be prepared for intelligent participation in the solution of Jewish problems, although no particular point of view, whatever, is imposed. It maintains a splendid section at the University Library and makes available to its members the "Menorah Journal," a cultural magazine of the highest type. And through its efforts, the Menorah Prize, the gift of B. M. Greene, Esq., is offered for competition to all undergraduates.

The literary programme, this session, following the form adopted two years ago, has consisted of alternating "open" and "closed" meetings, at fortnightly intervals. The open meetings, open to all undergraduates, graduates, and the public in general, have been occupied with lectures of sufficient merit. The closed meetings, available to undergraduates and graduates only, have taken the form of debates, Hart House style, upon subjects of Jewish interest. In addition the members are staging a play, which will be accompanied by a lecture on Jewish drama. Then there is the annual debate with McGill, the victors, being awarded the "Bennett Cup," won two years ago by Toronto. Of course, there is sufficient social activity, the smoker, teas, soirée and dance, being annual events.

The German Study Club

ONCE more the German Study Club has proved its value as a means of stimulating interest in Germany—its language and literature. The past year has been very successful with its programmes, which have enabled the members to hear well-known speakers discuss topics of current interest—politics, literature, etc. These discourses have a double value in that they not only help the members of the Club to keep abreast of the tide of contemporary thought in Germany, but also give them an opportunity of hearing good German. The short plays which are read at every meeting afford an occasion for members to improve their pronunciation, as the professors of the various German departments have been very kind in coaching them.

The Club has always stressed the musical side of the programmes and has been very fortunate in obtaining excellent artists to interpret the masterpieces of the German composers. The folk-music of Germany and its songs of student life also receive their share of attention, being sung with great enthusiasm at the close of each meeting. This year an effort has been made to rehearse these songs before the meetings, that there might be a group of singers who could lead the others.

As the Club is representative of the whole University the members of the different colleges are brought into contact with one another, thus providing a greater variety of interests than is possible within the limits of any one college.

The Honour Science Club

SCIENCE! LABS! Long hours watching an experiment to its bitter end, only to find that results do not tally. And then what concentration to find some plausible excuse for their disagreement.

Is it any wonder that we embryo-scientists, in order to remain human, must indulge in social recreations? Thus the function of the Honour Science Club is to give this harassed group of students a chance to show that they can wield other implements than scapels, wear other clothes than lab coats, and discuss other matters than the spectroscopic analysis of haemoglobin and its compounds.

Activities commenced with a weiner wielding contest at Armour Heights. Hiking, old clothes, coffee and nonsense were indulged in during spare moments of the contest. Rugby game, Saturday evening and Honour Science Dances seem to go hand in hand during the Fall term. Two very successful "light fantastics" were enjoyed by all members present. Our feature presentation of the year was a combined Moccasin Dance and Skating Party on Little Vic Rink. Due to the uniqueness of this event it proved a very delightful evening to everyone. A toboggan party a week or so later again melted the stereotyped routine of labs and lectures. A final tea-party including vitamens A, B, C, etc., and the election of next years executive brought the season to a close.

The Mathematical and Physical Society

THE Mathematical and Physical Society was founded early in the history of the University of Toronto. Its success in bringing into contact student and professor and in its social activities is evinced in its ever growing membership.

Meetings are held on alternate Thursdays in the Physics building. After refereshments have been served, papers are presented by senior students and by prominent men of science on subjects of interest to those enrolled in the courses which make up the Society. The executive has always been fortunate in securing outstanding men not only from our own but from allied departments, and during the past year we have explored with them the depths of the sea, we have visited the upper strata of the atmosphere, we have even rolled back the years to spend an afternoon in the coolness of the Ice Age.

We have always had the reputation of being exceedingly well organised and this year proved no exception. Early in the Fall term the members of the upper years assisted by many graduates, welcomed the incoming freshman year at the Fall Hike. The annual dance, held at the Women's Union, was, as usual, "the best ever". Once again the skating party was over all too soon. Interest was maintained throughout the year with the annual open meeting drawing the curtain before the "elimination and endurance" contests of May.

French Society of University College

THE French Society of University College has again enjoyed a most successful year attested by the good attendance at meetings and the wide-spread interest of the students in its various activities.

The aim has been to have programmes at once amusing and instructive where as many members as possible may take part. The presentation of Le Chaperon Rouge and several fables of La Fontaine in pantomime was one of very successful features. For the annual Christmas production this year La Poudre aux Yeuxby Labiche and Martin was chosen, the principal parts being taken by Miss Rupert, Miss Stewart, Miss Neverin, Mr. Peterson, Mr. Wynburne, Mr. Davidovitz, Mr. Hallman. Their efforts were rewarded by the enthusiastic appreciation of a large audience.

After the New Year a combined meeting of the Victoria and University College societies was held in Wymilwood followed by a return meeting in February at the Women's Union. Thus an opportunity was given to the students of the two colleges who have interests in common to become acquainted.

Music has been generously furnished by members of the Club and others, among whom may be mentioned Mr. Randolph Crowe whose singing of French songs gave much pleasure to all who heard him. The lusty voices joining in the singing of French choruses at the end of the programme gave evidence of the enjoyment of the audience. Coffee and cake served during the social half hour which closed the meeting proved always a stimulus to French conversation. The presence of Monsieur de Champ and other members of the staff, and the interest they have taken in the society has been an inspiration to the student members.

THOUGH you may not believe it, we all are lovers of knowledge
For her own sake. To unearth the remains of dead civilizations.
Our aim: Investigations we carry into conditions
Long-since existing in dim, distant ages, and to interpret
Thoughts of the wise men of old, the pride and the glory of all time,
We strive. So we assemble each month at the homes of professors,
There to discuss weighty matters of interest with freedom unbounded,
Led by a member who reads a paper on some chosen topic;
Plato, Homer, Pliny, Greek Vases, or Virgil's Aeneid.
Then indeed waxes hot the debate between learned professors
Arguing whether it is, or is not, or how far it can be;
But our fair hostesses, wives of professors, solve the dilemma
They bid us take tea.

Papers are read by the members on varying topics. This year we had "The Canadian Novel," "Modern American Short-Story Writers," "The Irish School of Playwrights," etc.

The general discussion which follows the paper gives everyone an opportunity of expressing their own particular views. Coffee and cake has always enlivened the discussion.

University College Women Students' Christian Association

THIS has been a year of strenuous activity on the part of the University College Unit. Our difficulty has not been so much to promote the growth of the Association, but to prevent it from becoming unwieldy through the variety of its functions.

The S.C.A. year started well when six members of the executive attended the Elgin House Conference. Thus the organization of the year's work was in full swing by the time that College opened.

The years activities have included:—

An information bureau and guide service for U.C. freshies during registration.

Four supper parties, with informal talks, games, songs, and vesper service.

Four noon hour addresses on Citizenship.

Discussion groups on Religious Topics, International Affairs, Eugenics, Appreciation of Art, Student Problems, Citizenship, etc. About 100 U.C. women joined groups, most of which met weekly throughout the year.

The S.C.A. co-operated with the W.U.A. in arranging a Christmas Party for the University Settlement.

Two members of the U.C. unit attended the Maritime and Student Volunteer Conferences held at Christmas time.

The unit went "over the top" in its financial campaign, and held in addition a rummage sale and candy sale. By these means we have been able not only to pay our dues to the National Movement of Canada, but to make a contribution to the International Student Service and to assist students wishing to go to Elgin House next September.

The year ended with a reception in honour of Miss Mary Rowell whose resignation is deeply regretted by all who know her work as Secretary.

The U.C. unit has tried to be a connecting link between students who are "venturers in opinion" and leaders willing to assist them. Once formed, groups either remain as part of the S.C.A. or where possible, become a part of other existing clubs. (As, for instance, the music group, now run in connection with the U.C. Musicales of the W.U.A.) It is worthy of note that the Model Assembly out of which grew the League of Nations Club had its birth in the U.C.S.C.A.

The unit would like to extend its thanks to its Honorary President, Miss Kilpatrick, whose constant help and sympathy have contributed in no small degree to success of the years work.

VICTORIA COLLEGE FRENCH CLUB

The Victoria College French Club

SINCE its inauguration in October 1928, the French Club of Victoria College, has occupied an important position among the activities of the College. This year the executive have been most fortunate in securing speakers who have greatly stimulated interest in French language and culture among the undergraduate members of the society.

A special feature of the Club's programmes this year, has been the conspicious place given to the French drama. Each year has been invited to present a French comedy or a series of skits at one of the regular monthly meetings of the Club. During the Fall Term three such performances were given, which were greatly enjoyed both by the participants and the spectators.

French music has also been a delightful feature of each programme but of prime importance is the social period, during which the members are required to speak French, and nothing but French.

The executive has been greatly assisted by the co-operation of members of the staff in French. Professor Lasserre and Mlle. Riese have encouraged and directed the dramatic attempts of the members in a most efficient way.

The January meeting of the Club took the form of a Joint Meeting of the University and Victoria College French Clubs, held at Wymilwood. The very cordial relations between these two University organizations augur well for an increasing interest in things French on the campus.

Victoria College Music Club

"BIGGER and better than ever" was the motto adopted by the Victoria College Music Club for the '29-'30 season, and it is unanimously agreed that they lived up to this standard. Both from financial and production standpoints, this year has been the most successful the club has experienced. Following the precedent established in other years the production was a Gilbert and Sullivan light opera, "The Pirates of Penzance" being the choice made.

All lovers of Gilbert and Sullivan were delighted at the Club's interpretation of this opera, and too much credit cannot be given to Mr. Thos. Crawford, Mus. Bac., F.R.C.O., who directed the entire production. He managed to preserve the true spirit of the period in which the opera was written, and at the same time displayed marked originality in the stage work.

The entire cast was composed of undergraduate members of the club. It is difficult to say wherein the secret of success lay; in the talent of the cast of principals, in the enthusiastic support of very large chorus, or in the well-managed business and publicity departments. But there was the fullest cooperation between the executive, the director, the principals and the cast and there was an "esprit de corps" about the whole thing which will long be remembered.

It is with sincere regret that the club members of 3TO leave this organization at the close of its sixth season of operatic endeavour, and their parting wish is "Success to the seventh."

Victoria College Student Christian Movement

THE S.C.M. of Victoria College is an integral part of the Student Christian Association of Toronto, and through it a part of the Student Christian Movement of Canada, a unit of the World Student Christian Federation.

It exists that students may find fellowship and assistance in their pursuit of life, truth, beauty—call it what you will.

Study, worship and service are included in its programme.

Much interest has again been shown in the Open Forums which were continued this year as a supplement to the discussion groups. Lady Clair Annesley gave a very interesting discourse on "The Labour Party of England." and C. F. Andrews an informative address on "India".

In addition to these the Rev. Stanley Russel gave a series of four noon hour talks on "Personal Religious Life" . . . . . .

The regular study groups for both men and women were carried on throughout the year.

In co-operation with the central cabinet, a service of worship led by Chancellor Wallace was held in the Chapel on the International Day of Prayer for Students.

This varied programme has been an attempt to meet the needs of the students in the search for truth.

The Secretary.

The Trinity College Science Club

THE Trinity College Science Club was founded by Mr. David A. Keys, Mr. F. M. Turner and Professor Simpson, who realized the deep interest taken in Science by the students of the College, an interest which is reflected in the fact that many of these students have made a name for themselves in the scientific world—both academic and industrial. Among these may be mentioned the names of L. V. Redman, discoverer of redmanol; G. H. Tomlinson, who developed a process for carbide manufacture; and Dr. B. Collip of McGill University, well known for his work in the separation of insulin and for more recent biological discoveries.

The Great War interrupted the continuity of the Club, but in 1919 it was re-established and since that time has flourished, a fact, in no small measure, due to the interest of Canon Rollo.

The Club meets once a fortnight during the College term in a student's room. The membership is limited. Each member acts as host to the Club once a year. Papers from all branches of Science are read and the ensuing discussions always prove very interesting. Refreshments are served during the discussion to complete the evening's programme.

Once a year an Open Meeting is held, to which, as the name implies, every one is welcome. Some prominent person in one of the various branches of Science is chosen each year to address this meeting.

St. Michael's Oratorical Club, 1929-30

"When we ope our lips
Let no dog bark."

THE St. Michael's Oratorical Club today is an unparalleled success in forensic circles of the college. The club has grown from 1924 with such rapidity and progress that today it is the outstanding organization of the college for the fostering of public speaking. It has justified every hope of its founders. Its members have felt that increased ability "to think on one's feet", the surety of expression in personal conversation due to the logical development of an argument. Such were the early dreams of these founders. And this year's club with its fifteen chartered members have patiently trained themselves along these forensic lines under the guidance and influence of constructive criticism by the members.

Under the able leadership of J. J. Austin, the unity of the club and the co-operation of its members was preserved. The topics chosen by the members in their discourses were of a varied and intellectual nature and along with this the record attendance at the meetings with the inevitable discussion concluding them are ample evidences of the keen interest shown by the present membership in the activities of the club.

The founders' dreams have been fulfilled to the letter. The executive hand over to future students the privilege of membership in this club, whose history and achievements are as brilliant as the stars in heaven, and with reluctance place in their hands this flaming torch to be carried to higher and greater things.

Iconoclast Club, St. Michael's College

COMING into existence at a time of intense forensic activity and competition, the Iconoclast Club grew and developed in two years to be the most able and most talked-of club in St. Michael's College. The reason for its success in so short a time is attributed mainly to the fact that it received in its infancy the "breath of life"—the vim, the individual interest and the co-operation of all its members.

The purpose of the Club, as outlined at its inception, is to provide a means for the discussion of the Middle Ages in relation to problems of the present day. In pursuance of this object, the Club was very fortunate in securing a speaker of outstanding ability for the first meeting of this year. Professor Etienne Gilson, a scholar of international fame, honored us with his attendance. He expounded in a very interesting manner upon the rise of the University as we now know it, and gave a graphic description of the University of the Middle Ages, and the life of the students of those times.

Early in the year, the Club decided to devote its activities to a study of the influence of Ireland on mediaeval culture. Following this lead, Dr. J. B. O'Reilly, the guest speaker for November, gave a thorough review of mediaeval Ireland. Various papers of this nature were subsequently read at the meetings of the fall term. During the Easter term, the Club decided to concentrate their energies on a study of the political theory of Distributism, as proposed by Chesterton and Belloc, and is at present engaged in this line of discussion.

The Quindecim Club

IN THE Spring term of 1929 the Quindecim Club of St. Michael's College held some very interesting and highly successful meetings.

In January in the College library, we listened to a very clever analysis of the co-operative movement in Canada by J. J. Morrison, and in February Professor F. H. Underhill took the lead in a lively and rather hectic discussion of the French-Canadian problem in Canada.

Later, in the same month, we received a pleasant surprise on the appearance of one of our former members, Paul Martin, who had come up from Harvard for the week-end bringing with him Dr. Stephen Cyako of the Hungarian Civil Service. Dr. Cyako spoke on the concordat between Mussolini and the Holy See.

In the Fall term of 1929 there was, due to a combination of circumstances, a lull in the activities of the Club. Early in the new year however, we convened once again to listen to a talk by Admiral A. Starey on that very momentous and vital question of disarmament. Admiral Starey, late of the British Navy and head of the Navy League, who is a strong protagonist of the motto "Be prepared" and who believes in navies for protection, made the discussion most enjoyable.

In the next month we had a distinguished visitor in the person of General Draper, Chief of Police of Toronto. He is a man very much in the public eye and has shown himself to be a capable and energetic public servant. Always a forceful and interesting speaker, he led the discussion of the question, "Policing a Large City," with vigour and wit.

And thus the Quindecim, with its full quota of fifteen good men and truer and with its morale still unbroken through the many vicissitudes of its caree, will go down in history as the oldest and most revered club of St. Michael's.

DEBATING was by far the outstanding activity of the Literary Society this year. The schedule of the year was such that the latent talents of many heretofore "shrinking violets" were brought to light. 3T1 carried off the shield in the final debate, with their scintillating wit and smashing logic. A new feature introduced during the year was an inter-St. Michael's debate from which the girls emerged victorious.

A series of three interesting and instructive lectures was given in the fall by Mr. Theodore Maynard, poet and essayist, on Milton, Wordsworth and selections from his poetry.

The executive continued the society's policy of encouraging dramatics by the presentation of Shaw's "Dark Lady of the Sonnets."

School of Science Debating Club

THIS Club was established for the benefit of those who realize the importance of being able to speak extemporaneously and concisely before a group as is often the lot of an engineer. It also serves as a starting place for embryo debaters who may later participate in the more important University and Hart House debates.

Although its supporters have been few, the debating Club this year, has by no means, suffered from lack of enthusiasm.

It is the duty of the Club executive to organize debates, lectures and discussion groups to afford the members the opportunity of discourse.

A series of inter-year debates is held annually, and Honour and the Sedgewick Shield are the rewards of the victors. The active year is terminated by an oratorical contest in which many ardent orators vie for the laurels.

It is regrettable that so few students take an active interest in a club that could be so beneficial to them. Even though the popularity of debating as an amusement, has been waning on our campus, it seems unfortunate that so many science men are neglecting this side of their otherwise polyphase development. However, optimism prevails among the Club supporters, and it is hoped that before long, those on the outside will "see the light."

The chairman wishes to express his sincere thanks and appreciation for the active interest taken in the Club by Prof. Allcut, Prof. Zimmer, Prof. Taylor and the various members of the Club executive.

Civil Club

ALTHOUGH this space rightfully belongs to the Civil Club yet it seems customary that those in the fourth year of department 1 should take it over to write therein a sort of collective obituary notice, with a short expression of debts incurred and unpaid, and also an earnest prayer for kind treatment at the hands of the "cold, cold world."

But we say here (briefly) that the Civil Club carried on much as usual. We had one trip, one smoker, and expect to have a dinner. To mention the trip—it was to the Welland Canal Area, and made under the usual miserable weather conditions. However, the stalwarts who braved the elements managed to see quite a bit of the work as then completed, and to get a ride on most of the movable things as the lift bridges and the huge gates.

This year marks the end of four pleasant years of School association for the graduating class. We have made our way through the School in a body composed, now, of nearly the same members as started in '26. Nearly all of us stumbled at times over such hurdles as were to be passed in stepping up from one year to the next, but with a little struggle we always managed to surmount the obstacle somehow. Very soon, too soon, it seems, we will have to clear the final hurdle and, clearing it, land on the other side ready for what comes. We are going out from School with a lot of our bumps rounded off, a little knowledge hammered in, and possessing most of all a great desire to see things and to do just a little work.

In a few words we cannot sum up all the debts we owe to the Dean and his staff. Yet, in an attempt at it, we say only that if we make things that don't fall down, the credit is to them. And, in thanks for their efforts, we admit that we realize now there were many things we had to do and didn't want to that seem for our own good after all. It is not until one has reached the last lap of a course does the reason appear for all that was trudged through before.

Before our demise we wish the best for the other departments and subscribe an obituary—

Departed from School this year
A bunch of Civils
With goodness knows what
And for goodness knows where.

The Mining and Metallurgical Club

THE first list of officers of the present Club appeared during the Fall of 1915. In the minutes of the first meeting we find that—"It was moved—that the Muckers Club be united with the Mining and Metallurgical Club until the Fourth Year Miners should see fit to change such an arrangement."

To-day, such accord exists that the 'Muckers Club', the predecessor of the present organization, has been almost forgotten in the mutual activities of the undergraduates in the Departments of Mining and Metallurgical Engineering.

The Constitution of the Club is wholly dependent upon precedence. And so, in order to widen the scope of the activities, the Honorary Chairman of the Club was chosen outside of the Faculty for the first time in 1927.

And what are these activities? What justifies the existence of such an organization?

In the first place: An opportunity is afforded each member to become acquainted with the members from seven different years— an item of inestimable value after graduation.

Secondly: Dinner-meetings are held once a month at which speakers give the members viewpoints of the profession other than those from the lecture-seat.

Thirdly: The Club strengthens and preserves the traditional 'co-operative clannishness' of the Miners and Metallurgists.

The success of the past year was assured when Mr. C. G. 'Charlie' Williams, Consulting Mining Engineer, was elected as Honorary Chairman. The executive here desires to thank Mr. Williams for his interest in our activities and his support of our undertakings.

The same esteem is borne for The Friend of the Club—Mr. Balmer Neilly.

This opportunity is taken by the Executive to extend its sincere appreciation and heartiest thanks to those prominent men of the Profession, who so kindly addressed the Club during the past year.

It has been the pleasure and the good fortune of the retiring Executive to have had the opportunity to co-operate with the finest group of Miners and Metallurgists that ever graced the old Mining Building.

The Mechanical Club

THIS marks the first anniversary of the inauguration of the Mechanical Club as one of the affiliated clubs of the Engineering Society. Previous to its inception the interests of students registered in the departments of Mechanical and Electrical Engineering were cared for by a joint association known as the Mechanical and Electrical Club. Increased registration and gradual separtaion of interests finally necessitated the formation of separate clubs which could more effectively serve the respective departments.

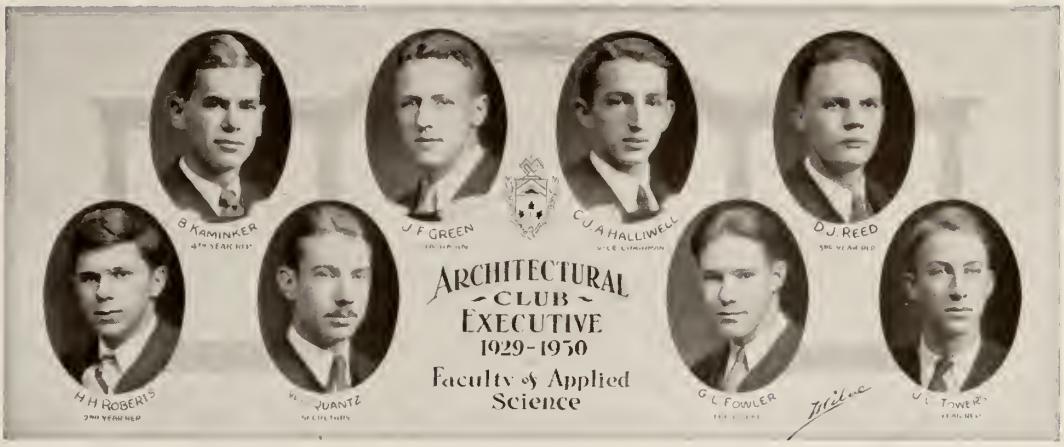

As the official organization of those registered in Mechanical Engineering the Mechanical Club endeavours to bring its members into closer contact with the manufacturing industries and engineering developments in which they are interested. This is accomplished by excursions to industrial centres and meetings at which students as well as outside speakers present papers on subjects of particular interest.

Among the earliest of the Club's activities was a boat trip, by Fourth Year men, to Queenston and Niagara Falls, where the various power developments were inspected. The forenoon was occupied in making a tour of the Hydro Electric Commission's power plant at Queenston and the Intake of the Ontario Power Company above the falls. Lunch at the Refectory followed and in the afternoon the members crossed the river to visit the plant of the Niagara Falls Power Company at Niagara Falls, New York.

Similar excursions throughout the year carried members of the Club to many of the local manufacturing plants as well as those in Buffalo and Galt. At a smoker, held in Hart House, E. R. Jarmain presented a paper and lead a discussion which proved extremely interesting.

And so the year has passed. To some the first, and to others the last. To the group who view it as their last and go forth this year as graduates, the future is bright and the world eager for the services of young mechanical engineers.

One thing our excursions have taught us. Knowledge gained in the past four years is but a stepping stone. There is much more to be studied and done before we can hope to attain a position in the industrial world. But there have gone before us, men who, equipped with the same grounding in fundamentals, have made their mark. May our efforts prove no less worthy.

The Architectural Club

THE big problem of the year is presented to us again, that of writing a suitable short essay for the receivers of this year's transactions to treasure.

The Architectural Club has enjoyed an average year, no better than former, but, we think, certainly no worse.

A picnic was held in the guise of a sketching trip to Gull Lake for a week at the beginning of the fall term. Mr. Jeffreys, our instructor in Art, collaborated with Professor C. H. C. Wright in making the trip worthwhile, both from a standpoint of pleasure and of instruction. The dance, which was held in Stewart Hall while at Gull Lake, came as a strange interlude, and the decorations carried out with the aid of fall colours and the Minden Misses put it across with a bang.

Scholastic dulness was resumed on our return to academic work, and remained unbroken until our Annual Club Banquet, held at an uptown tea room. Mr. Chapman, a Beaux Arts man, and our Honorary Chairman, spoke very entertainingly on student life in the art ateliers while studying in France. For the benefit of those who are not in the habit of reading accounts of Architectural Club activities, we would add that "after the address the usual stunts and skits were administered to the freshmen, to the amusement and entertainment of all present, with the possible exception of the Frosh."

The other Club activities are not worth writing about either to Torontonensis or home, and as they would not come near to using up the remaining thirty words, we shall leave them unsung.

The Industrial Chemical Club

THE Industrial Chemical Club is one of the federated and affiliated clubs which make up the Engineering Society, and, as such, represents the students registered in the course in Chemical Engineering of the Faculty of Applied Science and Engineering.

This year is a noteworthy one for the Department of Chemical Engineering because of the number registered in the first year, being the largest one in history. This is just one instance of the increasing interest being shown chemical engineering.

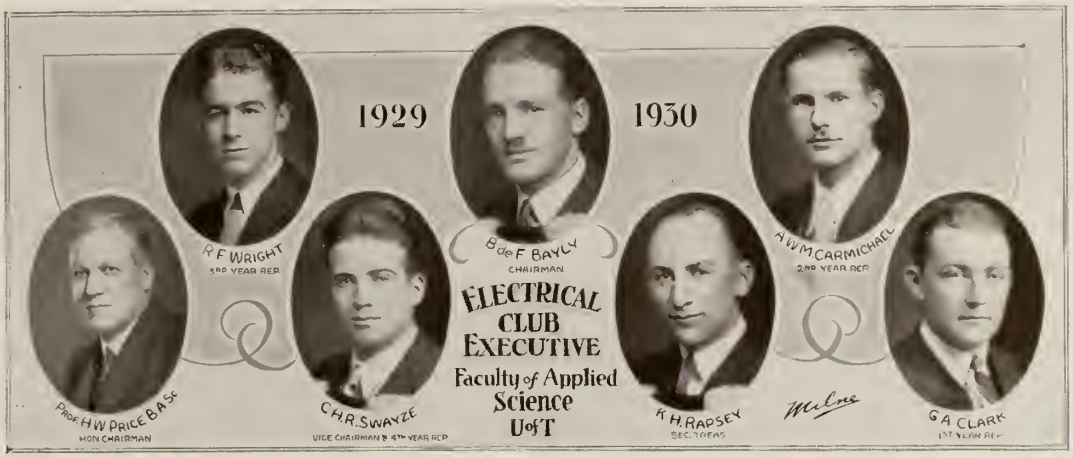

The Club was started in 1908-1909 for the purpose of promoting the study of Industrial Chemistry and Chemical Engineering. Illustrated lectures and trips to industrial plants, both within the city and elsewhere, are therefore arranged.

The meetings take the form of Smokers at which papers are read by former graduates, men prominent in industry, and by the students themselves. Much valuable information is thus received from the experience of the graduates addressing the meetings. The students also gain a greater conception of the scope of the field they are entering, and also some idea of the opportunities which it affords.

The Club trips give the members a practical conception of chemistry applied in industry. They are especially important, as they give a first hand knowledge of machinery used, methods of handling products and production, which is otherwise difficult to obtain.

The social side of these trips is not to be overlooked, as the members get better acquainted, and for a real good time such trips have no equal.

And now, another class of chemical engineers are leaving to take their places in the world outside. May a full measure of success be theirs, and may they be a credit to their Department, their Faculty and their University.

The Electrical Club

THIS year, the Electrical Club came into being when, in true engineering style, the Mechanical and Electrical Club of last year was resolved into its two components. This resulted in the formation of two comparatively small groups, whose interests could be more readily served than could those of the parent body.

Activities began with a trip to Hamilton last fall, when the vacuum tube division and the main works of the Canadian Westinghouse were visited, as well as the plants of an underground cable company and a steel company. It is scarcely necessary to mention that a theatre party, although not included in the official programme, formed the concluding portion of the visit to the mountain hamlet. Fortunately, the Hamilton theatre magnates have not as yet cultivated so unwarranted an antipathy towards Schoolmen "en masse" as have the Toronto salons.

Just what the spring term will bring forth is as yet undecided. The executive are hopeful of adding further to the list of the year's work.

Household Science Club

THE Household Science Club was organized in 1924, and since then has made much progress in creating unity and fellowship among the students. The Club executive is composed of the Honorary President, Miss A. L. Laird, with eleven members of the Student body who are elected for office at the close of the preceding year.

The fundamental purpose of the Club is to enable the students to meet girls of different years, as well as graduates from whom they gain very interesting and helpful knowledge of the fields of work open to them after graduation.

In addition to several teas held during the academic year, there are five other meetings which include the "Freshie" party and the annual At-Home.

Student's Mission Society of Wycliffe College

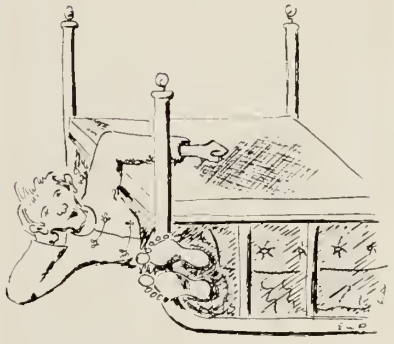

THE Mission Society is the organ whereby the students of the College, in training for the Ministry, find expression for their corporate devotional activities. The Society aims, by the introduction of recognized spiritual leaders to interest and provide for the diverse temperaments of its members.

Support is given to the Christian organizations of the University, and contact with world missionary movements is sought.

The Society, through the conducting of devotional periods, quiet days, and arrangements for inspirational addresses, seeks to create an interest in voluntary missionary activities. Members of the Society, under the supervision of the Department of Practical Theology of the College, render effective service to the Church through the supplying of temporary assistance to parishes and missions throughout Canada.

North House

NORTH HOUSE is showing a tendency to become a purely medical centre. During the last three years the number of embryo doctors residing here has gradually been increasing. This year we have a total of fourteen.

Freshmen also seem to prefer this residence. It is hard to say whether this is from actual choice or whether they are discouraged in some way from entering the other Houses. We have fifteen first year men with us this year and the older members certainly feel that they are a welcome addition.

Among the new men are several collegiate athletic stars who have assisted considerably in shoving us ahead in the Inter House Athletic race. To date we are holding a fairly substantial lead and our chances for the Inter House Shield promise to be good.

East House

MEN may come and men may go"—so muses the spirit of East House as he drifts from room to room, keeping faithful vigil over his sleeping charges as in the years gone by.

Freshmen stir restlessly on their comfortable tip-easies, and innocent peacefulness gives way to troubled anxiety as hovering wings come close to ruffled hair. Perhaps in their sub-conscious minds they recall the visit of "another gentle spirit" who makes his annual rounds just prior to Christmas vacation, to remind all little freshmen that Santa Claus is coming.

Then swiftly up to the second floor to pause beside each tired soph, sleeping the sleep that comes with duty well and truly done, be it guarding the morals of Devonshire Place or arranging those friendly visits that errant freshmen love to make. On the wall of the Upper Common Room a beam of silver moonlight glitters softly on the flashing beauty of the Athletic Shield, symbolic of shining conquests on ice, track, and field.

And now to the top-most floor, and here the Spirit moves more slowly, for nothing must disturb the slumbers of those in whose guiding hands lies the destiny of the House of Houses. Here it was that master-minds planned and imparted to eager freshmen the finer details of bed-racing, instilling in their hearts the fiery courage that for six consecutive years has brought the honours of that event to East House.

The sky lightens, the long watch is almost over, but there is yet one visit to make. Perched in a lofty corner of the President's room, the venerable pelican gazes with mournful eyes from Spirit to sleeping master (for spirits and pelicans have much in common), and once more the Spirit muses: soon the ivy will again be fresh and green, and some will slowly march with flowing gowns across the velvet campus. They will be missed by those who know them best—but lo, the dawn is breaking when Spirits must depart . . . . for men may come and men may go. . . . . .

South House

EACH year sees considerable change in the personnel of the House, as the old guard moves on and the frosh come in, but it is remarkable how soon close friendships are formed and the traditions of the House carried on.

We who have lived in the House throughout the all too short college years have learned much regarding the problems of life and the living with our fellow men, so that we feel we are better equipped to go out into the "school of hard knocks." With our studies and our sports we have learned how to work, play and fight together. South House will remain long in our memories for its friendships, arguments, scraps, tapping parties, feeds, and interhouse activities.

We pay our tribute to our House Master, Dr. H. A. Hoskin, for his kindly interest in us, to Bill French, our president, for successful leadership, and we feel sure as we know the men we are living with, that the high academic standing obtained in the past by the House, will be maintained this year.

Argyll House

ARGYLL HOUSE, University of Toronto—Thus reads the brass plate on the door. 100 Queen's Park may be read on the gate posts.

The traditions of this great house, set amidst beautiful trees are many: the ghost that haunts the common room, dragged forth for the benefit of the timid freshette; the annual Xmas breakfast party with such gifts as 'No Parking' signs and other appropriate articles imported from Mr. Hoalworth, the rummy games, the aft. teas and the House parties, are known to all.

Perhaps the most unique thing about Argyll is the fact that it's the only residence which houses, and does it quite peaceably, students of three faculties—Arts, Medicine and Science.

This peaceableness of the House, all residents agree, is due, in no small measure, to Mrs. Howard, the house mistress, who with her kindly interest has helped us over all the difficulties of our college years.

Queen's Hall

IN spite of persistent rumours to the effect that Queen's Hall would abandon its present site, another year has peacefully passed without the proposed upheaval, and still another seems likely to follow. For at least one more year will the freshies in the rear of "number seven" be entertained by their neighbours in the Psychiatric during the early hours of the morning, while the girls in the other houses may still count on the daily exercise to be gained in paddling across the duck-walk from "number nine", and dodging the motors on the way over from "four" in a desperate attempt to "make breakfast" on time.

Innovations are not introduced lightly into this seat of feminine tradition and learning, so that the past year has been quite distinguished by a new chesterfield, as the popular attraction in "number seven's" common-room, by a sign which appeared weekly at dinner "défense de parler anglais", and by a pay telephone which helped slightly to relieve the well known congestion in the telephone traffic there.

The annual event of the Seniors' Dinner-dance was carried out this year in quaint oriental style, and the whole residence showed enthusiasm in following the advice with which the Dean, Dr. Gertrude Wright, closed her remarks on that occasion,

"Eat, drink, and be merry,
For to-morrow you move to St. George St."

University College Men's Residence

THERE'S a big old house at 73 St. George St. The world sees it as University College Residence, but those within know it as a home. For here we have grown together into our common inheritance of life. Meditation and gaiety, work and play we have experienced. We have faltered beneath what seemed very heavy burdens and again have pressed on in the triumph of success. Especially we have rejoiced in the good-fellowship here reigning, and in friendships here begun.

And of all this, the House is a symbol, with its mellow exterior, its sunny windows, its gloomy corners, its quaint, sudden stairways, its hospitable fire. A symbol? More. Here we have lived, and we know that from us the House has received understanding, to be our friend. For here at the fireside, we have watched its heart-beats as life flowed by with renewed impulse. We have sensed the presence of its more mysterious spirit. Those who follow after will speak somewhat vaguely, though no doubt with pride, of the House traditions. But there is more, we know, for somewhere here lurk our choicest days and our brightest thoughts.

Words won't say any more. So we'll just leave it to the House to whisper to the old trees, and maybe they'll murmur about it to you when you pass the old gray house on St. George St.

Hutton House

THE school term of 1929-30 is drawing to a close and soon this year in Hutton House will be put aside with our other pleasant memories of the past. Every day brings its own particular interest and has its own little picture put away in our memory book.

At initiation we remember most vividly, the candle light flickering on the white dresses of the seniors as the freshies kneel to give their solemn pledge of loyalty to the House.

The coming of a dance is preceded by much activity and the results leave nothing to be desired. Frills and frivolities are not the only subjects of conversation at our ten o'clock tea-parties; many serious and weighty problems are also discussed and important conclusions are reached.

Although to many college students May means but the approach of examinations, to us it will mean, we hope, the blossoming of the bulbs which we planted with so much labour last fall, being handicapped by the lack of any tool but a coal shovel.

The garden, as well as other innovations, such as a highly organized system of fire-drill, the Christmas breakfast party and our mascot, Maurice, the Cat, were introduced by our new dean, Miss Biss, who in the short time that she has been here, has won the affection of all the girls.

Annesley Student Government Association

THE Annesley Student Government Association, familiarly known as "Asga," includes all the girls living in the six women's residences of Victoria College. As its name implies, it is a system of representative government of and by the students themselves. The Association was formed in 1912, one of the first of its kind in Canada, in order that the girls might "assume individual and community responsibility in the life and conduct of the Women's Residences, and thus develop self-control and promote loyalty." Its executive, working with the co-operation of its members, is empowered to enforce the regulations of the Association and to deal with matters affecting its various units. Since its beginning, forms and institutions have changed almost beyond recognition, but the principles of co-operation and loyalty to the residences remain the basis and justification of its existence. The executive of "Asga" comes before the public eye each year in sponsoring the Annesley Hall "At-Home," the residence "formal." But it is a group which is active through every week of the year in regulating and co-ordinating residence life.

The Fabius Club

THE Fabius Club of the University of Toronto was founded little more than a year ago, "to provide avenues for the study and discussion of current economic and social problems." As a group of students, aware of the tremendous problems which face present day society and industry, we are making an earnest attempt to get at closer grips with these problems. The Club has already established a reputation for its enthusiasm and activity. We believe that the Club is filling a very definite need in our campus life.

At the beginning of the Fall term the Club expanded by taking within its folds the Labour Study Group formed at the Elgin House Conference of the S.C.M. Since the original aim of the Club was to procure more open discussion through limited membership, the same object was achieved with the increased membership, by dividing the members into two groups. General meetings have been held each month, and group meetings twice monthly. In this manner, members have enjoyed interesting and instructive addresses by prominent men at the general meetings, and have tackled some real problems in groups. Among those most ardently discussed have been the pros and cons of the Capitalist system, the nationalization of public utilities, the adaptation of the British Unemployment Insurance Scheme to Canadian conditions, and a quota system of immigration for Canada.

At the beginning of term the Club decided upon "association" with the Fabian Society of London, England, in order to keep in closer touch with current developments in England. During the coming summer the President and at least one other member of the Club, hope to attend the Fabian Summer School at Exmouth in Devon.

Foreign Affairs Club of the University of Toronto

Founded 1927

Affiliated with the International Relations Clubs of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace

EXECUTIVE

Honorary President ..... Prof. N. A. MacKenzie
President ..... Wallace McCutcheon
Vice-President ..... Lionel M. Gelber
Secretary-Treasurer ..... D. W. Buchanan
Assistant Secretary ..... F. A. Vallat
Librarian ..... J. L. Stewart

According to its Constitution, the object of the Foreign Affairs Club "shall be the consideration by study and discussion of matters of general international interest, particularly those which affect the foreign policy of Canada and Commonwealth relations." In practice the plan is to hold meetings at fairly regular intervals whenever a guest speaker, usually some authority on foreign or national affairs, can be obtained to lead the discussion for an evening.

Membership is open to all undergraduates of the University, while associate membership is open to all students registered in affiliated and other institutions of higher learning and to university graduates.

A selection of current books on international affairs is received by the Club annually, from the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace. These, at present, compose a small library free to the use of any Club member.

Speakers during the current year have been:

C. A. Magrath—Member, International Joint Commission; Chairman, Ontario Hydro Electric Commission.

Prof. Ernest Mahami—Former Member of Belgian Cabinet, and Belgian Representative on Governing Body of International Labour Office.

J. S. Woodsworth, M.P.—Leader of Labour Group in Federal House.

Prof. G. M. Wrong—Canadian Delegate to the Kyoto Conference of the Institute of Pacific Relations.

Georges Tudin—Chief of Editorial Department of International Labour Office.

Prof. Alfred Zimmern—Deputy Director, The Institute of Intellectual Co-operation, Geneva.

League of Nations Club

"IS THAT report ready yet?" "But what about finances?" "Oh forget that till later." "Well then who'll get the Scouts?" "Alright, Betty, you write to him." "What, another hundred dollars," "Good old Joyce." "Larry can arrange that." "Freddy, please come to the point." "There goes that lamp again!" "Bless us!  " "Les you can't smoke that pipe in the Women's Union." In the vigorous atmosphere of such meetings the League of Nations Club executive struggled through the endless detail of organizing the Model Assembly.

The programme for this year was limited to the holding of the first international inter-university Model Assembly of the League of Nations. Fifteen universities from Canada and the United States sent delegations to a three day session. Sir Robert Falconer, and Sir Herbert Ames participated, speaking to the reports presented for the consideration of the delegates. Lt-Col. Meredith acted as Secretary-General. Speeches in French and English assisted in the creation of an international atmosphere. A critique of the Assembly was delivered by Sir Herbert Ames at a dinner tendered the delegates at the Granite Club by the Toronto Branch of the League of Nations Society n Canada. Professor N. A. MacKenzie acted as president of the Assembly.

Formed for the purpose of staging the Model Assembly, the new League of Nations Club of the University of Toronto, has found that it fills a need which has prompted its organizers to establish it with a permanent constitution. Its aims and objects will be to bring the students of the University who are interested in international affairs and primarily in the peace of the world, into closer and more active touch with the actual activities of The League of Nations at Geneva.

The Polity Club

THE Polity Club is an interesting proof of the intellectual interests of the women of the University of Toronto. It was founded in 1923 by Miss Reid of the History Department, as an historical club for women students and developed, within the year, into the Women's Polity Club.

Although originated as a Polity Club the range of topics has always extended to the current world political problems and during the past year various aspects of international relations were discussed. These subjects are usually in the form of a motion and are formally introduced by two members reading papers. They are then thrown open for general discussion and original opinions on the subject are heard and considered.

Membership was always restricted and this year became closed with twenty undergraduate members of the four colleges. Graduate members have always the advantage of the Club. The executive consists of a president and a secretary-treasurer and last year was under the honourary presidency of Miss A. H. G. Macdonald, M.A., of the Department of Law.

The Club sent a delegate to the Model Assembly during February, while the majority of the remainder of the members took some active interest in the affair.

The Women's Polity Club is peculiar within the University as the only women's association of its type.

INAUGURATED this year, and with its membership restricted to those "actively engaged in student journalism at the university", the University Press Club got away to a flying start. Fortnightly luncheons have been held, with occasional dinner meetings. Newspapermen are invited to come and speak informally, and to answer questions by the members.

Some of the speakers have been John Scott, managing director of the Mail and Empire; Harry Anderson, managing editor of the Globe; J. F. B. Livesay, general manager of the Canadian Press, and John J. Leary, staff writer of the New York World. From these men, firsthand information has been obtained on a newspaper as a business enterprise, the function of providing news, a national news service, and the field for special writers. Other men, such as Joe Clarke, editorial writer on the Toronto Star, Fred Strangways, 'slot' man on the Telegram, and W. H. Goodman, city editor of the Mail and Empire, discussed their own special fields of newspaper work.

PROFESSIONAL FRATERNITIES

Professional Fraternities

PROFESSIONAL Fraternities have played an important part in the undergraduate life of the University of Toronto, since their first appearance here in 1896. To-day with thirteen active on the Campus, they are taking a more prominent position than ever before. With this issue of Torontonensis professional fraternities are given a separate classification, as is the case in the majority of American year books. For the dates and classification of fraternities, the twelfth Edition of Baird's Manual, American College Fraternities has been considered authoritative.

The following is the record of professional fraternities with the date of their establishment on this campus:—

1896—Phi Delta Phi (Legal).

1899-03—Omega Upsilon Phi (Medical).

1899—Xi Psi Phi (Dental)

1902—Nu Sigma Nu (Medical)

1905—Alpha Kappa Kappa (Medical).

1907—Zeta Phi (Women's Medical).

1913—Omega Tau Sigma (Veterinary).

1919—Psi Omega (Dental).

1918-24—Pi Delta Epsilon (Journalistic).

1922—Phi Rho Sigma (Medical).

1922—Phi Chi (Medical).

1923—Sigma Delta Chi (Journalistic)

1924—Phi Delta Epsilon (Medical).

Sigma Phi (Women's Journalistic).

GENERAL FRATERNITIES

The Interfraternity Council of the University of Toronto

CERTAIN fraternities, sharing a common purpose in the academic and social welfare of the University, and desiring co-operation between themselves for their mutual benefit, organized an interfraternity council and established a constitution to govern its proceedings.

Article No. 2 of this Constitution reads:

Purposes:

"To insure co-operation among the fraternities.

To discuss questions of mutual interest.

To promote interfraternity sport and social intercourse.

To establish a permanent executive representing the fraternity body of the University.

To further the interests of the University."

The Interfraternity Council of the University came into being in 1922, established by the fourteen charter members. Its activities since that time have fully justified its existence. Many of these are carried on from year to year, others are undertaken where it is believed beneficial to all concerned.

In sports the Council has filled an important rôle, organizing hockey, baseball, squash racquets and basketball competitions, and awarding trophies. But not only here; the Council emphasizes scholarship and an award will be made next November to the fraternity having the highest academic standing as a result of the preceding year's work.

It is altogether desirable that the men in the different fraternities should get to know one another. With this object in view the Council arranges the time and place for an exchange at lunch or dinner. On such occasions the members of a fraternity are at the same time guests and hosts.

There are many concerns upon which the fraternities can combine for their mutual benefit, for instance, in dealing with merchants for supplies and in the matter of securing reliable help.

IT is said that "advertising pays." This however, is true on one condition—that the advertising "pulls."

All the advertisers in this book are worthy of your patronage and it is the hope of the publishers that wherever possible you will help to increase their revenue.

INDEX

In the following index organizations and activities pertaining to the University as a whole are listed alphabetically; those which are distinctly faculty organizations appear under the faculty or college in the index.

ELECTRIC EYES that NEVER SLEEP!

SECONDS are precious when a fire breaks out in the dipping room of a factory. With hundreds of gallons of highly inflammable paint exposed in shallow vats, it would take but a minute for flames to spread into every department.

At this point today, the electric eye, an electric tube delicately sensitive to light, stands vigilant watch, ready to release extinguishing gas the instant a puff of smoke marks an accidental blaze. It never tires, never goes off duty, never gives a fire a chance to spread.

Industry is finding many other jobs, too, for this new electrical servant. In matching colors it is more sensitive than the human eye. It can count objects at the rate of 3,600 a minute. It will report excess smoke from powerhouse chimneys, or turn on lights when daylight wanes. In experimental installations it is controlling traffic by registering the shadows of cars. In many a modern theatre the electric eye gives the "silent drama" a voice. From a tiny shadow path on a strip of film it picks up vibrations that make pictures talk and laugh and sing for your amusement.

Westinghouse engineers, who worked on the development of the electric eye, are also developing a multitude of its applications. Westinghouse research covers every step in electrical advancement, from theory to the point of every-day, practical uses.

When are the humble

wiser than the

SOPHOMORES, JUNIORS, SENIORS?

The answer's easy . . when they carry Lymoids.

There's nothing like the "little black fellows" to keep away sore throat . . to stop a cough, a throat tickle . . to relieve that tired feeling when you've been talking a lot.

They come in a compact little tin that just fits snugly into your change pocket . . or purse.

The Life Blood of Industry

AT the heart of Canada's industrial expansion is the vital force of electricity . . increasing production, lowering manufacturing costs and creating a new national prosperity.

In every province rivers and streams have been harnessed to effect a nation-wide distribution of water power. Electricity, available at remarkably low cost, has made our basic industries virtually independent of imported coal and has attracted some two thousand new industries to the Dominion.

The manufacture of pulp and paper in Canada has assumed world-wide importance, largely due to the fact that an abundance of water power is convenient to the source of raw materials. And the exploitation of Canada's vast mineral wealth has been accomplished economically by the same mobile power.

In per capita developed water power and in aggregate developed power Canada ranks second among the nations of the world. To make this mighty flood of power available to industry, Canadian General Electric Company has given needed co-operation and leadership . . equipping the generating stations, facilitating the widespread distribution of power and furnishing every conceivable type of electric equipment to the end that Canadian industry may be completely electrified.

PROGRESSION

PROBABLY no other factor has so contributed to progress and to the well-being of the people as has Electricity, and each year Canada is taking greater advantage of the accomplishments of Electrical Science.

As a result, the activities of the Northern Electric Company have been extended from coast to coast. In its great plants are manufactured the telephone with its many accessories; the massive cables and the hair-like wires used to transmit the current; the fire-alarm systems which protect our lives and properties; talking motion picture equipment for our entertainment; and other electrical utilities.

Through its complete chain of branch warehouses, this Company also makes available well-known brands of electrical appliances to lighten the work of the housewife.

LARGEST SHOW CASE FACTORY IN CANADA

Why Druggists from Coast to Coast Consult Jones Brothers on Store-Planning

Go into almost any up-to-date drug store in Canada and you will find Jones Bros. show cases and fixtures. You will also find that Jones Bros. experts have planned the arrangement of the interior.

The reason for the preponderance of Jones Bros. ideas in the layout of drug stores is that one of the first things the graduate of the O.C.P. does when he goes into business for himself is to consult the leading authority in Canada on drug store planning.

While Jones Bros. of Canada, Limited, help all classes of retail trade in planning their stores to get the most out of their space, it is the drug store trade in which they have specialized for years.

This is no doubt due to the natural inclinations of those who founded the business. The late Mr. R. J. W. Barker, who was graduated in 1891 from the Ontario College of Pharmacy, and who commenced his career as a druggist, saw the possibilities in designing show cases especially for drug stores. He joined Mr. Sidney Jones, who is still head of this large manufacturing concern, as a partner and from the beginning of their Show Case business they made a special study of the requirements of the drug trade.

All the various improvements to promote better merchandising have been pioneered by this firm. The result is that it is generally conceded Jones Bros. experts may be depended upon for the last word in drug store equipment.

1836 Victoria University 1930

In federation with

The University of Toronto

Founded by Royal Charter in 1836 "for the general education of youth in the various branches of Literature and Science on Christian Principles."

In Victoria University are the two United Church Colleges

VICTORIA COLLEGE

As one of the Federated Colleges in the Faculty of Arts of the University of Toronto, Victoria College enrolls students in all courses leading to the degrees of Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Commerce and preparatory to admission to the schools of Graduate Studies, Divinity, Education, Law and Medicine. Students of Victoria College are eligible for all medals, prizes and scholarships awarded in the Faculty of Arts by the University of Toronto, in addition to the numerous awards confined to students enrolled in Victoria, including thirteen matriculation scholarships.

EMMANUEL COLLEGE

The Faculty of Theology of Victoria University and Union Theological College (continuing Knox College in the United Church) have been united under a new charter as Emmanuel College, which is now the one Theological College in Toronto of The United Church of Canada. The regular three years' course leads to the Diploma of the College and the B.D. degree. Emmanuel College offers special courses for missionaries on furlough and has instituted postgraduate courses leading to the Degrees of Th.D. and D.D. The lectures in Religious Knowledge options are open to all undergraduates in Arts in the University of Toronto.
